Schwab sat out most of the 1959 campaign with injuries but Alexander saw enough action to earn a letter.

Barber is a 2-year letterman, but Smith played only 33 minutes last year. However, the Lion brass thinks Smith has the potential to develop into one of Penn State's best linemen.

The Lions have two of their best performers at guard in Popp and Wilson. Popp could very well break into the All-American lineup at the end of the season while Wilson just loves defense and is a wonder when it comes to linebacking.

Huffman, whose size can fool you, earned the Most Valuable Player award in State's 7-0 victory over Alabama in the Liberty Bowl last year.

Hall, the quarterback, has quite a job when it comes to filling the shoes of All-American Richie Lucas but he's out to prove that his performance in the Liberty Bowl last year was no fluke.

Kerr, the right half, received the nod over little Dick Pae, the mouse who roars. There is hardly any difference between the two but Pae has been hobbled by a charleyhorse the last few days.

Sobczak has done an outstanding job subbing for Pat Botula the last two seasons and this could be the year he turns into an outstanding football player.

Penn State's second unit finds Dave Truitt and Oppermann at ends, Charley Sieminski and Jerry Farkas at tackle, a pair of sophs, Joe Blasenstein and Dave Robinson at guard and Bill Saul at center.

Dick Hoak will run State's multiple-T and he'll have help from Pae, and Al Gursky at half and sophomore Dave Hayes at fullback.

Big Bob Minihane, BU's first All-American candidate since Harry Agganis, will lead the Terrier line which is composed completely of veterans.

Ron Shiesly and Dave Viti are the ends and Minihane and Pete Perrault hold down the tackle slots. John Meschino and Bill DiLorenzo are old hands at guard and Jack Stephans has seen plenty of action at center. Jackie Farland is the quarterback and sophomore flash Hugh O'Flynn and Dick Desmarais will be his halfbacks. Capt. Jim Luter is the fullback. Boston U is expected to attack from a winged-T with plenty of variations.

Nittany Linksmen To Compete In ECAC Fall Tournament

Penn State's golf team will be in action in each section of the tournament. The Lion linksmen are one of 120 teams participating in a new fall tournament sponsored by the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference.

The tournament will be divided into two sections with approximately 60 teams in each section. Penn State will participate in the southern section which will be held at the Springdale Golf Course at Princeton, Oct. 1.

The northern section will play on the Yale links at New Haven, Conn. on the same date.

There will be both team and individual competition with the low four teams and the top twenty individuals in each section meeting at Yale Oct. 8 for the playoff.

Lion coach Joe Boyle says two of last year's regulars, John Morley and Bob Rutherford, will occupy the top berths on State's four man team.

Bob Swahn, who saw some varsity action last year, is a likely candidate for the third slot, with the fourth man still a question mark.

Boyle says the Lion's main opposition will come from Penn, Pitt, Georgetown, Navy and Villanova. The Nittany team finished third in the tournament last year behind Penn and Army.
