

Illinois' Forward Wall Ranks With The Biggest

One of the biggest lines in the country will be waiting for Penn State Saturday when the Lions invade Champaign, Ill., for an intersectional clash with Pete Elliott's Fighting Illini.

From end to end, the Illinois forward wall averages 229 pounds while Penn State's averages 210 pounds.

Cliff Roberts, a tackle from Philadelphia, is the biggest lineman, weighing in at 256 pounds.

However, he may not start Saturday. In that case, he will be replaced by Larry Lavery, a senior who goes 6-2, 216.

Right behind Roberts in the weight department is one of Illinois' top All-American candidates, tackle Joe Rutgens (6-2, 245).

Rutgens has all the qualifications for All-American honors—size, agility, good speed, and outstanding blocking and tackling ability.

The Illinois senior is a frequent visitor in opposing backfields and he was singled out as the main reason All-Americans Bob White of Ohio State and Ron Burton of Northwestern had such poor days against the Illini last year.

The guards will be Joe Wendryhoski (6-2, 214) and Tony Parrilli (5-11, 214). Wendryhoski played guard and center as a sophomore but was a tackle last year. He was changed back to guard during spring practice.

Parrilli is a converted center who was one of the big guns in Illinois' 20-14 win over Army last year.

With Parrilli moving to guard, junior John Kruze (5-11, 210) takes over the pivot position with veterans Stan Yukevich and John Stapleton in reserve.

The Illini have two of the biggest starting ends in the country in Ernie McMillan (6-3, 242) and Ed O'Bradovich (6-3, 222).

McMillan, a two-year letterman, is the brother of basketball star Shelly McMillan of the Detroit Pistons.

O'Bradovich, Illinois' split end, is big and strong and has good speed for a player his size. He is a strong blocker and is extremely tough on defense.

Illinois Favored to Whip Nittanies by Two TDs

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The big

football game of the week pits Iowa's speed and resourcefulness against Purdue's power and brute strength. Maybe we've got too much of it in the head, but our vote this time goes to Purdue's muscle.

Last week's score 30-15. Season mark: 138-52 for .727.

Illinois 21 Penn State 8: Nittany Lions left too much fight on the field at Syracuse.

UCLA 24 Stanford 7: Nothing but woe for the skidding Indians.

Northwestern 21 Notre Dame 7: No bounce-back for the Irish.

Purdue 10 Iowa 7: The top ranked Hawkeyes are at home but they're reeling from injuries.

Syracuse 28 West Virginia 7: age.

The Mountaineers are playing out the season's strong and looking to next year.

Navy 24 Penn 7: Hal Spooner's passing and Joe Bellino's running are an effective combination.

Michigan 14 Minnesota 7: It's been four years since the Gophers have drunk from the Little Brown Jug. They'll have to wait another.

Washington 20 Oregon State 18: The Huskies' teeth dulled by loss of Bob Schloredt, they're still pretty sharp.

Texas 21 Rice 14: A vote here for offense over defense.

Mississippi 20 Arkansas 8: As long as Jake Gibbs stays healthy, Ole Miss will take a lot of beating.

Duke 13 Clemson 8: It will be hard to get Clemson "up" after the loss last week to Maryland.

Pittsburgh 18 Texas Christian 14: Pitt has grown better with age.

Second All-Star Game To Be Played in Boston

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston will be the site of the second 1961 all-star major league baseball game, Commissioner Ford Frick said yesterday. He said the game would be played Monday, July 31.

Previously, the commissioner had announced San Francisco as the site of the first all-star game of the season with the date July 11.

Two such games have been played in each of the last two years with receipts helping pay for the players' pensions.

Frick also said that the player draft this year would be held at Louisville on Monday, Nov. 28.

Wrigley to Install Lights

CHICAGO (AP) — One of these years lights will be installed at Wrigley Field, Chicago Cub owner P. K. Wrigley said yesterday, but they will not be used for night baseball.

"As soon as the Cubs can afford it — and that won't be until the Cubs are a contender — we'll install lights strictly in self-defense — to assure completion of our day games," said Wrigley. The Cubs this year wound up seventh in the National League.

"They absolutely won't be used for night baseball — at least as long as the Wrigley Field neighborhood continues to be residential."

JOE RUTGENS

Dick Newell, a junior from Utica, N.Y.

Newell wasn't expected to crack the first or second team this fall, but he fooled everyone and has caught seven passes for 145 yards in four games.

Both Illinois and State bring identical 2-2 records into Saturday's game.

Illinois' wins came in their first two games against Indiana and West Virginia.

Since then they have lost two straight to Ohio State 34-7 and Minnesota, 21-10.

Casey Popular at Home

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Casey Stengel and the New York Yankees have parted company, but his home town still loves him. It calls its municipal baseball park Stengel Field.

Casey is unofficial adviser to the city's Little League and Middle League.

And his neighbors in this Los Angeles suburb have a low opinion of the Yankee baseball brass for letting the veteran manager go Tuesday.

"Now maybe we can get him to manage a West Coast team," one said.

—The Syracuse - Penn State football series must be one of the nations hardest fought. In the 38 games played since 1922, Penn State has won 17, Syracuse has taken 16, and five have ended in ties.
