

Records Expected to Fall At Quantico Relays Meet

Penn State opens its outdoor track season today at the Quantico Relays and if pre-meet forecasts are correct, most meet records are in danger of being annihilated.

The field is headed by a half dozen Olympians and Manhattan's two-mile relay quartet. The Jaspers set a new world record in indoor competition this year.

The meet begins at 11 a.m. with the discus throw the first event. Action will continue tomorrow, when most of the relays will be run.

Lion Coach Chick Werner rates the discus, javelin, 100-yard dash, two-mile relay and distance medley as the events in which State is likely to do well.

The Lion mentor said that before Gerry Norman injured his leg, State had a good chance to win a medal in the four-mile relay.

Mike Miller, who ran a 4:19 mile at Quantico last year, will replace Norman. Herm Weber, Howie Deardorff and Steve Moorhead round out the quartet.

Jon Musser, a three-year veteran, will compete in the discus and Musser and Jim Schwab will team up in the javelin. Schwab set the Penn State record in this event with a throw of 223-11½ in 1959.

Bob Brown is a threat to win the 100 and Don Davies, George Metzgar, Weber and Moorhead give State a solid entry in the distance medley. State holds the meet record (9:53.8) for this event.

Metzgar and Davies, both quartermilers, have been running well this spring. Metzgar recorded a 48.4 and Davies a 49.1 in time trials last week.

Bob Grantham, a versatile junior, will compete in three events — the broad jump, 120 high hurdles and the hop, step and jump.

Dale Peters, Ron Beard and Ciro Risoldi are entered in the pole vault with Weber and Lionel Bassett slated for action in the steeplechase.

Brown, Miller, Moorhead and either Davies or Metzgar will comprise the Lion mile relay quartet.

Golf Team Plays Terps In Opener

If the weatherman permits, the Penn State golf team will open its season at Maryland today.

The Lions lost 14½-6½ to the Terps in last year's opener. Deane Beman, former British and U.S. Amateur Champion is gone from the Terp squad, but four lettermen return from last year's team which compiled an 11-2 record.

Maryland already has won two matches this year. Sophomore Ron Scales led the Terps to a 25½-10½ victory over Princeton by shooting a one under par 71.

Maryland romped over MIT 29½-½ with Paul Quinn firing a par 72.

State coach Joe Boyle described the Terps as being "very tough." The Lion lineup will definitely include John Morton, Bob Rutherford, Bob Swahn, and Tom Balling. Boyle has not announced the other three positions.

The linksmen travel to Annapolis tomorrow to meet ECAC champion Navy.
