

SGA Finance Bill To Be Petitioned By Liberal Party

A referendum on the SGA political finance bill to be voted on this week by Assembly is being petitioned by the Liberal Party.

The bill asks that student funds amounting to $700 be used to finance political campaigns each year. At present, candidates and the parties themselves pay their own expenses.

R. Kennedy To Arrive On Friday

Robert Kennedy, brother and campaign manager of John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, will speak on campus Friday.

As campaign manager, he leads the ranks of the "campaigning Kennedys" which include another brother, Edward; sisters, Eunice (Mrs. Sargent Shriver) and Pat (Mrs. Peter Lawford); and Mother, the former Rose Fitzgerald.

Robert achieved fame and for a time even overshadowed John when he served as chief counsel for the Senate Sub-Committee on Labor-Management Racketeering, sometimes known as the McClellan Committee.

Arrangements for Robert Kennedy's campus visit will be published in The Daily Collegian as soon as they have been completed.

In political action on campus, the Students for Kennedy and Johnson launched D-Day (Democratic-Day) last night with the distribution of about 1200 pamphlets to every residence hall room and to all fraternities.

Throughout the next week the group plans to canvass every home in State College, John Bonella, chairman, said.

A written statement given to The Daily Collegian by the Liberal Party states that they "believe that the solution to lavish campaign expenditures does not lie in the unwise appropriation of student funds."

A further consequence of this SGA action would be the abolishment of printed party platforms, Richard Snyder, chairman, said at a party meeting Sunday. Since printed platforms were excluded from the list of official uses for the money, he said, it would be illegal for a party to publicize statements concerning their ideals and interests.

The party has been collecting signatures for a petition since Saturday, Snyder said, and will submit the SGA bill to a vote under Article VII, Section 5-a of the constitution.

This section states that any legislation of the Assembly may be voted upon by the student body if a petition to this effect signed by at least 3 per cent of the students has been received by the president of the SGA.

Snyder also said that the first steps have already been taken to bring another SGA bill before the SGA's, as yet untried, Supreme Court. This bill states that majority and minority party leaders in the Assembly will be the chairmen of their respective parties and that they will be chosen by the members of the party on the Assembly.

Snyder said that the bill was "obviously unconstitutional" and that "if anyone would read the constitution, they would see that SGA has no power to pass legislation." (Continued on page twelve)

Reds Ask Hammarskjold Report on Congo Chaos

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union demanded yesterday an immediate report from UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold on how the UN command is coping with alleged efforts of Belgian army officers to bring about economic and political chaos in the Congo.

Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, accused the UN secretary-general of imposing a curtain of secrecy on "subversive activities of Belgian agents" in the African republic.

Zorin submitted the request for a Hammarskjold report to Ambassador Frederick K. Boland of Ireland, president of the General Assembly.

There was no direct reply from Hammarskjold to Zorin. But the secretary-general said in answer to a somewhat similar request from Polish Ambassador Bohdan Lewandowski, current president of the Security Council, that a new report would be available about the middle of the week.

"Your inquiry corroborates my own feeling that time is ripe for submission to the Security Council of a new report, now that a stage has been reached in the Congo when some meaningful information can be made available," Hammarskjold said.

His comment coincided with reports from the Congo that three Belgians and a white Rhodesian had been arrested on charges of masterminding a plot to plunge Kasai Province into civil war. The four were accused of leading native Baluba tribesmen in a rebellion that violated a truce agreement.

Zorin declared that Belgian officers are "recruiting armed bands, which operate under the flag of the Congolese army, and are organizing attacks on the civilian population and carrying out economic sabotage in an attempt to bring about complete political and economic chaos in the Congo."

Zorin declared that Belgian officers are "recruiting armed bands, which operate under the flag of the Congolese army, and are organizing attacks on the civilian population and carrying out economic sabotage in an attempt to bring about complete political and economic chaos in the Congo."

Cal Poly Students Mourn Air Victims

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — They filed silently into the massive new gymnasium yesterday, the quiet shuffling of their feet in strange contrast to the cheers which normally echo across its glistening floor.

They were the students and faculty of California State Polytechnic College and the townspeople from San Luis Obispo, brought together in grief at a memorial service.

Sixteen members of the school's football team and six other persons died in a flaming plane crash at Toledo, Ohio, Saturday night.

There was none of the blithe, happy by-play between students, no cheery greetings, no jostling as they massed at the entrances, just the muted tread of hundreds of feet moving slowly toward the seats.

A Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Ray Herr, gave the invocation.

Robert Kennedy, vice president of the college, told of the awesome moment when first word of the tragedy reached the campus. At that time it was feared all 48 persons aboard the chartered plane had perished, but there were survivors.

"For this we are deeply grateful," he said. But when he spoke of the sorrow in the homes of those who died, muffled sobs rose from the audience and continued through the rest of the 20-minute service.

The three remaining games on the football schedule have been canceled.

"I guess everybody will smile again some time, but it's going to be an awful long time," said Mrs. Lena ... restaurant hostess at a campus hangout. "This is a small town and tragedy strikes us all deeply."

No SGA Cabinet Meeting
Student Government Association Cabinet will not meet tonight, according to Richard Haber, SGA president.

Rainy Weather Will Continue

Unsettled weather accompanied by cloudy skies, intermittent rain and gusty winds will prevail through tonight as a series of well-developed storm systems influence the weather in this area.

The primary storm system is located in the Northern Great Lakes region and was responsible for spreading the overcast skies and occasional rain into this area yesterday.

A new storm, which will be moving this way from the Southeastern states, will cause the inclement weather to continue into tonight. Mostly cloudy and breezy weather is in prospect for tomorrow.

The forecast for this area indicates that temperatures will show a downward trend tonight and tomorrow as colder air filters eastward from the central states.

A maximum reading of 50 degrees is expected today with a high of 49 predicted for tomorrow. Tonight's low should be close to the 40 degree mark.

Hoak Stars in 34-13 Win

By SANDY PADWE

Band day was supposed to be the big attraction at Beaver Stadium Saturday, but when the afternoon's proceedings had ended most of the 35,635 in attendance went home talking about Dick Hoak, Penn State's second unit quarterback.

Hoak threw a pair of touchdown passes and literally dove over the goal from three yards out for another score as the Nittany Lions (3-3) trounced winless West Virginia, 34-13.

"Hoak's score near the goal was one of the best individual efforts I've ever seen," Lion coach Rip Engle said, "he played a grand football game."

From the beginning, the day belonged to Hoak and his second unit backfield composed of halfbacks Dick Pae and Al Gursky and fullback Dave Hayes.

The senior QB piled up 119 yards, 68 through the air and 51 on the ground.

Pae, a little wisp of a fellow (5-9, 168), put on a real show for the fans by racking up 75 yards in nine carries to take rushing honors for the day.

Playing one of his finest games in three years, the Mighty Mole. (Continued on page nine)

Assembly Committee Studies Impeachment

SGA Rules Committee considered possible for the impeachment of three Assemblymen last night. However, no action will be taken to recommend impeachment until the procedural rules are clarified.

These Assemblymen who could be impeached are Herman Weber (C.-Sr. class president), Barbara Watchorn (U.-Soph.) and Robert Clapp (C.-Sr.). Each of them has at least three absences this semester.

Uncertainty over impeachment hinges on indefinite attendance rules. The rule which states that three absences a semester are grounds for impeachment was contained in a bill which was defeated last spring.

The bill, however, was defeated because of the main provision which would have established alternates in some specified cases. General opinion on Assembly has been, however, that three absences are grounds for impeachment, whether the absences are legal or illegal.

The Rules Committee does not have the power to impeach Assembly members. It may only review cases and refer them to the SGA Assembly for direct action. Clapp, one of the three people in question, appeared before the Rules Committee last night to explain his absences.

Clapp said his first absence was for "personal reasons." His second absence occurred when he was forced to travel to New York to attend a meeting of the National Student Council of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Clapp was also absent Oct. 27. His excuse for this absence was that he was preparing a take-home bluebook which was due Friday. The bluebook was assigned Wednesday.

Weber has submitted no excuses for his absences.

Miss Watchorn, has been absent for illness under orders of University physician Dr. Mary K. Helz.

TOUCHDOWN BOUND is Penn State end Dave Truitt (82) after tackling Dick Hoak aerial in the first period of Saturday's Band Day game between Penn State and West Virginia at Beaver Stadium. A crowd of 35,635 saw the Lions maul the Mounties, 34-13.