DuMars, Harris Star as Lions Upset Purdue

By SANDY PADWE

Terry Dischinger says Mark DuMars is too small to make All-American but the 6000 fans who saw the "Magician" perform Saturday night would have a tough time agreeing with the Purdue star.

DuMars scored 31 points on a wide assortment of jumpers and drives and he put on a dazzling one-man freeze as the Lions upset the Boilermakers, 63-59, in Rec Hall.

While DuMars was drawing most of the applause, his teammates—especially Gene Harris—were doing an exceptional defensive job on the whole Purdue team.

Using what coach John Egli describes "as a defense similar to the box and one," the Lions and Harris were responsible for one of Dischinger's worst college performances.

The Big Ten scoring champ and All-American hit only 3 of 11 shots and converted 8 of 11 free throws for 14 points, 12 below his normal output.

"Gene did a great job," Egli said yesterday. "Anytime you stop a player like Dischinger, you know someone has done an outstanding job."

Harris, a Pittsburgh product, played Dischinger most of the time as the Lions used a variation of their usual 2-3 zone.

What the defense actually amounts to is the two front and back men play a zone with the middle man—Harris—playing his opponent man-for-man.

"Don't forget those corner men," Egli said referring to Earl Hoffman and Jake Trueblood. "They didn't let their men get the ball to Dischinger that much. That was our strategy because we knew how good he was under the basket."

RIGHT BETWEEN THE EYES—That's where Mark DuMars (10) appears to take a direct hit in Saturday's Penn State-Purdue game at Rec Hall. Actually DuMars was passing off just as the camera clicked. State won 63-59 as DuMars scored 31 points.

us," Egli said, "it might be what we really need."

The evening didn't appear to be promising at the outset for State with Purdue taking a 20-11 lead at 11:50.

But the Lions came back to tie the score at 27 just before the end of the first half.

With 40 seconds left, Jake Trueblood scored on a tap-in and Harris dunked a rebound at the buzzer to give State a 31-27 halftime edge.

The Lions never lost the lead in the second half although Purdue came back to tie the game at 41 midway in the period.

With the score knotted, DuMars and John Mitchell combined for seven straight points and Purdue never recovered.

State had a 12-point lead, 60-48, with 2:30 remaining. A last-ditch effort by the Boilermakers fell short and the Lions had their first win of the year after an opening game loss to Maryland.

With Dischinger off, Junior Jerry Berkshire took scoring honors for Purdue with 16 points, mostly on corner jumps and stabs.

Dischinger, who played for the U.S. Olympic team this summer, still managed to wind up as the game's top rebounder with 16.

Trueblood had 13 for Penn State and was second to DuMars in scoring with 13 points.

Saturday's game was one of DuMars' greatest in three years of varsity play. The 5-10 sharpshooter from Sharon, Pa., had a number of defenders completely baffled.

Near the end of the game he actually froze the ball himself for over a minute with a dribbling act that sent him weaving through the Purdue team like a speeding police car.

Graduation Losses

Halfback and end are the positions on Penn State's football team which will be hardest hit by graduation. The Lions will lose ends Henry Opperman, John Bozick, and Dave Alexander, and halfbacks Jim Kerr, Dick Pae, and Eddie Caye.

Nittany 'Five' To Test Lehigh At Bethlehem

Penn State opens the toughest week of the basketball season tonight at Bethlehem, Pa., against Lehigh and Norm Brandl, the 12th leading scorer in the country last year.

After tonight's game, the Lions will return home and tomorrow night they'll leave for Charlotte, N.C. and weekend meetings with Duke and Wake Forest.

Lehigh lost its opener to Delaware Saturday night, 60-43 because Brandl, who averaged 24 points a game last year, was held to just nine, the lowest mark of his career.

However, coach Tony Packer feels tonight's home opener is all Brandl needs to get started again and if he does, State will be in for a real battle.

In addition to Brandl, the Lions will have to stop Bobby Happ, a high-scoring guard who had 15 points against Delaware.

To fill out his lineup, Packer will probably start Jay Anglada or Ken Weaver at center.

Either Dave Usilton or John Thomas, both sophoms, will start out front with Happ. John Jacobsen will team with Brandl at forward.

Ex-Boxing Czar Admits Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former president of the International Boxing Clubs yesterday acknowledged payments totaling more than $180,000 to an influential promoter and the wife of an alleged underworld fight kingpin.

The aim, he said, was to insure a "free flow of fighters" for televised IBC bouts.

Truman Gibson, who nominally headed the now-defunct IBCS in New York and Chicago, told a Senate subcommittee about payments of $142,500 which he said went to Jack Kearns, who once piloted heavyweight Jack Dempsey, among others.

He refused to accept a subcommittee lawyer's description of these transactions as payoffs.

Gibson confirmed that separate payments totaling between $40,000 and $45,000 went to Viola Masters. A subcommittee aide said records at Palm Beach, Fla., indicate she is married to Frankie Carbo.

Now serving time, Carbo was described as a hoodlum with widespread power in the fight business.

Earlier, Gibson—who is in trouble with the law himself—pictured Carbo as wielding sometimes-controlling influences over two dozen fight promoters and managers across the country.

Among other things, Gibson implied Carbo dictated terms for a 1952 rematch between Jersey Joe Walcott and heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.
