

Young Farmers Hold Confab

The Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association held their annual convention yesterday in the Hetzel Union Building.

Dr. Glenn Z. Stevens, campus co-ordinator of the convention, said that the purpose of the meeting was to bring about an exchange of ideas in an effort to advance systematic instruction in vocational agriculture.

The morning session began with a welcome by Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the College of Agriculture, followed by a keynote address by Raymond E. Evans, assistant editor of the Pennsylvania Farmer.

The afternoon session featured musical selections by the Alpha Zeta Quartet and the awarding of six outstanding farmer awards. The convention toured the Swine Research Center and the Meats Products Laboratory. The meetings were ended with a dinner in the Terrace Room Cafeteria.

Missing Your Bicycle? Notify Borough Police

Is your bicycle missing? If you have searched this campus from Recreation Hall to South Halls and you still can't find it, your problem may be solved by calling the State College police.

The police now have 16 bicycles being stored in the State College Municipal Building and are looking for the owners.

With proper identification, owners may claim bicycles at the police station on the second floor of the Municipal Building, 118 S. Frazier St.

Societa Corelli Will Perform

The Societa Corelli of Rome, an ensemble of 13 instrumentalists, will present a concert at 8:30 tonight in Schwab, under the sponsorship of the University Artists' Series.

About 150 student and 100 non-student tickets are still available at the Hetzel Union desk.

The Societa which was formed less than 10 years ago is making its fifth tour of the United States and Canada.

The American tour began Sept. 19 in Vancouver and will end with a performance in New York city shortly before Christmas.

They have recently completed a series of concerts in Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

The Societa Corelli, named for the 17th century violinist and composer Arcangelo Corelli, was formed under the auspices of the Italian government in 1953 on the 300th anniversary of Corelli's birth.

Handbook Jobs Open

Applications for positions on the editorial staff of the Student Handbook are available today at the Hetzel Union desk.

Applications must be returned to the desk by 5 p.m. Friday, Dec. 9.

All students interested in writing or photography are eligible to apply.
