Dear Santa,

Since many of the people of the PSU campus will not have the time to write this year, I am writing a letter for them just asking for presents which will help them make a better Penn State. I know you have not heard from these people for many years, Santa, but you must forgive them as they have become too shy to ask for your help. Age does that to people.

For our Elections Commission Chairman: a handbook on how to regulate elections and a phone monitor to help him decide whether he is in or out.

For our SGA president: a handbook on how to gather information on student opinion. (This should include a list of reasons to make him understand why he must get this information.)

For Mr. Diem: a shiny parking lot for the front lawn of Old Main so his visitors can park close to that architectural wonder.

For Dr. Berneuter: office space on the second floor of Old Main. (This request has been presented before; so, please Santa, try harder.)

For Lions Paw: "secrecy" space on the first floor of Old Main.

For Froth: subscriptions to other off-color magazines so the staff may view their contemporaries.

For the Association of Women Students: parrots.

For all coeds: a new method of bed checks. (This business of trooping outside at 3 a.m. in freezing weather so you can "Check In" is sad.)

For Omicron Delta Kappa: a book on how to make pizza.

For the Writers of Letters to the Editor: Typewriters and a course in how to use them.

Hopefully, I. Kein
