

Landlords Approve SGA Housing View

By MEG TEICHHOLTZ

Some homeowners in State College make a practice of renting rooms to Negro and international students, according to the International Student Affairs office.

Those questioned by The Daily Collegian last night reported that they were satisfied with their students and were in favor of the SGA bill to sponsor a non-discriminatory housing list in place of the present University listings.

The SGA bill, which will be brought before Assembly tonight, was prepared by Cynthia Xanthopoulos (Jr.-C.) and Jacqueline Leavitt (Sr.-U.). It states that SGA does not condone discrimination on any basis, and asks that the Dean of Men's Office discontinue its housing list, which has been discriminatory.

Instead, the bill proposes, SGA would maintain a housing list composed of landlords who do not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, religion or national origin.

Mrs. G. L. Fletcher, who rents rooms at 234 S. Allen St., termed the foreign students "wonderful." "They are more polite and considerate than most American boys," she added. Mrs. Fletcher, who has been renting rooms to foreign students for "ten or fifteen years" said that she never had "a particle of trouble."

Several years ago, she said, she rented a room to a foreign student who is now a member of the faculty.

Mrs. Theo Struck, who rents three or four rooms in her home, said last night that she has rented rooms to Negro students and this year is renting a room to an Indian student. "I would rather choose my roomers on their character," she said, "than on their color."

Mrs. Maude Mullin termed people who discriminate in housing "narrow minded" when the issue of the SGA bill was raised. She said that she rents rooms to students from India and liked them.

A representative of Friends House, a non-discriminatory club housing international students questioned the other members of the club and said that they are "all in favor of the SGA bill."

The University Club, a non-discriminatory private organization, was the only group questioned that refused to comment on their views. Robert Hemman, president of the club, said that he would have to consult with the board of trustees of the club before he could speak for the group.

Halloween Bat Mystery Solved

By DICK LEIGHTON

The bat situation is far from over for the women in Pollock 5, a reliable source said last night.

It seems that the little flutter-mice did indeed enter the side stairwell as authorities thought. The eleven animals killed in the unit over the weekend did not fly in however, they were part of a 36-bat squadron released from the inconspicuous portals of a shoebox Saturday night.

"We're still waiting for the rest to come out. There should be quite a few of them up there yet," our source said.

An eight-student expedition, consisting of six men and two women, trapped the bats in one of the local caves, we learned. "It was cold and they were in a dormant state; we just picked them off the walls and stuffed them in the box," one of the group said.

When asked about the appearance of a bat in Pollock 3 Tuesday night, our informant said,

"We are still trying to figure that one out, maybe one of the girls kept one for herself."
