

Disciplinary Action

Student Dismissed, 3 Others Suspended

One student was dismissed and three others suspended from the University recently for theft, according to Leroy S. Austin, associate dean of men. The action was taken by the Senate Sub-Committee on Discipline, he said.

The student who was dismissed, a junior in education, was caught taking goods from local stores, Austin said.

Colwell Gets 'Prof Snarf' Title, Gifts

"Best Liked Professor" was the notation on the trophy presented to "Prof Snarf" Dr. Richard Colwell, associate professor of accounting.

A total of $221.84 was collected during the two week campaign which ended at 5 p.m. last Friday. The proceeds will be used by World University Service for educational, building, medical and technical aid to foreign students. In past years much of the money has gone to Africa and Algeria.

Janet Goodman, chairman of the contest sponsored by WUS, presented the trophy and gifts donated by local merchants to Colwell Sunday evening at the awards program in the Hetzel Union.

"This is just like Christmas," Colwell said as he opened the gifts. "I want to thank the students who voted for me and the merchants for all these gifts."

Colwell mentioned that although he didn't know it, men in the graphic arts department had made campaign posters and flashed them on the television screen between classes in Boucke.

Among the gifts he received were free restaurant meals, candy, a nebbish figure, a tie and belt set and stationery. Several gifts were for his wife.

A freshman in engineering was suspended for the remainder of the semester after he was caught with a bicycle which did not belong to him, Austin said. The student admitted taking the bicycle.

In a similar case, a sophomore in liberal arts, was suspended until the winter term of 1962 for taking a bicycle. The student was given a more severe penalty because he used physical force in resisting apprehension, Austin said.

A sophomore in business administration, caught shoplifting in a downtown store, was suspended until the winter term of 1962, Austin said. The student was on disciplinary probation at the time of the incident.

The sub-committee placed two other students on suspended suspension for the remainder of the semester. Suspended suspension is a penalty placed on a student who will be suspended from the University immediately if he continued his misconduct.

One of them, a senior in agriculture, was given the penalty for entertaining women in his down-

AWS to Take Coed Survey

A survey to determine what coeds want in the way of activities, counseling and rules and regulations will be taken by the Association of Women Students, according to Margaret McPherson, outgoing president.

At a recent meeting, AWS Senate decided that a lack of effective communications was the reason for the "unsuccessfulness" of AWS this year. The survey was decided upon to further communications between students and the organization.

Richard Haber, president of SGA and James Ettlison, chairman of the Supreme Court spoke at the meeting.

University Readers to Sponsor Annual Intercollegiate Festival

The University Readers will sponsor the Thirteenth Annual Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Reading Festival Thursday and Friday. Twenty-three colleges will attend.

Each college participating will have students reading prose, narrative, poetry and drama. The students may read any selection they wish in one of these categories, but are required to limit the length of the readings to between 8 and 12 minutes.

The festival will be divided into four sections: poetry, prose, drama and multiform. In the latter section students may read selections from any one of the other three fields.

The University Readers entering the festival were chosen at the end of February by members of the Speech Department. They are Mary Louise Papis, Sue Wertz, Helen Jewels, Roy Altman and Peggy Mitchell. The co-chairmen for the event are Mary Louise Papis and Juliet Howells.

Since the festival is not a contest, there will be no judging or rating.

Orientation Applications

Today is the final day for submitting Women's Orientation Counselor applications. Applications should be turned in at the Hetzel Union desk. Women of second semester standing or higher are eligible.
