

Unbeaten Thinclads GW May Seek IC4A Victory

Penn State's track team will try to cap its first undefeated dual meet season with a victory in the IC4A tournament at Madison Square Garden tomorrow.

Outstanding performances by a handful of sophomores and a sprinkling of veterans helped State sweep past Navy, Army and Ohio State this year. Nevertheless, Coach Chick Werner isn't making predictions about tomorrow's track carnival. He's just hoping his Lions can keep up their pace against the East's best.

Despite the three dual meet victories, Bobby Brown, Herm Weber and Dick Campbell are the Lions' only tournament-tested performers.

Brown twice was runner-up in the IC4A 60-yard dash. In 1959 he was nosed out by Villanova's Ed Collymore and last year Wildcat Frank Budd shot out of the blocks a little faster and won by inches.

Budd, back to defend his title, has recorded the fastest time of any eastern sprinter in the dash this year (6.1). Brown and Villanova's Paul Drayton are tied for second with 6.2 performances.

Weber, a Lion senior, is one of the top contenders in the IC4A mile. Some of his toughest competition may come from teammate Steve Moorhead.

Weber's 4:15.7 against Army was the third fastest mile in the East, but Werner rates Moorhead as an equally strong contender for the title.

Dick Campbell, who tied for third in the IC4A high jump last year, was second only to Olym-

GW May Surprise Cage Buffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's a word for teams in the NCAA Basketball Tournament:

Call George Washington a gang of spoilers, or upstarts, or Cinderellas, or miracle men—or even lucky. But don't call them misfits. They might clout you, too.

GW takes probably the worst record of tournament history into a first-round match with Princeton at Madison Square Garden next Tuesday.

The audacious Colonials of Coach Bill Reinhart, have won 9, lost 16. Three of those victories came in a row at the Southern Conference championships last week.

GW bumped off Virginia Tech, the Citadel and William and Mary for the conference title and an automatic berth in the NCAA tournament. The Colonials had gone 0 for 5 against the same teams in regular season games. And in the semifinal, William and Mary had toppled nationally ninth-ranked West Virginia.

How come? "Everyone started doing everything right at once," says the 63-year-old Reinhart, who has had only one other "losing" season in 19 at GW.

pian John Thomas in indoor competition this season.

Campbell sailed over the 6-6 mark against Ohio State to equal the Penn State record he set last spring. Jerry Wettstone, a junior, isn't far behind Campbell. He's ranked sixth.

Although his tournament experience is limited, sophomore Gerry Norman is rated as a top contender for two mile laurels. His 9:16.2 performance against Army established him as the sixth-ranking two miler in the East.

Tom Laris of Dartmouth, who set the meet record last year in 8:59 flat, is back for another try.

Yale's Bobby Mack looms as the meet favorite. His 9:03.8 two mile is the fastest in the east this year.

Ernie Noll, who usually runs around 9:30, will back up Norman in this event.

Don Davies and George Metzgar will battle a host of stars in the 600. Metzgar streaked home in 48.7 in the mile relay anchor leg against Ohio State, but he lacks experience in the 600.

Change of Sports

Greg Weiss, Penn State gymnastics star and Eastern intercollegiate all-around champion last year, was captain of his high school wrestling team at Englewood, N.J.

Keystone Quintet

Penn State's starting basketball five is made up entirely of Pennsylvanians. Dave Robinson, Moorestown, N.J., is the only non-Pennsylvanian on the 15-man squad.
