

Dean Lipp Names Four Coordinators

The residence community, consisting of a group of undergraduate residence halls in proximity to each other, is welded together under the personage of the Residence Community Coordinator, who handles programming, residence hall supervision and acts as liaison between students of her community and the dean of women.

IFC-Panhel Will Name Top Pledges

Sororities and fraternities still have almost two weeks to select their candidate for the outstanding sorority and fraternity pledge who will be named during Greek Week at the Outstanding Pledge Banquet, Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Each group must nominate its outstanding pledge from the spring pledge class of 1960. Forms must be submitted to the banquet chairmen by Friday, Oct. 7.

Each pledge nominated will represent his or her group at the banquet at 6 p.m. in the Hetzel Union dining rooms A and B. This year's speaker will be Mrs. Richard Vanderpool, new assistant dean of women in charge of the Panhellenic program.

As has been the custom in past years, the Pledge Class Trophy will be awarded to the pledge class having the highest academic average. The "Outstanding Pledges" will be presented with plaques.

Five sorority and five fraternity finalists will be selected for the pledge honors from the forms submitted by their group. These finalists will be interviewed and the pledges who "have most completely achieved the objectives and ideals of pledging" will be named at the banquet.

The Pledge Banquet will be the third event in the annual Greek Week program which will begin Sunday, Oct. 16, with Greek Sunday and end Tuesday, Oct. 25, with the IFC-Panhellenic Banquet.

341 Students Still Remain Without Rooms

Thirty-three women students have been assigned permanent rooms within the past week, leaving 203 coeds still in temporary housing, Otto E. Mueller, director of housing, said Monday.

Of these 203 coeds, 70 are housed in as good or better accommodations as the regular rooms, he said.

The only temporary accommodations, housing more than five coeds, is the first floor study lounge of Atherton and ten girls are still housed on the second floor of MacAllister Mueller said. However, both of these temporary accommodations will be liquidated within ten days, he added.

The appointments of four of these residence community coordinators were announced today by Dr. Dorothy J. Lipp, dean of women.

They are Mrs. Paul E. Field, coordinator for McKee and Irvin Halls in the West Halls area; Patricia Houtz, coordinator for the South Halls; Genevieve James, for the Pollock area; and Mrs. Hal Leiper, for McElwain and Simmons area.

The appointment of Mary Meluskey, as senior resident for the Pollock area, was announced at the same time.

Residence hostesses are the staff members who have supervisory responsibility of their residence halls during the daytime. Hostesses act as intermediates between food and housing staffs, students of their halls and the dean of women.

Senior residents are responsible for the development of governmental, social, recreational and cultural activities within the residence halls as well as supervision of the halls at night.

Mrs. Field, graduate of Berea College, is completing work for her master of arts degree in sociology here at the University.

Miss Houtz is a graduate of Susquehanna University and received her master of science in business administration at the University. She is now studying for a doctorate in higher education.

Miss James received her bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Ohio University, and is now working toward her doctorate here at the University.

Mrs. Leiper, who received her bachelor of arts degree from Macalester College in Minnesota, and her late husband, who was associate director of the University Christian Association, studied at Yale University Divinity School and served as missionaries at Peking, China.

Miss Meluskey is enrolled at the University and has had previous experience as a laboratory technician at Lebanon hospital.

Prologue To Be Held By Players

The Penn State Players will offer a prologue to their coming season with a "Curtain Raiser" to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Center Stage.

Designed as an orientation program for the students, it will feature exhibits and demonstrations by the various production crews as well as an open rehearsal of the opening play "Romanoff and Juliet," by Peter Ustinov.

The comedy will open for a six weekend run Oct. 14 at Center Stage.

According to Vincent Landro, Players president, distribution of tickets for the organization's productions this season will be handled through the Hetzel Union desk.

Theater goers will be able to reserve tickets in advance for any evening of a play's 6-week run or purchase them at the desk on Fridays and Saturdays preceding performances.

Players, a dramatic society founded here in 1920, will present six productions during the 1960-61 season.

They include: "Romanoff and Juliet," by Peter Ustinov, running six weekends beginning Oct. 14; "Summer and Smoke," by Tennessee Williams, running six weekends beginning Dec. 2; "Oedipus Rex," Sophocles, Dec. 8, 9, 10; "Three Sisters," by Anton Chekov, running six weekends beginning Feb. 16; "The Pleasure of His Company," by Cornelia Otis Skinner, running six weekends beginning April 14; and "Babes in Arms," Rodgers and Hart, May 11, 12 and 13.

Monel nickel-copper alloy is used for propeller shafts of pleasure boats because it is highly corrosion-resistant, as strong as structural steel and tougher than ordinary shafting.

Smith, Mausolff Named To Pattee Library Posts

Mrs. Frances Shaver Smith has been appointed catalog librarian of the Pattee Library and Thomas F. Mausolff, formerly stack supervisor at Dartmouth College Library, has been named circulation assistant.

Mrs. Smith will replace Janet S. Dickson, who resigned to accept a position with the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

A native of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Smith received her bachelor of arts in library science and a master of arts in higher education from George Peabody College, Nashville. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholarship fraternity.

In addition to her job as assistant librarian at Union College, she has held positions in the libraries of Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., and Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Ind. Mrs. Smith is a member of the American Library Association and the Hudson-Mohawk Library Association.

Mausolff received a masters degree from the social science division masters program of the University of Chicago, where he also studied library science.

He has studied at the University of Vermont, the University of British Columbia and Middlebury College summer school.

With a speaking and writing knowledge of German, Mausolff has served as an interpreter and as battalion photographer with the U.S. Army combat engineers. He traveled extensively in Europe from 1936 to 1939 and upon returning to the United States, was employed at the University of Chicago and the University of British Columbia.
