

Suspended Suspension Given to Three Students

The Senate Sub-Committee on Discipline supported the action of student tribunals at their last meeting by placing three men students on suspended suspension, Leroy S. Austin, associate dean of men, said yesterday.

A student on suspended suspension may be dropped from the University immediately by the dean of men, if he is involved in any further violations of University regulations.

A sophomore in engineering was placed on suspension until the end of the 1961 fall term for drinking on campus. The student, Austin explained, was already on disciplinary probation for drunken and disorderly behavior. His disciplinary probation will continue until the end of the 1962 spring term, Austin continued.

A freshman in liberal arts was placed on suspension until the end of the present semester for repeated misbehavior in the residence hall, Austin said. He also was uncooperative and seemed unable to conform to regulations, especially quiet hours, Austin explained.

Earlier in the school year, he had been placed on office probation for the same offenses, Austin said.

Alan Gette, a sophomore in liberal arts from Philipsburg who was involved in a drunken and disorderly conduct incident in a diner downtown was placed on suspended suspension until June 1961 by the Senate sub-committee.

Earlier he had been fined $10 and costs of $11.50 by Justice of the Peace William P. Bell for the same offense. He had also been apprehended for disorderly conduct in the residence hall, but no action was taken against him in this incident, Austin said.

Another student, Philip Turner, sophomore in business administration, who was involved in this case was placed on disciplinary probation by a student tribunal but has since been dropped by the University for academic reasons.

University Increases Use of TV

Eidophor, the large television projector in Schwab auditorium, is being used to carry courses which have high enrollments, according to Clarence R. Carpenter, director of Academic Research and Services.

Art education, accounting 1 and zoology 25 are being broadcast in this way for the first time in order to magnify objects pertinent to the course and make greater use of visual aids.

Sociology 1, previously on the regular closed circuit system, will be broadcast over Eidophor because of an unexpected enrollment of over 900 students.

Both the Army and Air Force ROTC are depending largely on the regular closed circuit TV to teach their basic courses, Carpenter said. Other TV classes are German 1, mathematics 42, metallurgy 300, music 5 and psychology 17.

Anthropology 1, another of the courses being taught via closed circuit television, is also being "simulcast" to the general public, according to Carpenter.

Simulcast is a term which refers to the process by which the courses will be carried over WFBG-TV, Altoona, to classes on the Altoona campus, Clarion State College, Hollidaysburg State Hospital and the general television audience.

It will be broadcast at 9 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Maurice A. Mook, professor of anthropology, is the lecturer for the course.

If a husband joins a religious group that doesn't believe in marriage his wife has grounds for divorce in Kentucky and New Hampshire.

Former Head Of Home Ec Dies in NYC

Dr. Laura W. Drummond, who served as director of home economics from July 1, 1938, until her resignation on July 1, 1945, died in New York, N.Y., Friday night. She was 59.

Although she had been in failing health for the past four years, she had continued on the faculty of Teachers College, Columbia University, as professor of home and family life. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Last year, Miss Drummond concluded a three-year term as vice president of the American Home Economics Association which she had served also from 1952 to 1954 as a member of the executive board.

Miss Drummond was a graduate of Philadelphia Normal School and received her bachelor of science degree in education at the University of Pennsylvania in a program conducted in cooperation with Drexel Institute. Her master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees were conferred by Columbia University.

$500 to Aid Freshman

A $500 scholarship has been established by the Penn Grade Crude Oil Co., of Oil City, to aid a freshman enrolling in the curriculum of petroleum and natural gas.

Home Ec Council Elects President

The Home Economics Student Council elected new officers at its last meeting to serve until next December.

Carol Manross, junior from Oil City, was elected president, and Bethel Logan, sophomore from Philadelphia was elected vice-president. The newly-elected secretary is Joann Buterbaugh, sophomore from Marion Center. Layne Gierig, sophomore from Clarion, was elected treasurer.

The possibility of a lecture series in the future for home economics students was discussed at the meeting.

Andrews Heads Conference

Dr. Frances M. Andrews, professor of music education, has been elected for a two-year term as president of the Eastern Division of the Music Educators National Conference.

Belasco Will Edit Language Manual

Dr. Simon Belasco, associate professor of Romance languages and director of the French Institute, will edit a revised version of the linguistics manual and anthology used in the Foreign Language Institutes. The institutes are sponsored by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The revised manual will be published commercially and will be recommended for use by the government in the 72 summer and 8 academic year Foreign Language Institutes planned for next year.

Childs to Give Lecture At Forestry Meeting

Edward C. Childs, New England conservationist and owner of the 7000 acre Great Mountain Forest in Norfolk, Conn., will speak at the weekly forestry convocation at 11 a.m. tomorrow in 121 Sparks.

Childs will describe his experiences in administering the Great Mountain Forest and will show color slides of the forest. He will be accompanied by his forest manager, Darrell F. Russ, a Penn State Graduate with a master's degree in forest management.

Lancaster, Pa.

MISS UNIVERSE CONTEST

Sponsored by: THE VILLAGE Restaurant & Lounge

All single LANCASTER girls who desire to enter please contact the "Village" 18 E. Chestnut St., Lancaster, Pa. You must be between the ages of 18 and 26. Winner of the Pennsylvania contest enters the Miss Pennsylvania goes to Convention Hall in Florida for the Miss Universe Contest.

LANCASTER CONTEST STARTS:

February 16, 1961

RAY CHARLES Comes to Penn State

Don't miss the most versatile man in all Jazzland who will be here SUNDAY the 19th. Rhythm and Blues, Ballads, Spirituals and New York Jazz all come naturally to RAY CHARLES.

Tickets go on sale Friday at the HUB desk and Nittany News.

General Admission Only $1.75

PENN STATE JAZZ CLUB

Concert 8 o'clock at REC HALL