B.B. Tries To End Life In Hiding

NICE, France (AP)—Tempestuous Brigitte Bardot was reported out of danger last night after an attempt to end her life on her 26th birthday.

The sexy movie queen was found in a coma Wednesday night after taking an overdose of sleeping pills and with slashed wrists at the home of a friend where she had been hiding to ruminate on her marital troubles. Paris gossip has had it for some time that her second marriage is on the rocks.

At St. Francis Neurological Clinic here, to which Brigitte was hurried during the night, Dr. Jacques Namin told reporters: "It was serious. Now she is much better, out of danger."

He said she was conscious, "charming" and forbidden to have visitors.

Her husband, actor Jacques Charrier, was reported rushing here from a hunting trip.

Brigitte was found about 7.30 Wednesday night after neighbors heard groans from a garden at Carboles, a remote hamlet near the Italian frontier. Friends said she had lain in the garden 45 minutes before being found.

It was learned Brigitte came to her hideout more than a week ago about 48 hours after a final scene with her husband, with whom she has had quarrels and reconciliations in rapid succession in recent months.

Spivey Denied Chance To Play for Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bill Spivey, 7-foot, 31-year-old former University of Kentucky All-American, has given up his fight to play in the National Basketball Association.

Spivey was signed to a contract months ago by the Cincinnati Royals pro team, but his application for permission to play in the league was denied by its president, Maurice Podoloff.

Spivey will move to Baltimore, Md., where he will play with that city's team in the Eastern League, according to his attorney.

Spivey was denied permission to play in the league as a result of being named in a basketball scandal in 1951, while he was attending Kentucky. He voluntarily appeared before a New York grand jury.

Mamie's Mother Dies in Sleep; Funeral Today

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Elivera M. Doud, the mother of Mamie Eisenhower, died quietly in her sleep at her home Wednesday night. She was 82.

The President's wife arrived by plane shortly after noon Thursday to join her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore of Washington, who was at Mrs. Doud's bedside Wednesday night.

Her son, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, accompanied Mrs. Eisenhower.

The presidential plane arrived from Chicago where the President had stopped off.

Mrs. Eisenhower appeared extremely shaken as she walked down the steps of the plane and stopped several times for reassuring support from her son. While she spoke with friends, she dabbed at her eyes.

Private funeral services will be held at the Doud residence at 750 Lafayette St. today at 2:30 p.m. with the President attending. The President's plane is scheduled to reach Denver at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Doud will be buried in the family plot at Fairmount Cemetery where her husband, the late John Sheldon Doud, was buried nine years ago.

The State Department announced yesterday that dependents of U.S. Embassy personnel in Havana have been encouraged to leave and said other American residents there have been informed they should take similar action.

The basic reason given is that, in view of the hostile attitude displayed by the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro, the State Department has decided it cannot provide normal protection to U.S. citizens through regular diplomatic channels.

A State Department press officer, Francis W. Tully, said that the advisory warning applies only to dependents of U.S. citizens, such as businessmen, living in Cuba. A press dispatch from Havana said the embassy there has also been quietly advising all other American residents to leave if they possibly can.

The State Department estimated there are 3,500 to 4,000 U.S. citizens living in Cuba apart from embassy personnel and officers, men and civilian employees of the naval base at Guantanamo Bay. One official estimated that of these 3,500 to 4,000 perhaps 2,000 are dependents; that is, wives and children.

Tully said that two weeks or more ago there were an estimated 4,500 nonofficial U.S. citizens in Cuba. This means that at least 500 Americans have left in the last two to three weeks.

Congo Tourist Travel Slow

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Congo government tourist office reopened this week with business anything but brisk. The most pressing task was crossing out the word "Belgian" on brochures left behind by the Belgian colonials when the Congo became independent June 30.

Do you agree with Lincoln about government competing with its citizens?

Nearly a hundred years ago, Abraham Lincoln said, "In all that the people can individually do for themselves, government ought not to interfere."

That's an even more important issue today, when the U. S. government runs about 19,000 businesses. The electric light and power business is one example, where government has spent well over $5,000,000,000 of taxpayers' money to compete with its own people.

$10,000,000,000 more has been proposed for this purpose. That would be unnecessary spending—because the hundreds of independent electric light and power companies like yours are able and ready to supply all the low-price electricity people will need . . . and without depending on taxpayers' money.
