

Press Becomes 'Regular Member'

The Pennsylvania State University Press has been named a regular member of the Association of American University Presses.

In order to be recognized as a "regular member," a university press must meet standards set by the Committee on Admission and Standards of the association.

The University Press was established in 1956 under the directorship of the late Louis H. Bell. T. Rowland Slingluff is the present director.

Brooks Receives Award For Metallurgy Service

Manley E. Brooks, foundry engineer and consultant of Dow Chemical Co., who recently addressed the University chapter of the American Society for Metals, was honored with the David Ford McFarland Award for his service to metallurgical technology.

Brooks is the 12th recipient of this annual award. Approximately 100 students, professors, university officials and industrialists were present at the chapter meeting at which the award was presented.

Williams Named to Post

Dr. Edwin T. Williams, associate professor of chemical engineering, has been named professor and head of the department of chemistry and chemical engineering at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, Mich.

He will assume his new duties in September.
