

'K' Wants to Talk With Ike on Arms At U.N. Assembly

NEW YORK (P)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev indicated yesterday he wants to talk about disarmament with President Eisenhower at the United Nations and thus in effect, the coming U.N. General Assembly session into a world summit meeting.

The Soviet Premier, and his red bloc retinue arrived yesterday, to a soggy and coldly hostile New York welcome. Khrushchev at once suggested President Eisenhower should attend the Assembly sessions for "serious negotiations" on disarmament.

'Liberal Party' May Initiate 3-Party System

The University may have a three party system when student elections are held next April. Richard Snyder, head of the Pollock Halls newly-formed steering committee, hopes to add "The Liberal Party" to the ranks of the Campus and University parties.

Snyder said that he represents a group of 20 to 30 students who have decided to do something to gain more representation in Student Government Association for independents. He said that the two existing parties only selected candidates with large fraternity backings, and that, to his knowledge, there was only one independent out of the 42 members of SGA Assembly.

Snyder pointed out that independents make up 80 per cent of the student body, but that their student government representation fell way below this percentage.

The proposed party, still in its initial stages, will have to elect temporary officers, appoint a constitution committee, and have the Senate Subcommittee on Student Affairs approve its constitution before it receives a charter. Snyder said that there seems to be a great deal of student interest, and that perhaps when the independents get a chance for representation they will lose some of their apathy.

Five Coeds Involved In Car Crash

Four women students remain hospitalized as a result of a three-car accident on Route 322 in Boalsburg early Saturday morning.

A fifth student involved in the accident has been released from Centre County Hospital.

State police said that the five students, all traveling in one car, were returning from a drive-in movie just east of Boalsburg.

Patricia Edens, 19, sophomore in arts and letters from Morrisville, who was driving the car, suffered scalp cuts and a severe bump on the head. She has been released from the hospital.

Pamela Pifer, 19, sophomore in arts and letters from Silverdale, was rushed to the Jefferson Medical Hospital in Philadelphia where she is being treated for a fractured leg and ankle and also multiple body bruises. Nurses at Jefferson reported that Miss Pifer is doing well.

Katharine Phillips, 18, sophomore in arts and letters from Alexandria, is in the Centre County Hospital with a fractured wrist and face bruises. Her condition is satisfactory.

Dee Ann Dietrich, 18, sophomore in elementary education from Villanova, is hospitalized with multiple scalp bruises and a fractured skull. Centre County nurses reported that she is now in satisfactory condition.

Jacqueline Lentz, 19, sophomore in arts and letters from Reading, suffered scalp cuts and a severe bump on the head, but is now doing well.

State Police reported that the cars involved in the accident were a car operated by William Bumbarger of Philipsburg and the Edens car, both traveling west on 322 in Boalsburg and a car, driven by Louis Folino of Trafford, traveling in the opposite direction.

Walker to Reveal 4-Term Plan Fate

President Eric A. Walker will disclose his decision as to whether the University will substitute a year-round 4-term system for the current semester plan on Sept. 30, according to Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the president in charge of student affairs.

The decision will be presented at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees. The new plan, which was introduced at the 1960 Student Encampment, is being considered for the 1961-62 school year.

The new system would divide the academic year into four terms, each consisting of about ten weeks. Three terms would be equivalent to two of the present 15-week semesters.

A summer term would replace the present summer sessions and would equal the other three terms — fall, winter and spring. Under this plan, it would be possible for a student to receive a bachelor's degree in three years if he so desired, Bernreuter explained.

Class periods would increase from 50 minutes to 75 minutes. Since the increase equalizes time spent in class per credit in both systems, Bernreuter said, this would accommodate the transfer of credits between the semester and term plans.

Classes would still meet on alternate days, he said, with a new 20-minute interval between each class.

The average academic load would be 10 to 13 credits each term instead of 15 under the semester plan.

According to a trial calendar presented at Encampment, next fall term classes would begin Oct. 2 and end Dec. 12 with a one-day Thanksgiving vacation. Winter term classes would begin Jan. 3, thus incorporating Christmas vacation in the recess between terms, and end (Continued on page five)

Army, Syracuse Tickets

382 Students Still Housed Temporarily

Three hundred and eighty-two men and women are still living in temporarily assigned rooms although all these students will probably be given permanent housing later in the semester, Otto E. Mueller, director of housing, said yesterday.

In some situations where five girls are living in three rooms, formerly suites for hostesses, the girls are satisfied and do not wish to be reassigned, Mueller said.

The coeds who are temporarily assigned have been living in study lounges and a dining room employees' cafeteria. They also have been doubling in single rooms and tripling in double rooms. The men students who have been given temporary housing are doubling in the Nittany residence halls where the rooms were converted to singles only this year.

The normal capacity in women's residence halls is 3964 students and while there were 405 coeds temporarily assigned rooms on Orientation Sunday, there are now 235 coeds in temporary housing, Mueller said. The breakdown for the men is 147 students in temporary housing, as opposed to the original 195. The total men's residence halls capacity is 3920 students, he said.

No women will be moved from Irvin Hall this semester to fill the vacancies in other residence halls as had previously been planned, Mueller said.

Collegian Staff Meeting

A meeting will be held for returning members of the news staff of The Daily Collegian at 5:15 tonight in the basement of Carnegie.

Nittanies Crush BU, 20-0

By SANDY PADWE

Penn State's modern day footballers kept in the spirits of "old times" Saturday and showed 23,000 fans how football was played in 1909.

That was the year Bill Hollenback's boys dedicated Beaver Field with a 31-0 win over Grove City and Saturday "Will Bill" and his crew looked on as the Lions dedicated Beaver Stadium with a 20-0 win over Boston University.

The 1960 opener was a "grind-em-out" affair from start to finish with the Lions displaying a powerful "3-yard attack" in the exact fashion coach Rip Engle promised.

Now this type of game doesn't make for extremely exciting Saturday afternoons, especially after you've watched Richie Lucas perform for a year, but it gets the job done just as it did in 1909.

For State, there were plenty of heroes, but senior halfback Eddie Caye did more than anyone to brighten up the drizzly afternoon.

Flashing the form that made him such a standout before a knee injury threatened to end his career two years ago, Caye scored the Lions' first touchdown and wound up as State's leading ground gainer with 77 yards in 14 carries.

"Eddie played a wonderful game both offensively and defensively," Engle said following (Continued on page six)

FIRST TOUCHDOWN ever scored in Beaver Stadium came in first quarter of Saturday's game when Penn State's Eddie Caye (15) scored from the one-yard line. Boston U.'s Dick Desmarais (42) failed to stop the Lion senior. State went on to win the 1960 opener 20-0.

Skipping, Slogans, Spark '60 Customs

By JERRIE MARKOS

"The day that the rains came down . . ." the theme that has accompanied orientation, registration and the opening football game, did not fail to accompany the first day of customs.

Freshmen tip-toed across the northern side of Pollock Rd. trying to camouflage their name cards under raincoats and their dinks behind umbrellas slung low. Timid souls trying to get to Schwab were frozen in their tracks at the sound of the ever familiar, "Over here, Frosh!"

When given the lung test it was feared, at first, that this year's freshmen were a pathetically weak-throated assortment. But with a little prompting from energetic upperclassmen they proved themselves a hearty group with clear voices vibrantly echoing over the campus with the oft-rehearsed "Short yell State."

The 1960 version of customs, however, provided some interesting variations to the traditionally accepted theme. One freshman was directed to carry his umbrella high above his head even though the skies had taken a short recess from the day's dreary precipitation while a hoard of upperclassmen looked on.

Another interesting spectacle appeared, again in the area of that usual landmark, Schwab, as a line of aspiring engineers of the class of '64 skipped along the Mall holding hands with their books balanced on their heads.

And what a twist the campus jargon has taken with frosh running around chanting "Beat 'em Bucs" and "Look Ma, no cavities." However, freshmen accosted by such demands from upperclassmen should take another quick glance at their handbooks. Frosh (Continued on page eight)
