

White Says Missouri Is Stronger Than Last Year

By SANDY PADWE

(This is the first in a series of scouting reports on the Missouri football team. Tomorrow the line.)

Ask Penn State end coach J. T. White what kind of team Missouri has this year and he'll tell you very bluntly, "they've got one helluva ball club."

Gangling J. T. knows because he scouted the Tigers in their first two outings against S.M.U. and Oklahoma State.

And after two straight wins White has nothing but respect for Dan Devine's Big Eight contenders who will be at Beaver Stadium Saturday.

He says things have changed quite a bit since the Lions up-ended Missouri, 19-8 in the 1959 opener.

"They're a lot better than last year," White said yesterday. "You can bet that our ends and corner men are going to have a busy time."

White explained that Missouri has a host of speedy backs and he says Devine doesn't waste their talents.

"They'll try to run our ends a lot, with Mel West and Norris Stevenson," he said. "We'll also have to guard against the running pass because West and Donnie Smith are naturals for it."

Smith, a southpaw halfback, was responsible for Missouri's only score against Penn State last year when he connected on a running pass to end Russ Sloane in the last quarter.

"Missouri is basically a straight-t club with a balanced line and plenty of flankers," White said. "When you see them, they'll look a lot like us."

The Tigers have a strong running attack and gained 392 yards on the ground against Oklahoma State Saturday. The week before they ground out 209 yards against S.M.U.

Besides having power to spare, White says the Missouri backs "will be the fastest we'll see all year. They seem to have plenty of backfield depth too," he added.

Lion Frosh Will Host Mounties

By JIM KARL

When Penn State's freshman football team opens its season Saturday morning against West Virginia, it may be facing the best Mountie backfield corps since the "golden era" of 1952.

At least that's the opinion of Mountie head coach Gene Corum. Corum rates Fred (Colt) Colvard of Logan, Glenn Holton of Boursville and Dale Harkins of Charleston as the top threesome he's seen since the days when Freddy Wyant and company roamed the hills around Morgantown.

Colvard comes to West Virginia with a real thick scrapbook. He was the winner of the Kennedy award, annually given to the outstanding high school football player in the state.

Recently against an all-star team from Kentucky, he scored two touchdowns, passed for another and booted four extra points in a 27-14 victory. A halfback in high school, Colvard has been working at quarterback this fall.

Holton, a 6-2, 190-pound fullback, earned 15 letters in high school. Tom Collins, another backfield candidate, has run the 100 in 9.7. Nobody was interested in the Wierton speedster as a football prospect when he finished high school because he weighed only 150. Now he scales nearly 180.

In their opening test against Fairfield State Teachers Sept. 21, the Little Mounties rolled to a 46-6 victory.

Meanwhile Lion coach Earl Bruce reported that four of his gridders are on the injured list and may not see action here Saturday. The four are center Ted Gregor, guard Bill Neil, end Tony Gebicki and halfback Ed Stuckrath.

On the brighter side of things, Frank Potter, one of Bruce's top quarterback prospects, has been looking good in drills. Potter, a high school all-American, Don Caum, Ron Coates and Frank Hershey are fighting for the starting quarterback post.

World Amateur Golf Tourney Starts at Merion Club Today

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Amateur golfers from 32 nations start out today at the Merion Golf Club in one of the most cordial and confusing of all international competitions—the second World Amateur Golf Team Championship.

Inaugurated at St. Andrews, Scotland, two years ago, the world team championship is played by four-man teams representing each nation. Only the best three scores each day, however, are toward the team totals.

This makes it a bit difficult for players to understand what is going on. But friendship and international amity are considered more important than scores in this competition—at least until it comes to a showdown for the huge silver Eisenhower Trophy.

The object of the competition is "friendship and sportsmanship through golf." Judging by the cordiality displayed among the players here, that object is rapidly being attained.

Australia won the first team in 1948, defeating reach.

the United States 22-224 in a players here, that object is rapidly being attained.

The same three teams, plus France, New Zealand, Argentina, Canada and South Africa, are listed among the favorites this time.

The United States is represented this year by young Deane Beaman of Silver Spring, Md., the new national amateur champion; Bob Gardner of New York, Bill Hyndman of Abington, Pa., and 1959 champion Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio.

The rolling Merion course, in Philadelphia's Main Line suburbs, is an open, park-like course, 6,694 yards long with a par of 35-35-70.

NL Sets New Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League has broken its attendance record, an Associated Press survey revealed Monday.

Including Sunday's games, the senior baseball circuit had a total of 10,394,909 paid admissions for 1960. This eclipsed the mark of cordiality displayed among the 10,388,470 set in 1947. The major league record of 11,150,099 established by the American League in 1948 is out of the National's championship in 1958, defeating reach.

Iowa State Back Sets Rushing Mark

By The Associated Press

Dave Hoppman, Iowa State tailback, has made a faster two-game start in college football than any other back in history.

Statistics released Tuesday by the NCAA service Bureau show that the 20-year-old sophomore has picked up 516 yards in his first two games—395 of those yards by lugging the ball himself.

Both these figures are NCAA records, wiping out marks posted in 1949 when Johnny Bright broke in with Drake.

Hoppman, a 6-foot-1, 175-pounder from Madison, Wis., tops the nation's ball carriers in both total offense and ground gaining.

Charley Johnson and Bob Gaiters, both of New Mexico State, are tops in passing and scoring. Johnson has completed 32 of 61 passes for 437 yards in three games. Gaiters has collected eight touchdowns in three games for 48 points.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — The last place Philadelphia Phillies scored four runs in the seventh inning last night and went on to defeat Milwaukee, 5-3.

Robin Roberts picked up the win for the Phillies. It was his 11th victory of the year against 16 defeats. He was relieved by Dick Farrell in the eighth.

Joey Jay took the loss for the Braves and his record is now 9-8. Del Crandall of the Braves had the only home run, a two run blast in the fifth inning. It was his 19th.
