

Annual Chamber Series To Give Three Concerts

The Tenth Annual Chamber Music Series, sponsored by the State College Choral Society, will present three concerts during the 1960-61 season. All concerts will be held at 8 on Sunday evenings in the State College High School auditorium.

Opening the season on Nov. 6 will be the Albeneri Trio, followed by the Vienna Octet on Jan. 15 and the Quartetto Italiano on Feb. 19.

The Albeneri Trio, consisting of piano, violin and cello, is accepted as perhaps the foremost trio of its kind. Their program will include compositions by Mozart, Beethoven and Brahms.

The Vienna Octet will present works by Michael Haydn, Mozart and Schubert. It is composed of Viennese musicians whose interpretations of the old masters provide a living link with the magic realm of the Vienna of bygone days.

The Quartetto Italiano, making its fourth appearance here, will play compositions by Mozart, Bartok and Verdi. The four young Italians execute their scores as one to achieve unity of performance.

Co-chairmen of the Chamber Music Committee are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Passow. Also serving on the committee are Mrs. Ralph Condee, Mrs. Henry Finch, Mr. Raymond Brown and Mr. Barry Brinsmaid.

Tickets are sold for the entire series only and are now available until Nov. 6 for $5.

They may be purchased from members of the State College Choral Society, at Keeler's Book Store, the Harmony Shop, the Music Room and the Hetzel Union desk. They are also on sale at Pifer's Music Center in Bellefonte, or may be reserved by calling ADams 7-7770.

THE PLEDGE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Today's column is directed at those young female undergraduates who have recently pledged sororities and are worried, poor lambs, that they won't make good. Following is a list of simple instructions which, if faithfully observed, will positively guarantee that you will be a mad success as a sorority girl.

First, let us take up the matter of housemothers. The housemother is your friend, your guide, your mentor. You must treat her with respect. When you wish to speak to her, address her as "Mother Sigafos" or "Ma'am." In no circumstances must you say, "Hey, fat lady."

Second, let us discuss laundry. Never hang your wash on the front porch of the sorority house. This is unsightly and shows a want of breeding. Use the Chapter Room.

Third, meals. Always remember that planning and preparing meals for a houseful of healthy girls is no simple task. Your cook goes to a great deal of trouble to make your menu varied and nourishing. The least you can do is show your appreciation. Don't just devour your food; praise it. Exclaim with delight, "What delicious pork jowls!" or "What a yummy soup bone!" or "What scrumptious fish heads!" or "What clear water!"

Fourth, clothing. Never forget that your appearance reflects not just on yourself but on the whole house. It was well enough before you joined a sorority to lounge around campus in your old middy blouse and gym bloomers, but now you must take great pains to dress in a manner which excites admiring comments from all who observe you. A few years ago, for example, there was a Chi Omega named Camille Ataturk at the University of Iowa who brought gobs of glory to all her sorors. Camille hit on the ingenious notion of suiting her garb to the class she was attending. For instance, to English Lit she wore a buskin and jerkin. To German she wore lederhosen and carried a stein of pilsener. To Econ she wore 120 yards of ticker tape. Her shiningest hour came one day when she dressed as a white mouse for Psych Lab. Not only her Chi Omega sisters, but the entire student body went into deep mourning when she was killed by the janitor's cat.

Finally, let us take up the most important topic of all. I refer, of course, to dating.

As we have seen, the way you dress reflects on your sorority, but the man you date reflect even more. Be absolutely certain that your date is an acceptable fellow. Don't beat about the bush; ask him point-blank, "Are you an acceptable fellow?" Unless he replies, "Yeah, hey," send him packing.

But don't just take his word that he is acceptable. Inspect him closely. Are his fingernails clean? Is his black leather jacket freshly oiled? Is his ukelele in tune? Does he carry public liability insurance? And, most significant of all, does he smoke Marlboros?

If he's a Marlboro man, you know he has taste and discernment, wit and wisdom, character and sapience, decency and warmth, presence and poise, talent and grit, filter and flavor, soft pack and flip-top box. You will be proud of him, your sorority will be proud of him, the makers of Marlboro will be proud of him, and I will be paid for this column.

The makers of Marlboro, having paid for this column, would like to mention another of their fine cigarettes—mild, unfiltered Philip Morris—available in regular size or the sensational new king-size Commander. Have a Commander—welcome aboard.

Leonides Votes Not to Attend Indie Meeting

Leonides Council voted last night not to participate in Indie Encampment to be held this fall, since the majority of the problems confronting organization were discussed at the Leonides Conference last spring.

The money that was to be allotted to the encampment will be used to sponsor more girls in Spring week projects, Roberta Hill, Leonides president, said.

Further new business included the introduction of the 22 newly elected council members and Miss Miriam Laines, new advisor to Leonides.

The new council members were selected from 70 applicants who were screened by the executive committee of Leonides.

They are: Judy Benson, Maureen Bishop, Michelle Bullman, Joelle Bronstein, Judy Davenport, Linda Eager, Nancy Hughes, Carol Johnson, Betty Mathison, Beverly Price, Roberta Radich, Joyce Ranch, Linda Rosenberg, Sue Rumburg, Chris Sellers, Sandra Siffing, Diane Snyder, Nancy Stewart, Mary Stones, Carol Ann Taylor, Millie Varcupic, and Roberta Radich.

Those girls who were not selected as council members will be contacted to participate on committees.

Speakers Program Forms Available

Applications for the SGA High School Speakers program are available at the Hetzel Union desk.

Through this program, qualified University students will speak on the aspects of college life at their high school alma mater during one vacation period of each semester.
