

IM Mat Championships Slated for Rec Hall at 8

Rugged Dave Grubbs of Beta Theta Pi is proving as tough a competitor on the wrestling mat as he is on the soccer field.

Grubbs led a 32-man field into tonight's IM wrestling finals by pinning Phi Kappa Theta's Bernie Sabol in 2:46.

Both the fraternity and the independent champions will be decided tonight with the action getting under way at 8 in Rec Hall.

John Graham of Delta Theta Sigma threw Dick Hobbs of Sigma Nu and will face Grubbs in the 176-pound final.

Delta Theta Sig sent another grappler into the finals when Ron Alleman scored a referee's decision over Don Wilson of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Wilson was last year's 176-pound champ.

Wilson escaped with 1:30 remaining to tie the score, 1-1, but Alleman got the nod from the official.

Sigma Chi also sent two grapplers into the finals by virtue of semifinal wins last night. Pete Erber defeated John Glasburn of Phi Gamma Delta, 5-0, at 142 pounds and George Saba downed Jeff Lightner, 13-1, in the 150-pound class.

Delta Upsilon, the defending IM wrestling champs, advanced one grappler to the finals. Bob Sommons decisioned Bob McKinley of Sigma Pi, 5-2, at 158. Sommons will meet Bill Smith of Phi Delta Theta in the final. Smith pinned Paul Brownback of Delta Tau Delta at 1:50.

John Harlow is Sigma Nu's only finalist. He scored a 9-7 decision over Ray Plotts of Tau Phi Delta.

Tom Pugh racked up a 11-3 verdict over Barry Clemson at 135 in the only independent match to advance to the finals tonight.

Sigma Nu holds the team lead going into tonight's finals with 65 points. Delta Theta Sig is second with 55 and Phi Delta Theta holds third with 50. Delta Theta Sig and Phi Delt

Lion Grad Will Tour South Africa

Penn State grad student Ed Moran and three track stars from the Quantico Marine Base leave New York City today for a four-week tour of the Union of South Africa.

The tour, sanctioned by the State Department and sponsored by the Union of South Africa's AAU, will include stops at Johannesburg and Pretoria plus other sites not yet determined.

Moran and high jumper Bob Gardner, pole vaulter John Uelses and javelin thrower Al Cantello will be pitted against local talent in a series of exhibitions during the tour.

Track Coach Chick Werner said that Moran will probably decide what distance he will run before each of the exhibitions.

Phillies Hope Kids Can Provide Punch

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Youth is bursting out all over the Philadelphia Phillies who will field a team averaging only 23 in an effort to get out of the cellar after three straight last-place finishes.

Gene Mauch, the 35-year-old manager who succeeded Eddie Sawyer after opening day last year, has one year under his belt. He thinks it will help both himself and the ball club.

"Last year they didn't know anything about me and I didn't know anything about them," he said. "You can't experiment much during a season."

"We have been working on eliminating mistakes that cost us games last year. The kids should improve with experience. Some of them have unlimited potential, especially the three young outfielders — Johnny Callison, Tony Curry and Tony Gonzalez."

The Phils have half an infield with Pancho Herrera (.281) on first and Tony Taylor (.284) on second.

"All I hear about Herrera is that he struck out 136 times," said

Mauch. "They forget he led the club with 17 home runs and 71 runs batted in his first year. Taylor led the club in hitting."

Mauch has Curry (.261) ticketed for left even though Curry left camp Monday night and headed for his home in the Bahamas.

Mauch is high on shortstop Ruben Amaro (.231) as a fielder. If he can hit .250 he has the job. Third base is a scramble between Jim Woods (.260) at Indianapolis and Bob Sadowski (.340) at San Diego and .223 at Rochester who was acquired from St. Louis.

Gonzalez (.274) is ear-marked for center with Callison (.260) in right. Bobby Gene Smith (.286), Bobby Delgreco (.237) and Ken Walters (.239) are available for defense.

"If we have one real strength it is our pitching," said Mauch. "If Art Mahaffey (7-3) is as good as he was last year, we are in business."

Clay Dalrymple (.272) and Clarence Coleman (.258) at Montreal may be the catchers. Cal Neeman, ex-Cub still on a minor league roster, had been looking good.

Ingo Lasts Longer in Court Than in Ring With Floyd

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson spent more time in a federal hearing room yesterday than he ever spent in the ring with Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

Johansson was closeted with attorneys for three hours, giving testimony about his financial status. The heavyweight boxer will continue his deposition today in the U.S. government's tax case after a hearing before U.S. District Judge Emmet C. Choate to determine if and when he can leave this country.

"He could conceivably learn tomorrow if he can leave," said Mrs. Lavinia L. Redd, assistant U.S. attorney.

The government said the Swedish heavyweight fighter had been "most cooperative" in attempting to clear up his tax status.

Johansson's attorneys had asked the court for permission to examine the government's evidence and late yesterday the government filed a motion to limit that examination. The court is to rule on that today.

Johansson said he is a resident of Switzerland and plans to go to Geneva when he has permission to leave. He has business interests there.

The deposition from Johansson dealt only with taxes the government claims he owes, including $411,620 from his 1961 income and $598,181 for 1959 and 1960.

Johansson was forced to remain in this country pending yesterday's deposition. He has been at nearby Palm Beach since being knocked out in the sixth round by Champion Floyd Patterson at Miami Beach on March 13.
