Ingemar Wins First Round of Income Tax Battle

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, who lost his bid to recapture the world heavyweight boxing title, won a breathing spell today in his battle with the U.S. government over a $1-million tax claim. Johansson had been ordered to appear before Justice Department officials but his attorneys were allowed to represent him instead. Lavinia L. Redd, an assistant U.S. district attorney, said she would meet with the Swede's lawyers to fix a date to take a deposition from Johansson.

Gerry Norman, Penn State's cross-country and track star, is a native of Bristol, England and a Royal Air Force veteran.
