

Freshmen To Sign Out For Lounge

All freshmen must sign out after 8 p.m. whether entertaining guests in the lounge areas or leaving the residence area, the AWS Senate ruled last night.

Upperclasswomen will continue to sign out when leaving the building after 8 p.m. but need not sign out to entertain in the lounge.

It was decided that freshmen may be in the lounge, however, after the sign-in hour of 10:30 p.m. during the week without a date.

This ruling and clarification were made to eliminate the problem of freshmen women remaining in the lounges after 10:30 p.m. with a date.

In other business, it was decided that one member of each local area judicial board will sit, as a non-voting delegate, on her respective Community Council to coordinate council activities with those of both local and central judicial boards.

Officers of each Community Council were elected prior to the Senate meeting. Chairmen and treasurers of each council will sit on AWS Senate as voting delegates.

Jean Demeyer was appointed senior senator to replace Sheila Gallagher, who will be student teaching.

Dorms—It's Now or Never; Banners Due Tomorrow

PLAN AHEAD — oops! This is not an error made by the Collegian reporter, copyreader or linotype operator . . . but this is something that could happen to those dormitory units that wait until the last minute before making their banners for the Collegian Banner Contest.

The last minute will be approximately 4:45 p.m. tomorrow. Banners should be displayed at the participating dormitory and the judges will go to each dorm unit. Since the judging has to be finished before dark, units are asked to get their displays up as soon as possible.

First place winner will receive a trophy from the Association of Independent Men at the pep rally tomorrow night.

The first three winning banners will be announced at the Penn State-Maryland game on Saturday.

All banners should have as a central theme the promotion of spirit for the Lions-Terrapins game.

No banner should cost more than $25 and all banners must conform to the main idea without being derogatory or in poor taste to the University ideals.

Two-Bike Collision Hospitalizes Frosh

A bicycle accident Tuesday sent two students to the Ritenour Health Center. Karen Crickahank, a freshman in agriculture from Freeport, N.Y., collided with James McMaster, a freshman in engineering from Smock, near Pollock C.

Miss Crickahank was unconscious when taken to the infirmary but is in satisfactory condition now according to hospital officials. There is a possibility she will be released tomorrow, they added.

WRA Bridge Lists Due

Preference sheets from individual and sorority groups wishing to participate in the WRA Bridge Intramurals must be turned in today to the main desk at White Hall. Preference sheets for volleyball must be turned in tomorrow.

After preference sheets have been received, entry lists will also be requested from the participating groups.

—When it opened its doors in 1859, the Farmer's High School had 69 students who studied, ate, slept and went to classes in the only building on campus — Old Main.
