

All Stars Tackle Pros In Charity Football Tilt

CHICAGO (AP)—The football figures to be in constant orbit over Soldier Field tonight as the College All-Stars tackle the favored champion Baltimore Colts of the National Football League in the annual game sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

It will be televised and broadcast nationally, via ABC beginning at 9 p.m. EST. The Colts are favored by three touchdowns.

On the pro side, the peerless Johnny Unitas will be flipping the ball near and far.

On the All-Star side, three of college football's finest passers last fall—Don Meredith of Southern Methodist, George Izo of Notre Dame and Pete Hall of Marquette—will be pitching determinedly.

There could be a heavier aerial bombardment than in last year's 29-0 Colt triumph in which the Collegians tried 41 passes, completing 15 for 186 yards, and Baltimore tossed 28 times for 14 hits and 211 yards.

By comparison Baltimore's ground yardage was 155 and the All-Stars' a mere 21.

The college lads have been pupils the past three weeks in training at Northwestern University of one of the greatest passers in NFL history, All-star head coach Otto Graham.

If anybody knows when and where to throw against a pro foe, it's Graham, former sharpshooter for the Cleveland Browns. A different point, however, is whether the All-Star receivers can filter through an iron-ribbed Colt defense, or whether the collegiate forwards can provide ample pass protection against Baltimore's behemoth chargers.

The Colts do not appear to be taking the game lightly. As the 45-man pro squad flew here yesterday from the Colt camp at Westminster, Md., Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank said:

"Needless to say, we plan to win. We regard this game as second in importance only to the championship playoff. We cannot afford to lose to the All-Stars. A defeat, in addition to embarrassing the National Football League, might damage the morale of our squad just when we are going out for our third championship in a row."

'Big Walter' Steals Show On U.S. 5

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—The more than 6,500 basketball fans who came out to watch the two Jerrys play for the U.S. Olympic team left talking about "Big Walter."

The big crowd was familiar with the exploits of Oscar Robertson, Jerry West and Jerry Lucas—but few knew of Walt Bellamy, just a growing boy from Indiana.

Bellamy, a junior there, is a 6-11 hulking giant.

He was considered just another one of the boys until he put on a show at Mountaineer Fieldhouse during the Olympic tests 91-69 victory over the Cleveland Pipers Wednesday night.

It wasn't what Bellamy did, it was the way he did it. This huge lad twirled like a ballet dancer, leaped like a kangaroo and moved like the wind. Bellamy had 18 points and six rebounds in 21 minutes of play.

"Bellamy must weigh at least 260 pounds," estimated ex-West Virginia center Lloyd Sharrar, now with the Pipers. "What a man."

Bucky Bolyard and Willie Akers, two other ex-West Virginia players with the Pipers, echoed the same sentiments after Bellamy hit eight of 11 shots from the floor.

Robertson led all scorers with 26 points, getting most of them from the inside.

But Bellamy, known as the "Big Bell" in Indiana circles, rang the loudest during the Olympic exhibition here.

Players Struggle For Number One Left Guard Spot

The battle for Penn State's No. 1 left guard position looms as one of the highlights during pre-season grid drills.

The job could go to any one of four candidates, with former center Wayne Berfield and newcomer Joe Blasenstein apparently the chief contenders. Varsity hold-over Dick Butterfield and Dave Robinson, a freshman end last season, also could win the assignment before State opens the campaign Sept. 17 against Boston University.

The 193-pound Berfield lettered at center in 1958, but missed the '59 season because of injuries. Blasenstein is a hard-hitting, but rather light at 187 pounds, performer who started for last year's frosh eleven.

23 Trackmen Awarded Letters

Twenty-three members of Penn State's 1960 track and field squad were awarded varsity letters.

They are: Bob Brown, John Fariera, George Jones, and Cornelius Sharpe all of Philadelphia; Dick Campbell, Morrisville; Pat Cunningham, Woodbridge, N.J.; Don Davies, Tenafly, N.J.; Dick Engelbrink, Glenside; Dick Gross, Johnstown; Dick Hambright, Tyrone; George Metzgar, Export; Mike Miller, Kane; Steve Moorhead, North East; Jon Musser, Lemoyne; Dale Peters, Allentown; Melvin Ramey, Pittsburgh; Bill Simon, Merion Station; Bill Snow, Maplewood, N.J.; Bob Szezyler, Altoona; Herman Weber, Erie; Blaine O'Connor, Smethport; Jim and Bill Schwab, Patton.

Chicago To Get AL Grid Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Chicago has been granted a franchise in the American Football League effective with the start of the 1961 season, Harry Wismer said yesterday. Wismer is both president of the New York entry in the new pro league and chairman of the loop's expansion committee.

Wismer said that Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox and Tommy King Jr., former public relations director of the Chicago Stadium, were members of the syndicate awarded the franchise.

Buffalo, Boston, Denver, Houston, Los Angeles and Oakland are in the new circuit along with Dallas and New York. Atlanta also has been awarded a franchise, effective with the 1961 season.
