

Dilts Addresses Faculty On Religious Expression

Religion in the broad sense goes beyond a belief in God according to Miss Genevieve M. Dilts, associate director of the University Christian Association.

Miss Dilts spoke on the "Expressions of Religious Concerns by students" at the Faculty Luncheon Club Monday. She defined religion as "the central loyalty and ultimate concern a person expresses in attitude and action."

The way a person expresses his religious beliefs indicates his concerns and enthusiasms, she continued. The students on campus show a great deal of initiative in conducting projects dealing with moral and religious issues, Miss Dilts said.

She cited the Direct Action for Racial Equality organization's projects to eliminate discrimination as an example of such enthusiasms. Without help from the University DARE went ahead with its expression of concern over racial discrimination, she said.

In collecting the information used in her talk, Miss Dilts said she revived the arts of "rubber-ing" or eavesdropping. She spoke with students and religious leaders on campus, attended religious conferences and read magazine articles in compiling her data.

She asked her listeners to decide for themselves about the religious concerns of students by also practicing the art of rubbering.

Simmons Wins WRA Title

Simmons I won the championship of the Women's Recreation Association's ping-pong tournament Saturday at White Hall. It also won the doubles championship, and the team from Cross-Ewing Halls won the singles match.

Noted Soprano To Sing Friday

Hazel Dixon, soprano and pupil of noted Pittsburgh soprano Alice Long Walker, will be featured in a concert at 8 p.m. Friday in the main lounge of the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Chapel.

Mrs. Dixon's concert is being sponsored by the Alliance Francaise, an international organization formed to further interest in France and French culture.

The program will include a group of songs by Debussy, Faure and Bochelet and a second group by Brahms, Puccini, Tagore-Carpenter, Mussorgsky and Mozart. An informal discussion will also be held on French music.

There is no word in the Hawaiian language for weather.

4 Coeds to Sing At Choral Festival

The Penn State Women's Chorus is being represented this weekend in the Pennsylvania Collegiate Choral Festival by the following singers: Janet Goodman, first soprano; Judith Bogar, second soprano; Loretta Aynardi and Lenore De Ronso, first altos.

The festival is being held at Indiana State College, Indiana, Pa. Dr. Ifor Jones, director of the Bethlehem Bach Choir, and conductor from Peabody Conservatory, is the guest conductor.

Town Concert Set

The State College Choral Society will present Bach's "B Minor Mass," with Raymond Brown, associate professor of music, conducting.

The concert will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the State College High School auditorium. The concert is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

The chorus of 100 men and women will be accompanied by full orchestra with guest instrumentalists from other bands and schools.

THE DEAN YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Now in the waning days of the school year when the hardest heart grows mellow and the very air is charged with memories, let us pause for a moment and pay tribute to that overworked and underappreciated campus figure, your friend and mine, the dean of students.

Policeman and confessor, shepherd and seer, warden and oracle, proconsul and pal, the dean of students is by far the most enigmatic of all academicians. How can we understand him? Well sir, perhaps the best way is to take an average day in the life of an average dean. Here, for example, is what happened last Thursday to Dean Killjoy N. Dampfer of Duluth A and M.

At 6 a.m. he woke, dressed, lit a Marlboro, and went up on the roof of his house to remove the statue of the Founder which had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 7 a.m. he lit a Marlboro and walked briskly to the campus. (The Dean had not been driving his car since it had been placed on the roof of the girls dormitory by high-spirited undergraduates.)

she was placed there by high-spirited undergraduates

At 7:45 a.m. he arrived on campus, lit a Marlboro, and climbed the bell tower to remove his secretary who had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 8 a.m. he reached his office, lit a Marlboro, and met with Derther Sigafos, editor of the student newspaper. Young Sigafos had been writing a series of editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When his editorials had evoked no response, he had taken matters into his own hands. Accompanied by his sports editor and two copy readers, he had gone over the border and conquered Manitoba. With great patience and several excellent Marlboro Cigarettes, the Dean persuaded young Sigafos to give Manitoba back. Young Sigafos, however, insisted on keeping Winnipeg.

At 9 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with Erwin J. Bender, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, who came to report that the Deke house had been put on top of the Sigma Chi house during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 10 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and went to umpire an intramural softball game on the roof of the law school where the campus baseball diamond had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 12 noon the Dean had a luncheon meeting with the president of the university, the bursar, the registrar, and the chairman of the English department at the bottom of the campus swimming pool where the faculty dining room had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates. Marlboros were passed after lunch, but not lit owing to the dampness.

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian minister of war who said that unless young Sigafos gave back Winnipeg, Canada would march. Young Sigafos was summoned and agreed to give back Winnipeg if he could have Saskatoon. The Canadian minister of war at first refused, but finally agreed after young Sigafos placed him on the roof of the mining and metallurgy building.

At 3 p.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with a delegation from the student council who came to present him with a set of matched luggage in honor of his fifty years' service as dean of students. The Dean promptly packed the luggage with his clothing and Marlboros and fled to Utica, New York, where he is now in the aluminum siding game.

To the dean of students and all you other hard-working academic types, here's the new word in smoking pleasure from the makers of Marlboro—king-size unfiltered Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!
