Moran to Run Tonight In Cleveland K of C

Ed Moran's timetable for a four minute indoor mile may be set back another year.

The Lion grad student will probably be making his last indoor appearance of the season tonight when he runs at the Cleveland Knights of Columbus Meet.

In two midwestern appearances last weekend, Moran twice finished third — once in the 1000 at Chicago and once in the mile at Milwaukee.

Moran finished second in the mile at Cleveland last year behind Jim Beatty.

Softball Umpires

Students desiring to umpire in the men's residence hall softball program may register at the Information Desk in 121 Waring. The deadline for registration is March 22.

Ingo Gets $12,000 For Expenses

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson pleaded yesterday that he needed money for current expenses and Federal District Court allowed the Swedish heavyweight fighter $12,000.

Judge Emmet Choate granted a petition by Johansson that Feature Sports Inc., promoters of Monday night's championship fight, be permitted to pay him out of the gate receipts, being held up pending settlement of tax claims.

Matthew Mannes of New York City, attorney for Johansson, had asked for $15,000 but the judge reduced the amount to $12,000.

"He may petition the court for further funds if he needs them," Judge Choate said.

"I am an employee of Scanart S.A., a Swiss corporation," Johansson said in his petition. "I am not an officer, director or stockholder of the company."

"I have no money, funds or property other than my personal effects in this country and I am without any funds or resources to pay for my personal needs or expenses. The $250,000 paid for the March 13 fight was not paid to me but to a Swiss bank for the account of Scanart."

Mannes said he understood Johansson has a contract with Scanart whereby they cannot pay him less than 70 per cent of his earnings.

The U.S. government claims Johansson owes about $1 million in taxes. The unsuccessful heavyweight challenger is to appear in Federal District Court here March 23 to give depositions on matters pertaining to the tax claims.

NBA Draft Set

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association's annual college draft will be held Monday, March 27, in St. Louis. The NBA, making the announcement yesterday, said the draft would start at 12:30 p.m., EST.

The new American League draft will be held this weekend in Chicago.

Kresh Makes Bowling Team

Robert Kresh, one of Penn State's top intramural bowlers, has won a berth on the Regional 11 bowling team that will represent the eastern section of the country in the American Bowling Congress' Intercollegiate tournament. The tournament will be held in Detroit, Mich., March 26-27.

Kresh won his berth by copping a roll-off tournament with Penn State's best bowlers. He posted a nine game total of 1801, an average of 200 per game.

The last Penn State bowler to compete in the ABC tournament was Mel Royer, who took second place in the all-events competition two years ago.

Adams Takes 8 To Mat Torney

Frosh mat coach Dave Adams will take an eight-man squad to the sixth annual West Point Invitation Tournament. The tournament starts today and will continue through tomorrow.

Two of Penn State's biggest rivals, Pitt and Lehigh, will compete along with many other eastern teams.

Lion grapplers making the trip include Tom Balent, Dick Campbell, Mark Piven, Bob Haney, Steve Erber, George Edwards, Ed Fleming and Dick Walker.

Pirates Win Again

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates scored their sixth victory against one defeat for the best record in major league exhibition baseball by whipping the Milwaukee Braves 7-2 yesterday.

Vernon Law, who went the first five innings for the Pirates, was the winner. Lew Burdette left on the short end of a 5-1 score after four innings and was the loser.

"LOVE IN REVERSE"

They met. His heart leapt. "I love you," he cried.

"Me, too, hey," she cried.

"Tell me," he cried, "are you a girl of expensive tastes?"

"No, hey," she cried, "I am a girl of simple tastes."

"Good," he cried, "for my cruel father sends me an allowance barely large enough to support life."

"Money does not matter to me," she cried. "My tastes are simple, my wants are few. Just take me riding in a long, new, yellow convertible and I am content."

"Goodbye," he cried, and ran away as fast as his chubby little legs could carry him, for he had no convertible, nor the money to buy one, nor the means to get the money, short of picking up his stingy father by the ankles and shaking him till his wallet fell out.

He knew he must forget this girl but, lying on his pallet at the dormitory, whimpering and moaning, he knew he could not.

At last an idea came to him: though he did not have the money to buy a convertible, perhaps he had enough to rent one!

Hope reborn, he rushed at once to an automobile rental company and rented a yellow convertible for $10 down plus 10¢ a mile, and with many a laugh and cheer drove away to pick up the girl.

"Oh, goody," she said when she saw the car. "This suits my simple tastes to a 'T'. Come, let us speed over rolling highways and through bosky dells."

And away they drove. All that day and night they drove and finally, tired but happy, they parked high on a windswept hill.

"Marlboro?" he said.

"Yum yum," she said.

They lit up. They puffed with deep contentment. "You know," he said, "you are like a Marlboro—mild and fresh and relaxing."

"But there is a big difference between Marlboro and me," she said, "because I do not have a Selectrate filter nor do I come in soft pack or flip-top box."

They laughed. They kissed. He screamed.

"What is it, my dear," she cried, alarmed.

"Look at the speedometer," he said. "We have driven 200 miles and this car costs 10¢ a mile and I have only $20 left."

"But that's exactly enough," she said.

"Yes," he said, "but we still have to drive home."

They fell into a profound gloom. He started the motor and backed out of the parking place.

"Hey, look!" she said. "The speedometer doesn't move when you're backing up."

He looked. It was true. "Eureka!" he cried. "That solves my problem. I will drive home in reverse. Then no more miles will register on the speedometer and I will have enough money to pay!"

"I think that's a marvelous idea," she said, and she was right. Because today our hero is in the county jail where food, clothes and lodging are provided free of charge and his allowance is piling up so fast that he will have enough money to take his girl riding again as soon as he is released.
