

Candidates Clarify Campaign Issues

With less than a week left in the student presidential campaign, the three candidates clarified certain issues last night and commented on the success of their campaigns.

A bill which would do away with the present Air Force ROTC program is being studied by the Department of Defense, Duane Alexander, independent candidate for student body president, said last night. The plan to eliminate the compulsory ROTC program is the major plank in Alexander's platform.

Rain, Wind, Hail Strike Wide Area

By JOEL MYERS

Tropical air brought warm and humid weather to Pennsylvania and most of the eastern third of the nation again yesterday.

Showers and thunderstorms, some of which were locally severe, developed in this unstable air yesterday afternoon and evening.

Most of the severe thunderstorms were concentrated in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana and western Pennsylvania. They were attended by hail, frequent lightning, strong winds and heavy rain.

A gust of 80 miles an hour accompanied a severe thunderstorm near Cincinnati, Ohio, and baseball size hail fell near Commerce, Mo.

Today should be cloudy, windy and cooler with a chance of a few sprinkles of rain this morning. A high temperature of 60 degrees is likely.

Partly cloudy and cooler weather is predicted for tonight and a low temperature of 40 degrees is expected.

Tomorrow should be partly cloudy and pleasantly cool. The high temperature will be near 58 degrees.

Alexander said that he received a telephone call from Richard Lankford, Democratic congressman from Maryland, informing him of the present disposition of the bill.

As presently written, Alexander said, the bill would eliminate the basic two-year program and in its place provide an officer education program for juniors and seniors.

A $2,200 scholarship would be given those men selected for the program, Alexander said.

Alexander also announced that Joseph Wells, sophomore in the division of counseling from Pittsburgh, was appointed his campaign manager.

Robert Harrison, University party candidate for student body president, said that contrary to a report in yesterday's Daily Collegian, he was not in favor of the University joining the National Student Association.

Rather, he emphasized, he was proposing that the University align itself with a group of schools similar to the University in order to exchange ideas and experience.

Dennis Foianini, Campus party nominee for president of the student body, said that he has been "pleasantly surprised" by the amount of enthusiasm he has received in his campaigning.

Foianini said that he was disturbed about the malice that was brought into the campaign by the letters to the editor in yesterday's Daily Collegian.

New GI Bill May Benefit Veterans

A cold war GI bill, which would provide readjustment assistance for post Korean veterans, is now pending in the Senate, according to Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., chairman of the Senate Subcommittee.

This bill would affect students who have performed more than six months' active duty in the Armed Forces between Jan. 31, 1953, and July 1, 1963, he continued.

The bill, which is now before Yarborough's committee, is similar to one passed by the Senate during the last session of Congress but which the House failed to act upon before it adjourned.

A veteran would receive 1 1/2 days' education or training for each day on active duty, but the period of education or training could not exceed 36 months, he added.

The bill would provide the veteran with a monthly allowance scaled according to the number of his dependents. From this he would be responsible for paying for his subsistence, tuition, fees and supplies, Yarborough said.

He said that provisions in the bill require the veteran to begin his training within three years of discharge, or from the date the bill is enacted into law.

Final Statistics on Bookstore To Be Submitted to Trustees

The final report on the need for a bookstore will be submitted to the Board of Trustees at either their June or July meeting, according to Albert E. Diem.

Diem, vice president for business administration, said yesterday that his part of the report on the financial and operational costs of a bookstore will involve "considerable study."

Because of this, he said, it is not definite whether the report will be prepared in time for the June date.

Before he can begin working on the information needed, the SGA Bookstore Committee must meet to make recommendations on the establishment of a bookstore, Diem said.

Results of the survey on student problems in obtaining textbooks and on their needs and wants in a bookstore were announced yesterday by Phil Steinhauer, SGA committee chairman.

Steinhauer also announced that reports on bookstores on other campuses had been completed.

The fourth part of the report on finances, which will be done by Diem, must be completed before the final report can be submitted to the Board.

Steinhauer said Monday that his committee will meet within the next two weeks to make its recommendations.

After the recommendations are made, requirements on what University students desire in a bookstore will have to be set up, Diem said. An inventory will then be taken on these requirements and research on expenses will begin, he said.
