

FIRST SIGNS of Spring Week were the displays the different groups placed in the downtown stores. Tau Kappa Epsilon and Delta Delta Delta have one entitled "The Hatfields and McCoys."

DESTROYING CAMPUS PROPERTY? Although it appears as such, this is only one of the many gadgets fraternities and sororities used to advertise their floats. The arrows belong to Sigma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Gamma Rho.

Spring Week 1961

Photo Feature by
Collegian Photo Staff

WESTWARD HO, or at least as far as the intramural field. The "Spring Week or Bust" sign on the HUB balcony is just one of many signs which advertised Spring Week.

"HIS MASTER'S VOICE" is just in the beginning stages as four members of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity move part of their float in place. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority also worked on this project.

THEN THE RAINS CAME and all the groups hurriedly covered their floats to protect them. "His Master's Voice" was well protected during the downpour.