

SGA Elections to Begin Today

Polls to Be Operated In Three Locations

By ANN PALMER

The election of All-University officers and senior class president for 1961-62 will begin today and continue through tomorrow and Thursday.

Polls will be located in Boucke, Willard and Hammond lobbies from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on the ground floor of the Hetzel Union Building from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Robert Dufner, Elections Commission chairman announced yesterday.

All first through eighth semester students are eligible to vote for All-University officers; sixth and seventh semester students may vote for senior class president and eighth semester students may vote to name "out-standing seniors."

Students are not required to be affiliated with a political party to vote but must present their matriculation card to obtain a ballot.

A revised election procedure will be used for this election in which every ballot cast will be numbered and both the voter's name and his ballot number will be recorded on a registration sheet at the time of balloting.

A receipt will be attached to every ballot displaying the same number as is shown on the main ballot. These should be kept by voters for their own protection, Dufner said.

Campaigning by party members and candidates will be prohibited within a 50-foot radius of the polls. Only Elections Commission members and those voting will be permitted in this area.

The Willard poll will be turned into a "floating" poll from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 to 3 p.m. each day, weather permitting. During these hours the voting booth will be moved (floated) from the Willard lobby into a chained-off area in front of the building.

Dufner said yesterday that he does not anticipate any problems with students crowding around this poll.

"If any such problems arise, we will move the poll back into the lobby of Willard," he said.

Dufner presented the above election procedure to the SGA Assembly last Thursday night at which time it was recommended that polls be set up in the seven dining areas.

He restated his reasons last night for not incorporating this recommendation into his final elections procedure.

"We would have supervision problems under such a system. There would be many polls and not enough Commission members to operate them efficiently," he said.

"Also, if we did have polls oper- (Continued on page eight)

Awards Night Will Climax Spring Week

Miss Penn State will be crowned tonight as part of the annual Spring Week Awards Night ceremonies. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the skating pavilion.

Competing for the queen title are Marianne Ellis, sponsored by Delta Delta Delta and Tau Kappa Epsilon; Diane Lindell, Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Sigma Phi; Gloria Barton, Lyons Hall; Nancy Williams, Kappa Delta and Phi Delta Theta; and Marjorie Gantor, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Alpha Sigma Phi.

The judges in the contest are William G. Mather, head of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology; Ben Euwema, dean of the College of Liberal Arts; Robert S. Brubaker, associate professor of speech science; Mrs. Charles T. Aikens, III, and Mr. and Mrs. John Truby of State College.

In addition the overall Spring Week trophy will be awarded along with the carnival and float parade trophies. He-Man and Queen of Hearts will also be named.

Dr. Laurence Laitman, assistant professor of geomorphology, will be master of ceremonies, and will interview the five finalists for the Miss Penn State title.

Quartets from Delta Delta Delta sorority and Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity will sing. Frieda Lee, campus jazz singer, will also entertain.

No tickets are needed to attend the Awards Night ceremonies.

La Critique to Go on Sale

La Critique, campus commentary magazine, will go on sale today on the ground floor of the Hetzel Union and at the Nittany News.

VOTE TODAY—Pictured above are the ballots being used in the SGA elections which start today. Procedure for filling out ballots is as follows. A person wishing to vote straight party ticket should check the block in front of the party name at the top of the ballot. If he votes straight party ticket there should be no other checks on the ballot other than the one in the block before the party name.

Persons who do not wish to vote for all the candidates running on the same party should check the block before the candidate they want for each office. There can be only one block checked for each office if the voter splits his ticket.

Schuman to Appear Tonight at Schwab

Student and non-student tickets are still available at the Hetzel Union desk for the University Symphony Orchestra concert featuring Henry Schuman as oboe soloist.

The concert, sponsored by the University Artists Series, will be presented at 8:30 tonight in Schwab.

Schuman has toured in Europe as soloist and principal oboist of the Piccola Accademia Musicale, an Italian chamber orchestra. Under the auspices of the U.S. Army, he has toured as the first oboist and assistant conductor of a symphony orchestra.

As a soloist, Schuman has performed at the New York Clarion Concerts, at the Castle Hill Festival in Ipswich, Mass., and nationally with the Camera Concerti, a chamber orchestra that appeared at the University in the 1959-60 Artists Series. He has been a member of the Puerto Rico Symphony, playing under Pablo Casals.

Schuman attended the Juilliard School of Music to study oboe with Harold Gomber and conducting with Jean Morel.

Cold Weather To Continue

Today should be mostly cloudy, breezy and cooler, and a high temperature of 52 degrees is expected.

A killing frost is predicted for tonight as clearing skies and diminishing winds combine to produce rapid cooling.

Minimum temperatures are expected to range from 20 degrees in the well exposed areas around State College to about 32 degrees on campus.

Partly cloudy and pleasantly cool weather is indicated for tomorrow.

TIM to Sponsor Movie Today

"The Alphabet Conspiracy," a story movie of the how and why of sounds, words and languages, will be shown by the Town Independent Men at 12 noon and 6 p.m. today in the Hetzel Union Assembly Hall.

Protesters Called 'Uninformed'

The protest by a small group of students during the Civil Defense Alert Friday indicated they were completely uninformed as to origin and operation of Civil Defense, State College Burgess Roy D. Anthony said.

Civil defense goes into action, Anthony explained, when a responsible head of government declares that a disaster situation exists or an emergency is present which may result in disaster.

Federal and state laws have been passed requiring the citizen to respect such official orders when Civil Defense is operating, he said. Failure to do so, if convicted, could result in a fine or imprisonment, he added.

Borough sources did not in-dicade, however, the specific law that had been broken.

The protesters maintain that there is no federal or state law which forces people to get off the streets unless a national emergency has been declared. The group made a telephone call to the American Civil Liberties Union, an organization of lawyers dedicated to the protection of the civil liberties of individuals, which provided this information, Richard Helffrich, group spokesman said. The call was made the day before the protest, he added.

Arlene Shupak, one of the demonstrators, said that the Union expressed a desire to remain informed on any action taken against the students. They are interested in knowing if the academic freedom of the students is infringed upon, she said.

"The protest against Civil Defense is only one action we will take in order to show the people that "our only defense is peace," Miss Shupak added. She said that the State College Police and the Civil Defense authorities were notified of the protest before it took place.

The protesters are in the process of forming an organization and defining their goals, Miss Shupak said.

No action has been taken by the borough or the University against the protesters. Both Dean of Women Dorothy J. Lipp and Dean of Men Frank J. Simes said that no action will be taken by the University until they see what the borough is planning to do. The borough is investigating the protest, according to Anthony, and has not decided on any plan of action yet.
