

Norman Will Return To Lineup Saturday

By JIM KARL

Gerry Norman, Penn State's leading distance runner, will return to the lineup against Navy at Beaver Field Saturday after sitting out the Quantico Relays with a nine-inch spike wound.

Last Saturday Norman had the final four stitches removed from the gash he received in an exhibition match at Ft. Lee, Va., over the Easter vacation. He's been working out with the team this week in preparation for Navy.

The English-bred runner said he was in fair shape, "but not the way I'd like to be." Fair shape or not, Norman's return couldn't have come at a better time.

Navy is undefeated in two triangular meets so far, beating Pitt and Georgetown two weeks ago and Quantico and Morgan State last week.

The Middies boast one of the top shot-put trios in the nation (three men over 50 feet) plus a crew of good hurdlers.

State, on the other hand, is weak in the hurdles and even weaker in the shot-put.

Last year Navy stopped Penn State's 10-meet winning streak with a 68½-62½ victory at Annapolis.

The Lions won most of the running events but Navy swept all three places in five events — shot-put, broad jump, pole

Injured List Takes Toll Of Big Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The baseball season is only 10 days old but the injury jinx already has sent big names like Duke Snider, Harmon Killebrew and Charley Neal to the sidelines.

Snider was put out of action for a month or so when he was struck by a pitch Monday night and suffered a cracked bone above his right elbow. The fact that Snider was hit by the first pitch of his next at bat after hitting a home run prompted the Los Angeles brass to complain to league headquarters.

Neal, also of the Dodgers, also was put out of action in Monday's game when he aggravated an old knee injury.

Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins pulled a hamstring muscle in his left thigh while running to first base in a game last Saturday.

Don Lee, who figured to be one of the Twins' starting pitchers, suffered a broken finger on his right hand when hit by a line drive in an exhibition game. He still is out of action.

Boston has been struggling along without Frank Malzone at third base. Malzone's right foot was injured before the season opener.

Cleveland has Dick Stigman on the disabled list and Baltimore's Hank Foiles is just coming around after a finger was broken in spring training.

Hot Terp Netmen Down Nittanies, 7-1

Special to the Collegian
College Park, Md., April 19

—Penn State ran into a hot Maryland tennis squad on a cold and windy day here this afternoon and ended up on the short end of a 7-1 score.

The Lions, who didn't come close to victory in two previous attempts this season, didn't change their script today.

Again, State could manage only one victory out of six singles matches. Two doubles victories for the Terps completed the scoring. The third doubles match was cancelled due to the poor weather conditions.

Whit Gray saved the netters from a shutout. The improving junior, playing in the number five position, defeated Bob Myers, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2.

In a mild upset, Captain John Blanck, the only Lion to win a singles match in the two previous defeats, lost to Chuck Shapiro, 6-3, 6-3.

Blanck's baseline attack, successful in his first two matches, failed to rattle the Maryland veteran.

Jim Baker, State's number one man, lost his third straight match, 6-2, 6-4. The erratic Baker was completely befuddled by the southpaw attack of John Nogrady.

Bruce Derman, playing in the number six spot, was the only Lion loser to extend his opponent to three sets. Derman dropped the final two sets, 6-3, 6-3 to Bill Staliulates after taking the first set, 6-4.

In the two remaining singles encounters, Vance Rea was defeated by Paul Capazello, 6-3, 6-3, and Don Benner dropped a 6-2, 6-2 decision to Jim Federice.

Penn State will meet arch-rival Pitt in a home meet Saturday.

Sophomores Help Bolster Nittany Baseball Hopes

By JOHN MORRIS

This is supposed to be a rebuilding year for the Penn State baseball team, and if his sophomores keep up their present pace Joe Bedenk will be considered quite an architect.

Bedenk has eight returning lettermen, but half of his veterans are pitchers — the Nittanies' strong point.

"We've got some holes to fill," Bedenk said before the 3-2 win over Gettysburg in the opener, "and some of our kids will have to come through."

One of Bedenk's main worries was supposed to be finding someone to fill All-American Larry Fegley's shoes at second base.

But Bart Brodtkin has come through so far and is fast becoming a fixture at the keystone sack.

"He gets better every day," Bedenk said, "and he's a fighter who won't give an inch."

"Bronco," as Bedenk calls him, has been the Lions' leadoff man in both games this season. He has three hits in seven official trips.

First base was expected to be another trouble spot.

Sophomore Bob Rodenhaver has started both games at first, and Bedenk gives him a chance to develop into a top-notch first sacker.

"He's a good gloveman," Bedenk said, "and his hitting will improve."

Tom Shaffer also saw action at first base in both games, turning in creditable performances.

Shaffer is listed as a pitcher on the roster and splits his practice time between the mound and first.

Two other sophomores bolster the already strong mound corps.

Bob Fenton, a left hander built along the lines of Ed Kikila, could see a lot of action this season.

Fenton pitched one inning in relief against Villanova, giving up an unearned run.

Pitching Coach Chuck Medlar predicts a good future for the bespectacled sophomore.

"He has come along real well for us," Medlar said. "He could help us a lot."

Ed Gieguez, a lanky righthander, is another promising pitching prospect.

But with the overflow talent on the pitching staff, he probably won't see much action this year.
