

Cagers Face Purdue Tonight

Dischinger, DuMars Set For Duel

By SANDY PADWE

Baby-faced Terry Dischinger, the 19-year-old Olympian and All-American from Purdue, will be at Rec Hall tonight to face Mark DuMars and Penn State in the second half of a wrestling-basketball twin-bill.

The 1960 home basketball opener will start at approximately 8:45 following the Penn State-Army wrestling match.

Dischinger, who topped the Big Ten in scoring as a sophomore last year, is one of the most remarkable basketball players in the nation today.

He only goes 6-6, not exceptionally big for a center, but he moves so quickly underneath the basket that taller opponents have little success stopping him.

Dischinger has an amazing shooting touch and scored on 54.6 per cent of his shots a year ago.

One of his biggest boosters is Pete Newell, the former California coach who directed the U.S. Olympic team to a gold medal in Rome this summer.

"Terry has a shot for every occasion," Newell said. "He is tremendously dangerous with the ball."

His biggest weapon is a hook with either hand, but he also has a deadly jump shot and is an excellent driver.

Tonight, Dischinger will renew an old rivalry with DuMars, Penn State's own All-American center.

Last year in Lafayette, Ind., DuMars and Dischinger put on a sensational scoring duel with Dischinger coming out on top, 25-23, as the Boilermakers won 63-54.

DuMars, who had one of his worst nights in State's 64-47 loss to Maryland in the opener Thursday, hopes to get back on the right track tonight.

Against the Terps the 5-10 midget made only 4 of 18 shots and wound up with eight points. That's far below his 1959-60 average of 21.3.

Joining DuMars in State's starting lineup tonight will be sophomores John Mitchell and Earl Hoffman and juniors Gene Harris and Jake Trueblood.

Mitchell looked exceptionally good in his first varsity game and he ran the Lion attack when DuMars was forced to the bench with four personal fouls late in the first half.

Harris, State's top rebounder last year, Trueblood and Hoffman will be up front tonight.

Purdue has a batch of talented lettermen to back up Dischinger.

Either Bob Orrill, Dick Mitchell or Tim McGinley will start at guard with Darrell McQuitty, a strong rebounder, and Jerry Berkshire at forward.

Coach Ray Eddy also has a strong bench featuring 6-10 John Kamman and 6-6 Phil Wills.

PITT UPSETS PURDUE
PITTSBURGH — John Fridley's driving layup with only 10 seconds remaining in the game gave the Pitt Panthers a dramatic, come-from-behind upset victory over Purdue tonight at the Pitt field house.

A crowd of 2100 watched the Panthers, down by 22 points with 16 minutes left, go into a full-court press and methodically cut the Purdue lead to one point at 80-79. That's when Fridley went in for the payoff basket to make it 81-80.

The Boilermakers' Terry Dischinger was the game's high scorer with 27 points. Purdue had been rated as one of the nation's top teams in pre-season polls.

Ducks Boast Flock Of Fleetfooted Stars

Oregon is one team that has little to worry about when it comes to speed.

Five members of the Webfoots—who meet Penn State in the second Liberty Bowl game in Philadelphia Stadium Dec. 17—are outstanding track stars and a few are downright sensational.

Reserve halfback Roscoe Cook, for example, is co-holder of the world 100-yard dash record of 0:09.3. He also is one of several runners who have equalled the world 60-yard standard of 0:06.

End Jerry Tarr is a 0:14 high hurdler who managed to reach the finals of the Olympic tryouts. Another end, Lenny Burnett, is a 0:14.5 hurdler.

Halfback Dave Grayson, the Duck's leading ground gainer with 648 yards on 117 carries for a 5.4 average, has been clocked in 0:09.6 in the 100-yard dash.

Reserve halfback Mike Gaechtel has done 0:09.6 several times for the century.

Then there's Cleveland Jones, the 5-3 ball of fire, who was Oregon's top scorer and pass receiver.

Jones was one of the big spark-plugs for Oregon this fall, but the

Duke, Virginia Hope to End Jinxes Today

By The ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA's Billy Kilmer aims for the total offense title, bowl-bound Duke tackles a 21-year-old case of California inhospitality, and Virginia hopefully tries to sidestep a share of the record major school losing streak today in windup day of the regular college football season.

Duke is at UCLA in its first California appearance since a great unbeaten, untied, unscored-upon Blue Devil club was beaten 7-3 in the last minute of a dramatic Rose Bowl game on Jan. 1, 1939.

To wipe away that stigma, the new edition Devils—headed for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas next Jan. 2—will have to contain Uclan tailback Kilmer, who needs but 27 yards to win the major college total offense championship from Washington State's Mel Melin.
