

Panhel Views Plans For Rush Periods

The Panhellenic Council heard two new rush proposals last night which differ primarily on whether concentrated rush should be held at the end of the fall term when no classes are in session or during the first part of the winter term.

This makes a total of three proposals being considered by the council.

The first proposal presented by Janet Carlisle, rush chairman, was very similar to the one presented to the council at the last meeting.

Both of these proposals call for the concentration of rush at the end of the fall term with sorority women and rushees paying special room and board fees to remain on campus during the rushing period.

The proposal presented last night calls for only one round of chatter dates while the proposal presented at the last meeting calls for two rounds and an extra day on campus. The fee for room and board would be $13 with the additional day and $10 without it.

The third proposal asks for the concentration of rush during the beginning of the winter term and provides for two rounds of chatter dates.

All proposals allow for fireside talks on Oct. 1 and 2, registration on Oct. 23 and open houses on Nov. 4, 5, 11 and 12.

Some objections to holding rush when the University is not operating are that the additional fees might reduce the number of rushees and also be a burden to sorority women participating.

The problem of transportation was also voiced since those participating in rush would probably be unable to get rides home for vacation and would have to use public transportation.

Some objections against concentrating rush in the beginning of the winter term were that it would be detrimental to grades and would extend rushing over too long a period since it would begin with registration on Oct. 23 and end with ribboning on Jan. 12.

public funds which are controlled by the state legislature as its main source of support.

•The University itself is only as free as the holders of the "purse strings" permit them to be.

•Since we are students, we must search and be innovators, we must find out what is going on—take action and wake up the public.

Others participating in the "Harrisburg Caravan" are Dawn Hall, Jeanne Arnold, Marjorie Miller, Janet Rubenstein, Linda Jagels, Anna May Hannas, Pamela Randall, Elaine Waxman, Nancy Rassier, Barbara Suter, Diane Root, Mary Davies and Wendy Johnson.

Any students interested in the trip may contact these girls, Miss Epstein said.
