

Bernreuter Praises Assembly Decision

SGA Assembly's decision Thursday to adjourn itself in order to draw up a plan for reorganization represents "student government in action," according to Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the President for student affairs.

"The Assembly, as such, has been relatively ineffective because it has not taken its responsibilities seriously," he said.

The decision to move into a "committee of the whole" to consider reorganization was a step in the right direction, he said.

The Assembly action Thursday night overruled a directive from the Senate Committee on Student Affairs instructing SGA to freeze the Assembly, elect only SGA officers this spring and devise a new system of government by next fall.

Bernreuter said that the reason the committee issued the directive was because "the Assembly seemed to be unwilling to consider reorganization." Discussing the Assembly's plan to consider reorganization, Bernreuter said that its first job is to decide what should be the functions of a student government.

In commenting on these functions, he said that SGA should not act as a governing body which actually dominates the activities of the community living areas. "It should, instead, delegate certain responsibilities to the living areas and having done this allow them to develop individual programs," he explained.

Also commenting on the Assembly's action Thursday night was Laurence H. Lattman, assistant professor of geomorphology and member of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs.

Lattman, who said that he was not speaking for the Committee, felt the directive of the Senate Committee on Student Affairs was designed only to get SGA to act on reorganization.

Lattman said he did not think the letter was intended to undermine SGA. He added that he felt the directive did a good job in getting the Assembly "mad enough to get on the ball."

LaCrosse--

Hayes, who Baer calls a potential All-American, is the main hope on the attack. Baer plans to start him at midfield but may move him to attack.

Defense should be State's strong point this year. Baer says he wouldn't trade the Lion defense for any other in the country.

Captain Dave Erwin, who was an honorable mention All-American last year, heads the defense, which includes junior letter-winner Andy Lockhart and senior Jim Ogden.

Baer plans to start Dick Mears and Gordon Bennett along with Hayes at midfield.

Sophomores Dick Seelig and Steve Schraeder will spearhead the attack. The other slot is up for grabs between senior Dave Cook and junior Pete Erber.

Jim Irwin, last year's starting goalie, gives the Lions a strong netman.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD:

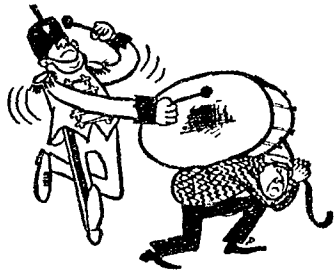

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: A penny saved is a penny earned. And if you could put away a penny a week for one year . . . why, you will have fifty-two cents!

Dear Dr. Frood: Our college mascot is a great big lovable Saint Bernard. He loves everyone—except me. In fact, he has bitten me viciously eight times. What can I do to get him to like me?

Frustrated Dog Lover

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Mother him. To carry this off, I suggest you wear a raccoon coat, let your hair and eyebrows grow shaggy and learn to whimper affectionately.

Dear Dr. Frood: Most of my life here is extracurricular. I carry the drum for the band, pull the curtain for the drama society, wax the court for the basketball team, scrape the ice for the hockey team, clap erasers for the faculty club and shovel snow for the fraternity houses. Do you think these activities will really help me when I get out of college?

Eager

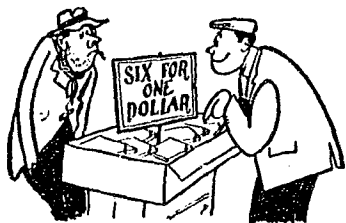

DEAR EAGER: I don't think the college will let you out.

Dear Dr. Frood: On New Year's Eve I foolishly resolved to be more generous with my Luckies. My friends have held me to this, and I've been forced to give away several packs a day. What do you think would happen if I broke this resolution?

Resolute

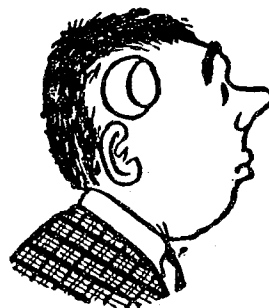

DEAR RESOLUTE: It's hard to tell, really. Lightning, a runaway horse, a tornado—who knows?

Dear Dr. Frood: Before vacation, my girl and I agreed to exchange Christmas presents. I sent her a nice hanky. You can imagine how I felt when I awoke Christmas morning to find a sports car from her. What can I do now?

Distraught

DEAR DISTRAUGHT: Remind her that Easter giving time is just around the corner.

Dear Dr. Frood: Can you help me convince my girl that I'm not as stupid as she thinks I am?

Anxious

DEAR ANXIOUS: Perhaps, but you'll have to convince me first.

TO GET A QUICK LIFT, suggests Frood, step into an elevator and light up a Lucky. Instantly, your spirits will rise. When you savor your Lucky, you're IN—for college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. They're a wisened-up bunch who've known all along that Luckies taste great. Get the cigarettes with the toasted taste—get Luckies.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!
