

Gymnasts Rate Underdog Role In Meet With Unbeaten Cadets

By JOHN MORRIS

Penn State's gym team, a perennial eastern power, goes into this afternoon's meet with Army in the unfamiliar role of an underdog.

The Rec Hall match between defending Eastern champion Army and State's reigning national champs starts at 2. The meet will be televised over Eidophor in Schwab auditorium.

Army comes into the match with a 17-meet winning streak, including this year's perfect 4-0 record.

The Cadets haven't been beaten since the Lions won, 53½-42½, two years ago. Army copied last year's meet at West Point, 54½-41½.

The Lions started off the season with wins over Springfield and Temple before losing, 58½-37½, to Navy last week.

But the Lions have been hitting their routines well in practice all week and coach Gene Wettstone says his team is ready.

Army's Tom Maloney, coach of the U.S. Olympic team, isn't as confident.

The Cadets will go into the meet without the services of team captain Jon Aaronsohn.

Aaronsohn, two-time Eastern Champion in the flying rings, broke his arm in a pre-season practice and it hasn't healed yet.

Will Worthington, Army's second ringman, injured his shoulder at Syracuse and is a doubtful starter this afternoon.

However, the Cadets have plenty of stars returning from last year's team.

"When they lost Aaronsohn,

BOB MUMAU

... Lion gym captain

they lost only one specialist," Wettstone said. "They have enough depth so that it won't hurt them too much."

Army has 11 returning lettermen, and Wettstone thinks that team strength may make the difference.

"Their depth is our main concern," he said. "They are very good in some events, but have experienced men in almost all of them."

The Cadets boast three good tumblers in Bill Chandler, Tom Griffith and Bob Dickinson, but Wettstone is hoping that Tommy Seward regains his old form to give the Lions a victory. Seward managed only a third place in tumbling against Navy. Worthington and Bill Deuel are candidates to take Aaronsohn's place on the rings.

Wettstone said that the addition of returnee Jack Donahue and Aaronsohn's injury make the flying rings the Lions' strongest event. Donahue competed for State in 1958.

The rest of the Lion lineup will be the same as in the Navy meet. Tom Page and Dick Criley back up Seward in tumbling. Greg Weiss, George Sayre and Gene Harlacher will perform on the side horse.

Weiss, Seward and Keith Hagenchuck give the Nittanians a strong horizontal bar team, and the two Lion stars team up with Ken Morrow on the p-bars.

Gerry Schaefer, Larry Yohn and Donahue will compete on the rings.

Team captain Bob Mumau leads Lion rope climbers Bruce Fosnocht and Chuck Hilbish.

Army's rope team, all with times under four seconds, consists of Dave Hastings, John Kammerdiener and Dick Yule.

Ralph Garens on the side horse, Larry Richards on the p-bars and Phil Costain on the high bar are other outstanding performers for the Cadets.

A dual-meet between Slippery Rock and the State frosh scheduled for today was postponed until next week. The frosh will now meet Slippery Rock and the Pitt freshmen in a three-way meet.

Williams Snares Phoenix Open Lead

PHOENIX, Ariz. (P)—Chunky Henry Williams Jr., a teaching professional who seldom leaves his home club for the tournament trail, stroked a course record 63 yesterday and led the $30,000 Phoenix Open at the halfway mark by two strokes.

His remarkable seven under par 31-32 coming on top of a two-under 68 in the first round, gave the Fleetwood, Pa., golfer a 36-hole total of 131.

Williams was pressed hardest by Dave Marr, who was two strokes back, and Don January, three away.

Marr, co-leader Thursday with Mason Rudolph and Bill Collins at 66, added a three-under 67 yesterday. January shot his second 67 for 134.

Collins had a 69 for a two-day total of 135, and Rudolph a 70 for 136.

Tennis Candidates

All candidates for the varsity tennis team should report to 114 Rec Hall at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Brubaker Gets Nod at 137

The Maryland victory was a shot in the arm to Speidel's crew after their setbacks to Michigan and Lehigh and now they're full of confidence and want this win badly.

Denny Slattery will try for a comeback at 123 after suffering his first loss of the season to Ron Maunder of Maryland last week. Tony Scordo (4-2), one of State's most reliable performers, will go at 130.

Brubaker, a 22-year-old senior from Rockton, Pa., will see action for the first time in his varsity career. Co-captain Jerry Seckler will try to pull out of a two-meet losing streak at 147.

Ron Pifer (4-2) will be in his usual spot at 157 with Trojan moving down to 167. Phil Myer (4-2) goes at 177 with Hayes at 191 and Johnston Oberly at heavyweight.

Navy's lineup is not set. Either Dick Miles or John Eller could wrestle at 123 with Dick Rice and Scot Boyd possibilities at 130 and 137.

If John McGrath, Navy's undefeated middleweight, wrestles 157, Mike Harman will be at 147. If McGrath moves down to 147 Harman will probably wrestle at 137.

Either captain Dick Royston or Dud Williams will be at 167 with Pete Nelson at 177.

Tom Uber will probably be at 191 with 5-match winner John Griffith at heavyweight.

Battery Candidates

All batterymen interested in varsity baseball are asked to report to a meeting at 5 p.m. Wednesday in 241 Rec Hall.

Impressive Debut

In his first season as Penn State basketball coach (1954-55) John Egli led the Nittany Lions to a 17-8 regular-season record and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Trackmen Face Navy Today

Penn State's hopes for a track victory over Navy today at Annapolis rest on the question of how well the Lions do in the field events.

Hampered by lack of a field house, State is never too strong in the field events during the indoor season.

Last year the Lions walloped Navy in the running events but placed only two out of a possible 20 men in the field events and came home with a 61½-45½ defeat.

Although the Middies (1-0) beat Pitt, 71-38, last month, their performances in the high jump and pole vault weren't invincible by any means and if Dick Campbell and Dale Peters perform up to par the Lions may come up with a few firsts.

Campbell is a 6-6 high jumper and Peters a 13-foot pole vaulter. Navy's Lew Hilder, one of the classiest high jumpers in the East, graduated last June and the best the Middies could do against Pitt was a 6-2 by Dave Thaxton.

Navy's Ed Rector hit 13 feet for second place in the pole vault and Rich Nutt was third with a 12-6 effort. Peters has cleared 13 plus several times.

The Middies are almost certain to take all three places in the shot put and have some better than average broad jumpers in Scot Thorell and Chuck Tozer.

Bob Brown should give the Lions a first place in the 60-yard dash but Coach Chick Werner's milers may find themselves in a race to the finish with Navy's Bernie Fleming.

Jerry Norman and Herm Weber give State depth and strength in the mile and two-mile runs. Navy's best two-miler is Bob Dunkle, who ran a 9:55.3 against Pitt.

Werner's mile relay team will probably include Brown, Don Davies, George Metzgar and Bob Grantham. His two-mile relay team will be picked from Mike Miller, Steve Moorhead, Howie Deardorff, Fred Larson and Dave LaHoff.
