

Lehigh Wins Eastern Mat Title

Three Lions Earn Crowns In Tourney

By JIM KARL

Penn State and Lehigh produced three champions apiece Saturday at Bethlehem, Pa., but the Lions couldn't match Lehigh's depth and finished third behind the Engineers and Pitt in the Eastern mat tournament.

Lehigh ran up a total of 88 points to win its 15th title since joining the EIWA in 1913.

Pitt, with two eastern champs, was second with 64 points, followed by Penn State with 54.

Pitt and Penn State tied for the team title last year with 66 points.

Dan Johnston, Ron Pifer and Johnston Oberly were the Lion champions. All three shut out their opponents in the final round.

Johnston beat Pitt's Daryl Kelvington, 1-0, for the 137-pound title in one of the most exciting matches of the tournament.

After a scoreless first stanza, Kelvington rode Johnston the entire second period.

Johnston went into the third stanza with three minutes of riding time against him. But he stayed with Kelvington the entire period, checking every move the Pitt grappler made.

Midway in the period he put Kelvington on his back. The referee hesitated then held up one finger for a predicament. The rest

DAN JOHNSTON

RON PIFER

Penn State's eastern champions

JOHNSTON OBERLY

of the period was anti-climactic, but the crowd of 4500 roared its approval as Johnston tried to pin Kelvington.

Johnston put on one of the smoothest displays of sound wrestling by any grappler in his four bouts in the tournament. In three of his four matches he didn't allow his opponent a point.

He beat Mike Topping of Franklin and Marshall, 6-0, and Jim Estabrook of Harvard, 5-0, besides shutting out Kelvington.

Mike Harman of Navy was the only grappler to score on him, getting a third period reversal in a semi-final match won by Johnston, 4-2.

Pifer used a reversal in the third period plus riding time to defeat Army's Mike Natvig, 3-0. He scored a lopsided 9-2 decision over Navy's John McGrath in the semi-finals.

Oberly met Lehigh's Chuck Moore for the heavyweight title. The match was a re-run of Oberly's 2-0 win over Moore in a dual meet this year.

The "Big O" rode Moore for the entire second period and then escaped at the beginning of the third to gain his second straight eastern title. He pinned Rutgers' Jim Horner at 4:40 to win in the semi-finals.

In the post-meet ceremonies Oberly was presented with the Fletcher Memorial Award, given to the wrestler who has contributed the most to his team in EIWA tournaments.

The 16 EIWA coaches voted Thad Turner, Lehigh's two-time winner at 167, the Outstanding Wrestler Award.

Turner pinned his opponent in each of his first three matches and then defeated Rutgers' Bill McGrath in the finals, 16-0. He scored three nearfalls.

Unseeded Tony Scordo (130) was the only Lion to reach the consolation. He lost 8-1 to Lehigh's Doug Baillie and finished fourth.

Finals

- 123—Martin (Pitt) dec. Balquist (Columbia), 8-0.
- 130—Lauchle (Pitt) dec. Janish (Rutgers), 2-0.
- 137—Johnston (Penn State) dec. Kel-

(Continued on page eleven)

Floyd Scores 6th Round KO Over Swede

By JACK HAND

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Floyd Patterson fought back from two first round knock-downs and knocked out Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in 2:45 of the sixth round last night.

Patterson retained his heavyweight title in a rousing fight of explosive punches.

Ingo, who also was felled once in the first round, went down from a chopping right hand punch to the jaw late in the sixth. He started to get up but fell back as Referee Billy Regan counted ten. He almost made the grade.

Patterson, fighting to retain the crown he won back in unprecedented fashion last June, had his legs buckled in the third round and was shaken up again early in the sixth before he put over the crusher.

Knockdown timekeeper Hy (Scotty) Lang said Johansson came up on one knee at nine but then fell back at the count of ten.

"He started twisting as he got up," said Lang. "He tripped over himself and fell back at the final count."

This third meeting of the two slugging heavyweights was an eye-popper while it lasted. Patterson, a 4 to 1 favorite who was expected to flatten the Swede quicker than he did last summer, was in real trouble in the first round.

Sigma Pi, Chester Win IM Swimming Crowns

By JIM WELSH

Sam Weir's record-breaking performance in the freestyle led Chester to a 27-14 victory over Navy in the IM independent swimming finals at Glenside Pool last night.

Sigma Pi's superior depth made the difference in the fraternity final. It clinched a 26-15 victory over Alpha Tau Omega despite a brilliant diving exhibition by ATO's Gordie Schmidt.

In the Indie meet, Jim Jenks and Weir gave Chester a slim 10-8 lead by capturing the top spot in the first two events. Then Weir and Bob Turring finished ahead of both Navy swimmers in the breaststroke to vault Chester into a comfortable 18-9 lead.

F. P. Sforza of Navy won the diving competition but Chester clinched the meet in this event by taking second and third.

Sigma Pi, which didn't enter a team last year, wrapped up its win in the first three events.

Lou Benzak and Doug Williams finished one-two in the freestyle to give Sigma Pi a commanding 8-1 margin.

Sigma Pi held its lead in the backstroke despite a first place finish by John Gasser of ATO.

Sigma Pi then clinched the title in the breaststroke with Williams and Roy Rasmussen sweeping the top two spots.

At this point Sigma Pi had 20 of a necessary 21 points needed for a team victory. With an automatic point for third place in diving, the team championship had been decided.

With the pressure off, Schmidt recorded one of the highest diving scores in recent years. Included in his remarkable 29.9 performance was a back dive described by IM meet supervisor Dutch Sykes as "the finest single dive I've ever seen."

Brave's Bullpen Chief Tries New Wrist Motion

BRANDENTON, Fla. (AP)—A twist of the wrist may be the magic motion that brings Big Don McMahon back as the Milwaukee Braves' chief bullpen fireman.

McMahon said he'd taken the advice of pitching Coach Whit Wyatt to use more wrist movement than he'd been doing.

Tourney Field Set

DETROIT (AP)—St. Bonaventure, De Paul, Syracuse and the University of Detroit will compete in the 1961 Motor City Basketball Tournament next Dec. 29-30.

DuMars Voted Best by Orange

The Syracuse basketball team has selected Penn State's Mark DuMars as the "most outstanding player" the Orangemen faced all year.

Even though he won the balloting for the top individual performer, the Lion backcourt ace was not a unanimous selection on the Orange all-opponent team.

LeRoy Ellis of St. Johns was the only unanimous choice while DuMars was one vote short.

Rod Thorn of West Virginia, Bill O'Connor of Canisius and Tony Jackson of St. Johns compose the rest of the team.

DuMars scored 36 points against Syracuse Dec. 20, 1960 when the Lions trounced the Orange, 77-58 in the Onondaga War Memorial.

Two months later the Lions found themselves back at the War Memorial due to a schedule quirk, but this time they didn't have DuMars.

He was in State College with a cold and as a result Syracuse won, 63-61, on a last second shot by Steve Berkenfeld.

Mark DuMars

"Wonderful Town"

MUSICAL COMEDY VERSION OF "MY SISTER EILEEN"

Music By LEONARD BERNSTEIN

Lyrics By

BETTY COMDEN and ADOLPH GREEN

Presented on Stage

by the

PENN STATE THESPIANS

Thursday - Friday - Saturday
March 16 - 17 - 18

Evenings at 8:00 p.m.

Saturday Matinee at 2:00 p.m.

at

Schwab Auditorium

Thursday $1.25; Friday, Saturday and Saturday Matinee $1.50

Tickets on Sale at Hetzel Union Building

CLEAR POOL CAMP

of the

Madison Square Boy's Club
Carmel, New York

Interview:

On Campus, March 17; 9 a.m. to 12 noon
For all types of counselors

Information & Applications
OFFICE OF STUDENT AID
218 Willard Building

Mac Sez... WHAT DOES YOUR SUIT SAY ABOUT YOU?

On a date or during an interview, your suit or sportcoat tells a lot about you. No matter where you go this Easter, you want to make sure your suit says the very best about you. Stop in and try on a new suit or sportcoat. Look it over and see what it says for you.

WASH & WEAR CORD SUITS in charcoal or olive, just $29.98.
Others in dacron & cotton, dacron & woolen blends, from $36.50 to $49.50.
SPORTCOATS & BLAZERS from $25 to $39.50, including the genuine BLEEDING MADRAS SPORTCOAT at only $25.

FREE PARKING at Rear of Store While You Shop • 229 S. Allen St. • AD 8-1241

HABERDASHERY

In the Center of Pennsylvania