

Engineers Aim for 4th Victory Against Lion Matmen Tonight

By JIM KARL

Penn State and Lehigh continue one of the oldest mat rivalries in the nation tonight at Rec Hall and the Engineers have a twofold purpose—to keep their three meet winning streak going and to gain revenge for last year's 19-11 loss.

A freshman meet is scheduled for 5 p.m. followed by the varsity clash at 7.

The varsity meet will be telecast over Eidophor.

The Lions will be attempting a comeback after their 17-8 loss to Michigan before the holidays. State had previously whipped Army, 24-10, and West Virginia, 39-4.

Both teams are ranked in the top ten. Lehigh is sixth and State is one notch lower at seventh.

Lion Coach Charlie Speidel did not commit himself when asked to compare the strength of the two teams who meet for the 45th time tonight. "They have us outmanned on paper," was his only comment.

The Engineers have upheld glowing pre-season reports by easily defeating all opposition so far.

They downed Cornell, 27-0, Iowa State, 22-8 and Syracuse, 25-6.

Coach Gerry Leeman has 17 of 19 wrestlers returning from last year's squad which finished behind Pitt and Penn State in the Easterns.

Both teams will have an EIWA champion in the lineup—Thad Turner (167) for Lehigh and co-captain Johnston Oberly at heavyweight for State.

Speidel will send Denny Slatery after his fourth straight win against Lehigh's Bill Merriam in the opening match at 123. Merriam, undefeated as a freshman last year, has won one and lost two so far this year.

Tony Scordo will hook-up with Don Baillie in the 130-pound division. Scordo is 2-1, while Baillie will be making his first appearance of the year.

Dan Johnston (2-0-1) will meet Curt Alexander in a 137-pound battle. Alexander finished fourth in the EIWA's last year and is undefeated this year.

Neal Turner edged Jerry Secker for the starting assignment at 147 tonight. Turner, who lost his only match of the season to Army's Al McElhofe, will have his hands full with Bob Gunst.

Gunst is undefeated in three matches and has an 8-6 victory over Iowa State's Larry Hayes, two-time national champ at 147.

One of the highlights of the evening should be the 157-pound battle between Lehigh's Kirk Pendleton and Ron Pifer. Pendleton, labeled by Leeman "as good a wrestler as I've ever coached," has won matches by a decision and a default and pinned Syracuse's Joe Matisak in his last outing.

Turner, Lehigh's captain for the second consecutive year, will go for the Engineers at 167. Speidel hasn't named a starter yet but John Barone is the likely choice.

Jim Detrixhe and Phil Myer will provide the fireworks at 177. Myer won two in a row before losing to Michigan. Detrixhe is undefeated in three bouts.

Dave Angell will get the nod for the Engineers at 191. He owns decisions over Cornell and Syracuse. (Continued on page eight)

NCAA May Hit Tar Heels

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Is North Carolina next? Monday night it should be ready to announce if any more colleges have been found guilty of violating the NCAA code.

A year ago yesterday Oklahoma was placed on indefinite probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Sooners still are there. Indiana and Kansas since have joined the list which also includes Auburn, Montana State College and Arizona State University.

It is known the North Carolina Tar Heels have been under investigation for basketball recruiting practices. Coach Frank McGuire has gained renown with his teams loaded with Northern imports.

1961: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we are in 1961, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1951 which begins and ends with the Figure 1. Of course, when it comes to Figure 1's, 1961, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1911, which, most people agree, had not just two, but three Figure 1's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least two hundred years!

1911 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

There are, of course, certain difficulties attending a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find that Lake Michigan is connected to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are connected to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is connected to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. I mean, put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British workingman who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lizabeth Walk. This, you may be sure, would not make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenicians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world? I am sure that if you search your hearts you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-ridden Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1961, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine, flavorful blend, that clean easy draw filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that ago cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each pack, each cigarette, each puff, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

So, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1961. May good fortune attend our ventures! May happiness reign! May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!
