Political Squabbles Viewed on TV

Reports from Capitol Hill
Television has changed the lives of many people, including Democratic politicians. The planners of the Democratic convention are working to avoid a "deadlock" at Los Angeles, the Washington staff of Scripps-Howard newspapers said recently.

These planners feel that if a nation-wide audience saw stubborn wrangling over the nominee, the Democratic audience before the TV sets might switch sides on election day.

Democrats are also anxious to complete balloting before Eastern TV audiences go to bed. Because of the time differences, when it is only 10 p.m. in Los Angeles, it is 1 a.m. in the East.

The recent, strongly-worded note from Assistant Secretary of State Douglas Dillon to the Cuban embassy, which demanded that two Cuban diplomats leave this country, was ironically ended with the formal diplomatic salutation: "Accept, sir, the renewed assurance of my high consideration."

Following Sen. John F. Kennedy's Thursday, June 16, attendance at the Harvard University commencement and his later appearance on the Jack Paar television show, Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott, a Republican, issued a sarcastic open letter to Kennedy reporting on the day's activities in the Senate.

Beginning his letter, Thursday was a big day down here, back at Lyndon Johnson's other ranch," Scott cited the defense appropriations, vote for the residents of the District of Columbia and housing bills passed that day.

Scott added that the session lasted 14 hours, an example of the "sacrifices" Kennedy had called for in speeches throughout the country.

Scott said that at least one senator had declined an honorary degree to be present at the session.

According to Scott, the highlight of the day, however, was returning home, turning on the TV set and seeing Paar and Kennedy selling Lestoil.

Since Scott had not seen Kennedy Friday either, he then invited him to drop in on their group some time.

But Kennedy partisans, take heart! Vice President Richard M. Nixon left Washington on Saturday, June 18, for a trip to Texas, North and South Dakota and at last report had not been able to resist the temptation to make some political hay.

Free Swim Lessons Offered Next Month

G. Alan Stull, an instructor in the College of Physical Education and Athletics, plans to conduct swimming classes at the White Hall pool from July 5 to August 13.

Classes will be taught in conjunction with Stull's research project to determine the effects of quantities of practice on the rate of learning swimming.

Stull will teach three beginning swimming classes between 9:00 and 11:40 a.m. daily. He is seeking non-swimming boys between nine and thirteen years of age to participate in the program.

All instruction is free. Those interested may contact Stull at UN 5-5382 during the day or AD 8-1125 during the early evening.

Painting by Professor

Chosen for Arts Festival

A painting entitled "Rock Harbor, Orleans" by Dr. George Pappas, assistant professor of art and art education, was shown in the Boston Arts Festival from June 3 through June 19.

The work was chosen for the competition by a jury of nationally known painters: Fannie Hill-Smith, Gyorgy Kepes, and Walters Meigs.

"WHO ME?"

PAY TAXES TO PUT

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS?"

Yes, you. And your family. You and other Americans have been taxed about $5,500,000,000 already to put the federal government into the electric power business.

And pressure groups for this so-called "public power" are trying to get another $10,000,000,000—for still more federal government-in-the-electric-business.

Such spending is completely unnecessary. There are hundreds of independent light and power companies, like this one, who are ready and able to supply all the electricity Americans will need—without depending on your tax money.

You can help put an end to this needless government spending. Spread the word—when enough people realize what's going on, it will be stopped.
