

30 Editors Asked To Back Budget

A letter has been sent to about 30 newspaper editors in the state by SGA's "Back the Budget" committee asking editorial support for President Eric A. Walker's $23.1 million appropriation request Kay Mills, a committee member, said yesterday.

It is part of the committee's program aimed at getting support throughout Pennsylvania for the University's proposed budget, Miss Mills said.

The committee was recently organized to conduct a campaign to support Walker's appropriation request for the University.

The letter gives background information on the situation including the amount appropriation request, why the students are backing Walker's budget and what the committee is doing to support him.

The committee suggests that students could write to their hometown papers and state legislators urging their support.

The committee plans to send information to newspapers to make the editors realize what effect smaller appropriations might have on the state, Miss Mills said.

Voting on the budget in the state legislature will be later than originally thought, Miss Mills said that the bill might not come up until April.

Lambda Chi Conclave

The annual Atlantic Conclave of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity, will be held today and tomorrow.

Melvin Bunson, sophomore in business administration, and Thomas Wunderlich, sophomore in mechanical engineering, are co-chairmen of the conclave.

Food Service Plans Summer Schedule

By ELLIE HUMMER

Despite the smaller number of students to feed during the summer, Food Services has plenty to do over this period.

According to Robert C. Proffitt, director of Food Services, the summer is used as a clean-up, fix-up time for the dining halls and equipment.

As soon as the students leave, the painters, plumbers and electricians do jobs which are impossible during the school session, he said. This is possible because the students attending summer sessions are grouped in one area, thus closing many dining halls, he explained.

This summer will be no exception, he said, with all the summer term students eating in Waring Dining Hall in the West Halls. This area was chosen because it is the most convenient location for the majority of students, Proffitt said.

Another reason for the choice is that last summer when Waring wasn't utilized for feeding, Food Service was able to do most of the needed repairs and replacements, according to Proffitt. As a result, it will not need much work done this year, he added. Another added summer job is that of feeding the thousands of people that attend the conferences held at the University. This year, one hall will be designated for "conference feeding."

As far as food is concerned, Proffitt said, that served during the summer is very similar to that served during regular terms. Several items, such as corn on the cob, fresh berries and other fruits, fresh vegetables and melons can be served during the summer because of the season. It would be impossible to serve these foods all year because of the great cost involved with shipping, he said.

Usually the lunches are kept very light because of the hot weather, he said.

Sorority Plans Reception

Beta Sigma Omicron sorority will hold a reception in honor of Mrs. Ada Deemer, national vice-president of the sorority and new ribbonee at 8 tonight in their suite.

Among the guests will be Dorothy J. Lipp, dean of women; Mrs. Nancy M. Vanderpool, assistant to the dean; and sorority alumnae.

HILLEL -- SUNDAY NIGHT

March 5 - 8:00 p.m.

TV - Forum

"Nightmare in Red"

Commentator: Dr. AARON DRUCKMAN
Department of Philosophy

- Authentic reconstruction of the history of Communism
- Covers old Czarist order, revolutions of 1905 and 1917, through World War II, up to the present time

Male Invaders--

(Continued from page two) what should be done about it.

When the campus patrol arrived, the screaming and game of hide and seek were in full swing. The hunt took girls and patrolmen to all floors, sorority suites, storage closets, lavatories and the solarium. Many false alarms were sounded as girls screamed at the sight of a man only to realize an instant later that he was a campus patrolman.

The search continued until 3 o'clock at which time the campus patrol was satisfied that the four were no longer in the building.

The only after-effects of the episode seem to be a missing feminine garment that had been left in the first floor lavatory and a rather shaken field secretary with another story to tell.

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS
BUY, SELL, TRADE, TELL

Late Professor Honored

A series of testimonials to the late Dr. Viktor Lowenfeld, professor and head of the department of art education until his death last May 25, is published in the February issue of Art Education, the Journal of the National Art Education Association.

INDEPENDENTS

All Indies wishing to work on Spring Week with the Independent Student Association please attend the first committee meeting . . .

SATURDAY, March 4,
1 p.m. 212 HUB

This Saturday Night

SAMology 312

with

"THE FOUR DIMENSIONS"

at

SIGMA ALPHA MU

All Greeks with Dates Welcome

9:30 - 12:30

Informal

COME-A-RUNNING

ALL

BOOK EXCHANGE

CANDIDATES

ALL 2nd and 3rd SEMESTER STUDENTS with 2.3 All-U or above Are Eligible

Attend ONE of Two Meetings

6:30 HUB Auditorium

Monday, March 6

or

Tuesday, March 7

Activity
Bound?
Look to the
Penn State
Book Exchange