

Recreation Facilities Listed for Students

By DOROTHY DRASHER

Many recreation facilities are available on campus, in town, and around Centre County to summer sessions students at the University.

Within easy driving distance of the campus are located five swimming and picnic areas

The Community Pool, near the new shopping center in the southwest part of town, is open from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. daily and 1 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Whipple's Dam, a state park located 15 miles southwest of State College on Route 545, is another popular place for swimming. Black Moshannon State Park, 30 miles northwest of State College, has picnic tables, fireplaces and a swimming area.

Picnicking and swimming can also be enjoyed at Greenwood Furnace, located 15 miles from State College.

Groups planning outings can obtain athletic equipment such as horseshoes, volleyballs and softballs by contacting the Recreation Office, 202 Recreation Hall, or by calling UN 5-5031.

Fisherman's Paradise is a state fish hatchery located one mile from Pleasant Gap on Route 53. It is open 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. It also includes a fishing area. Nearby is Penn's Cave where visitors view the scenic caverns by boat. It is located on Route 45 near Centre Hall.

The indoor swimming pool in Glennland apartment building at Beaver Ave. and Pugh St. has regular hours for Penn State co-ed swimming from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday 8 to 9:30 p.m. every Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. Student identification cards must be presented.

The White Hall indoor pool is also available for use by women students, 4 to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Easily accessible for students, the golf course, located across Atherton St. from Recreation Hall, offers students a chance to play the royal sport at a minimum cost. Tickets should be purchased in the clubhouse just south of Recreation Hall.

Tennis courts are located at Prospect Ave. and Gill St. in town and on campus near Recreation Hall and Nittany dorms. Free tennis instruction for women will be given Monday through Thursday from 4 to 6 (Continued on page four)

Bloom Conducts Plant Research

Dr. J. R. Bloom, associate professor of plant pathology, is conducting research on fungicides for diseases of vegetables with the assistance of grants totaling $900 from the Shell Chemical Company and the California Spray-Chemical Company.

Bloom is also conducting extensive research on means of controlling nematodes.

These pests, which are very serious in the South, have become of increasing importance to Pennsylvania growers and are particularly destructive to perennials such as nursery crops, turf and fruit crops.

Attaches Speak At Workshop

Attaches of the Ghana and Iraq Embassies, a former member of the Cuban Mission to the United Nations and the Washington correspondent of the Manchester Guardian will lecture at the Mid-Session Workshop for Education in International Understanding.

W. L. Tsitsiwu, Ghana attache, Salih J. Al-Toma, Iraq attache, Miss Udarica Manas, Cuba, and British newspaperman Max Freedman will be among the distinguished visiting lecturers for the 6-week session.

The International Understanding Workshop is held annually during the summer and enrolls many students from all over the country and other countries. Its primary purpose is to promote advocacy of international amity.

Dr. Kent Forester, director of the workshop and professor of European history said that the program will include lectures, seminar discussions, documentary films, and a 3-day trip to the United Nations Headquarters in New York City.

Dancing Lessons Start Tomorrow

Co-educational classes for men and women in beginner's ballroom dancing, offered in a series of ten lessons for $2.50, is scheduled to start tomorrow. Registration for these classes is now underway at the Hetzel Union desk.

The classes, to be held from 7:30 to 8:30 Tuesday and Thursday evenings, will continue until Tuesday, Aug. 9.

Classes will be held in White Hall under the instructorship of Ann Valentine.

Class size will be limited to facilitate both learning and instruction, and early registration is advisable.

Chaplin Writes Article For "Pulpit" Magazine

The Reverend Preston N. Williams, acting chaplain at the University, is the author of an article, "Doing as One Pleases," published in the July issue of The Pulpit.

In the article, Williams says that the whole Christian ethic is summed up in Augustine's daring maxim: "Love God and do as you please."

He contends that this is a dictum which can be put to people without hazard only if it is clearly defined and properly modified.

Conservation Education Enrolls 41 Participants

Forty-one persons are enrolled for the first three weeks conservation education laboratory which started at the University yesterday.

The laboratory, directed by Wilbur E. Gilham, provides outdoor educational experience in resource use for elementary and secondary school teachers and administrators.
