208 Coeds Get New Quarters

Almost half of the students in temporary housing have been moved to permanent accommodations, the Department of Housing announced yesterday.

Of the original 405 coeds assigned temporary rooms, 208 have been reassigned and of the original 197 men students temporarily assigned, 48 have been transferred.

McAllister Hall, the first floor lounge of Atherton, all the dining areas and public lounges have been emptied and no longer are being used for temporary housing, Otto E. Mueller, Director of Housing, said.

Women are still being housed temporarily in former sorority suites, study lounges and are doubling in single rooms and tripling in double rooms, he said.

About 45 per cent of the men students living temporarily in Nittany do not want to move when notified that their name has come up for reassignment, James S. Kline, head of Room Assignment, said.

He said that this shows the effect of the improvements made in the Nittany residence halls. Formerly 35 per cent of the students did not want to be reassigned out of Nittany, Kline said.

The order of the names on the waiting list for reassignment is determined by the date on which the housing application was received, he said.

The goal is to get Nittany residence halls down to single room capacity, Kline said. Housing also wants to empty the sorority suites so they can be used for study lounges, he said.

SGA Lists Rules For Cheer Contest

If you are considering a cheer for the Student Government Association Cheer-Writing Contest, here are certain hints that will help you write a winning one.

The entries are going to be judged on the basis of rhythm, rhyme, adaptability, simplicity and clarity.

The cheers should be submitted on or attached to the official entry blank and should be returned no later than 5 p.m., Nov. 4 to the Hetzel Union desk.

Specific interpretations for the presentation of the cheers should be made as clear as possible. Included should be notations such as louder, softer, faster, word emphasis, etc.

Fleisher, who is internationally known, appeared on an Artists' Series program last year, sharing the stage with Leonard Rose, cellist.

In 1952, when Fleisher was only 24, he won the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium International Music Competition. He is the first American to capture this honor.

Fleisher, in 1958, was chosen to bear the pianistic laurels for the United States in the Brussels World's Fair.

When he performed with the Cincinnati Symphony, a newspaper contained the statement: "Fleisher was equally at home in Mozart's 18th century phrases and in Rachmaninoff's rumbling resonances, and his was quite possibly the best performance of either work in our orchestra's lifetime."

Fleisher's engagement at the University is one of the many that will take him across the United States this year. He is booked to appear at the Tanglewood Festival, the Hollywood Bowl and Chicago's Grant Park.

Las Vegas Comes To HUB Tomorrow

"Legalized gambling" will invade the Hetzel Union ballroom at 8 tomorrow night as Leonides and the Town Independent Men join forces to sponsor their annual Las Vegas Nite.

Students—whether novice or sharpie—with a compulsive urge to gamble, can play poker, blackjack, craps, dice, chuckaluck, over-under, birdie-in-the-cage and other games of chance.

A film of the "Broadway Handicap" will be shown at 10 p.m. From 8 p.m. until post time, student "gamblers" may place their bets with the bogus money supplied them by TIM and Leonides.

For gamblers wanting to take a break from winning someone else's money, there will be a stage show with continuous performers. The show, with honky tonk music, will create a cabaret atmosphere for the gambling den, chairman Frank Jankosky said.

Prizes—a total of $300 worth—will be awarded to lucky gamblers at the close of the evening. Students will exchange their winnings for numbered tickets.

If the numbers come up on the five-wheels being spun, they may win miniature gambling equipment, blackjack or crap setups, ashtrays, serving trays and cigaret lighters.

One Las Vegas nightspot, the Golden Nugget, has supplied 1000 free key chains, which will be given the gamblers as souvenirs.

Tickets for Las Vegas Nite are now on sale at the HUB desk for $1 per gambler. They will also be on sale at the door tomorrow night.

LA Applications

Applications for the Liberal Arts Students Council will be available for freshmen from next Tuesday to Oct. 25 at the Hetzel Union desk. Completed applications are to be returned by Oct. 25 to 138 Sparks.
