

Artists Sign Contracts For Summer Programs

Claude Frank, pianist, and Richard Dyer-Bennet, folksinger, have signed contracts to appear in the Summer Artists Series presentations, according to Mrs. Nina Brown, committee chairman.

Frank will appear at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 30 in Schwab. Dyer-Bennet is scheduled for Thursday, August 4 outdoors.

Frank, who will appear in the course of his first North American tour, has only recently begun to consider himself primarily a concert artist.

Lion Needs $500 For New Suit

The Sophomore Advisory Board reported Wednesday that there is no possibility of obtaining a new lion suit for next fall because of a shortage of funds.

Since the lion suit has been the main project of the year for the board, it was hoped that enough money could be raised to cover the expenses of a new suit. Contributions to date have totalled only $820, but $1300 is needed before the new suit can be ordered.

Within the past two weeks, 13 new contributions boosted the earlier total of $750 to $820. However, because of the shortage of time and the lack of money, there seems to be no possibility of buying a new lion suit to replace the old one by next fall.

The board requested that any campus organization which is still planning to contribute to the fund send its money to Sue Volpin, 335 Simmons.

Films of this season's football games which were shown by the Varsity "S" Club netted between $100 and $125 for the lion suit, James O'Connor, past president, said.

The club may show similar movies this fall and might include films of outstanding away basketball games next winter, O'Connor said.

Greenhill Will Attend Film Meeting in France

Leslie P. Greenhill, associate director of the Division of Academic Research and Services, has been invited to attend the Colloquium on the Research Film of the International Scientific Film Association at Roscoff, France, May 26-30.

Although he has played the piano since early childhood, made his concert debut with Tosconini's NBC Symphony and played throughout North America and Europe, he has always been interested in too many different phases of music to devote himself entirely to being a concert performer.

Frank's participation as an artist-teacher in Rudolf Serkin's annual summer Marlboro Music Festival marked the turning point in his musical career. Serkin persuaded Frank to leave a full-time teaching position and a part-time conducting post in order to concentrate on more extensive concertizing.

Born in Germany, Frank led a reasonably normal childhood until 1933 when his father was forbidden to continue his law practice and was forced to flee Germany. The 7-year old Frank remained with his mother in Nuremberg until the world was thrown into an uproar by the war crisis over Czechoslovakia five years later.

Frank then rejoined his father in Brussels, and later went on to Paris. Forced to become refugees by the approaching Germans, the family fled to Spain. They finally settled in New York City where Frank began serious studies with Artur Schnabel.

After a stint in the Army in World War II, Frank resumed his studies, then tried his hand at composing, conducting, and teaching.

Folk singer Dyer-Bennet, the "20th century Troubadour" is a poet, composer, singer and instrumentalist in one.

He is noted for his extraordinary gift of musical communication. The New York World-Telegram and Sun described this gift as "a way of smuggling into an old ballad and making it come alive like something fresh from a poet's heart. The centuries roll back, the mists vanish, and you glimpse the undimmed essence of a far-off burst of song, echoing some nameless bard's cry of pain and passion."

Cost for Flight To Be Reduced

Passengers on the SGA Charter Flight will have to pay somewhat less than the originally estimated $285, SGA president Dick Haber said yesterday. Refunds will be mailed when the flight returns.

Haber said that, as the list now stands, 75 people have signed up for the flight to Europe; there will be 71 passengers on the return flight. Some seats still remain in the plane which has a capacity of 80.

Haber said that at least one flight and possibly more have already been planned for next year. SGA will consider changing the length of the tour from six weeks to two months next year. The tour would then leave in mid June and return in mid August.

Profs Elected Officers

Helen A. Loftis, assistant professor of home economics education, has been elected vice president, and Dr. George E. Murphy, professor of education and director of the Reading Clinic, has been elected Central Regional vice president of the Pennsylvania Association for Student Teaching for the 1960-61 year.

Cardroom Invaded By Armed Forces

By KARIN MILLER

The Hetzel Union Building has been invaded and the cardroom has been occupied by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Civil Air Patrol Armed Forces Day displays.

Everything from a bright yellow Mark 43 torpedo to chances for a free "flying" lesson can be found.

The displays will be open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow.

One of the Army's exhibits is a 483 lb. Recoilless Rifle which takes direct aim at visitors entering the exhibit. This anti-tank rifle can be mounted on a jeep and can hit a tank with one shot at a distance of 1200 yards or under. A four-man crew of a gunner, loader, tank-spotter and driver is needed to operate the rifle.

In a display by the Civil Air Patrol, chances are being given for a free one-half hour of "flying" instruction in the Link Flying Trainer. This device is used to train pilots for actual flying and contains all of the controls found in a real plane.

Model airplanes and pictures showing the evolution of aircraft from the Kitty Hawk to the present models are being exhibited by the Air Force.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has donated a series of pictures showing the "Atoms for (Continued on Page Eight)

Penn State Sports Car Club Evening Rally

Sat., May 21
6:30 p.m. HUB Parking Lot

Fun for Everyone

When things get too close for comfort

Old Spice STICK DEODORANT comes to the rescue fast!

- Old Spice Stick Deodorant brings you safe, sure, all-day protection!
- Better than roll-ons that skip.
- Better than sprays that drip.
- Better than creams that are greasy and messy.

By land or by sea—you need this Social Security!

Co-Edits

The newly elected officers of the Young Republicans Club are Neal Rhoads, president; Debra Crofts, vice president; Jonnah Purnell, secretary; and Richard Hinky, treasurer.

Undergraduate students: Arthur Deemer, Robert Degling, David Freeburn, Brian Henderson, William Hermann, William McNeil and Richard Mertz.

William Noe, William Oeklers, Donald Racchine, Blaine Ritts, Robert Ritter, Theodore Scherer, Walter Secora, Charles Starbuck, William Stewart and Thomas Valimont.

The newly elected officers of the Penn State Blue Band are Carl Sipe, president; Herbert Casner, Jr., secretary-treasurer; Malcolm Andre, manager; William Shenk, assistant manager; William Rehrig, librarian; William Croissant, assistant librarian; Gail Wert, historian.

The new officers of the American Nuclear Society are William Jester, president; Robert Totenbier, vice president; William Bickel, secretary; and Dale Raupach, treasurer.

The new initiates of Delta Zeta sorority are Barbara Gill, Barbara McCutcheon, Jane Ockerhausen, Terry Shaffer, Judith Walke and Carolyn Waskevich.

New Varsity "S" Club initiates are Eugene Raiford, Ronald Pifer, Philip Myer, Steven Moorhead, Michael Miller, Jacob Trueblood and Vernon Bounds.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Sunday, May 22 9:30 a.m.

DISCUSSION CLASSES

"The New Class"
Rev. Joseph Faulkner, leader
Department of Sociology

"Religion as a Creative Insecurity"
Dr. Elwood Olver, leader
Department of Security

SPRING BANQUET

Sunday 12:30 p.m.

Miss Pauline Lockin
Professor of English