

Lion Lightweights to Face Tough Foes in Easterns

By JIM KARL

(This is the first of a two-part series on Penn State's entries in the eastern wrestling tournament at Lehigh Friday and Saturday. Today, the lightweights.)

If Denny Slattery, Tony Scordo, Dan Johnston and Ron Pifer hope to end up with any eastern titles this year, they'll have to beat last year's champs or runners-up.

That about sums up State's chances in the lightweight divisions in the eastern tournament at Bethlehem, Pa., Friday and Saturday.

Either last year's champ or the runner-up will return in each of the four weight classes from 123-147.

Pitt's Dick Martin (123) will be favored to gain his first eastern crown after finishing second last year. He went undefeated this season, whipping Slattery 7-1 in the process.

Pitt's Larry Lauchle (130) is a solid choice to regain the championship he lost last year to Rutgers' Mike Leta. Lauchle edged Scordo 3-1 in the Panthers' 17-12 loss to State.

Leta, wrestling at 137 this year, is only one of five strong contenders at this weight. Johnston, Pitt's Daryl Kelvington (second last year) Lehigh's Curt Alexander and Navy's Mike Harman must be rated as strong contenders.

Johnston tied both Leta and Alexander and beat Kelvington in dual meets this year. Alexander tied both Kelvington and Leta.

Pitt's John Zolikoff, the defending champ at 147, will be hard-pressed to retain his title.

Top wrestlers in this weight include Army's Mike Natvig, who pinned Zolikoff in a dual meet this year, Lehigh's Bob Gunst, rated tops in the nation in a poll by Amateur Wrestling News, and Pifer, who lost to Zolikoff in the last 10 seconds on a takedown.

"If I win, it will be an upset even though I'm defending champion," Zolikoff was quoted in the Pitt News. But he added, "I'm just as sure that I'll win as I'm sure that I'll be an underdog."

Sixteen EIWA schools will compete in the tournament. Eight of the 16 wrestlers in each weight class will be seeded, with seeding based on the individuals record throughout the dual meet campaign.

Pifer (7-3) and Johnston (4-1-4) are practically assured of being seeded, but Scordo and Slattery are on the border line. Slattery, a sophomore, won his first five matches and had Lion fans buzzing. His slump during the second half of the campaign (1-4) has just about ruined his chances to be included in the top eight.

Scordo is 4-6, but if he regains the fire he showed at times last year he could move into contention. The Lion junior was 6-2-2 last season.

OSU Worried About Game With Illinois

By the Associated Press

The man who steered Ohio State into national basketball prominence says he's "real pleased" his team has been selected as the undisputed major college leader for the 1960-61 season.

"Honestly," Coach Fred Taylor offered, "it's a thrill for me to hear that kind of news. But it would be nice to get that kind of recognition when this thing is all over."

The unbeaten Buckeyes, 23-0 this season and running a string of 28 victories, are a unanimous choice as the No. 1 team in the final Associated Press poll.

It marked the 13th straight week the Bucks had been chosen for the honor by a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters. They led the poll every week—from the first to the last—an unprecedented achievement.

The 36-year-old Taylor, who accepts such things calmly, added: "Right now the only thing we're thinking about is beating Illinois in our windup Saturday."

Team Captain Larry Siegfried said the players were honored to be selected but "it's an honor we'll have to enjoy after the season."

"Right now we just don't have time to think about it. It won't mean very much if we'd lose down in Louisville."

Ohio State, bidding for a second straight NCAA championship, goes into regional tournament play in the Kentucky City March 17.

1. Ohio State (23-0)	360
2. Cincinnati (23-3)	315
3. St. Bonaventure (22-3)	250
4. Kansas State (20-4)	204
5. North Carolina (19-5)	173
6. Bradley (21-5)	132
7. Southern California (19-5)	102
8. Iowa (17-5)	98
9. West Virginia (23-4)	66
10. Duke (22-6)	64

ATO, Beta Sig, Acacia Post Wins in IM Swim

By JIM WELSH

Alpha Tau Omega, displaying a well-balanced attack, defeated Alpha Gamma Rho, 29-12, in IM swimming last night.

ATO finished first in four events and took second and third in the breaststroke. ATO jumped into a quick 8-1 lead with a sweep in the freestyle and from that point the meet turned into a romp.

Gordie Schmidt of ATO came through with the best individual performance of the meet—a 25.4 in diving.

Dick Campbell won the breaststroke in 40.8 for AGR's only first place.

In another IM battle last night, Acacia nipped Phi Sigma Kappa, 22-19.

Acacia clinched its victory by sweeping diving, the fourth event on the program. Before the diving Acacia held a slim 14-13 lead, but Hal Zook and Larry Wolfe took first and second, respectively.

Phi Sigma Kappa's relay team came back to win the final event, but the rally fell short.

The final meet on last night's card saw Beta Sigma Rho notch a 24-17 victory over Kappa Delta Rho.

Beta Sig held a commanding 18-9 lead after three events, but KDR's divers took first and second to narrow Beta Sig's lead to 19-17.

Then Beta Sig's relay team of Steve Sussman, Jim Kridel, Ed Snyder, and Paul Haberman won the final event to clinch the victory.
