

Schwab, Beard Make Comebacks for Thinclads

Two years ago Jim Schwab set a new Penn State record by tossing the javelin 223-11 1/2 and Ron Beard came within four inches of tying Oggie Norris' mark of 14 feet in the pole vault.

Since Schwab and Beard were sophomores, Coach Chick Werner appeared well set in both the pole vault and javelin for the next two years.

But last year was a different story.

Schwab's best throw was eight feet less than his record-breaking effort the year before and Beard skipped competition to concentrate on his studies.

Now Schwab is flashing his old form again and Beard is back to challenge Norris' record.

After disappointing tosses in State's first two meets, Schwab heaved the 1 1/2-pound spear 223-4 at the Penn Relays last week, only seven inches off his record.

Beard proved that the year lay-off didn't bother him by tying for fifth at the Quantico Relays April 15 with a jump of 13-6.

He tied for third against Navy by clearing 12-7 and last week tied for second at the Penn Relays with a leap of 13 feet.

Last year Schwab threw 216 in his first outdoor appearance at Quantico, and it appeared he was set for another record-breaking campaign.

But that first meet turned out to be his best showing of the year. "My form was bad last year," the 6-3, 208-pound senior said, (Continued on page eight)

Moe Suspended For Not Telling Of Bribe Offer

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Doug Moe, star basketball player at the University of North Carolina, was indefinitely suspended from school yesterday for failing to report bribe offers in the current basketball scandal.

Moe, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was suspended by Chancellor William B. Aycock for not reporting that he had accepted $75 last September from a New York gambler now under indictment in the nation's latest basketball point-shaving scandal.

Gross Captures Badminton Title

Every so often an athlete comes along to dominate a particular phase of Penn State's intramural sports world.

Delta Upsilon's Ben Amato did it in track and Gene Flick of Tau Kappa Epsilon did it in handball.

Now you can add the name of Phi Epsilon Pi's Bob Gross to the list of IM sports czars. Gross became the first man in IM history to win the badminton championship three consecutive years at Rec Hall last night.

He beat Stu Bischoff of Beta Theta Pi, 15-0, 15-13, for his third title. Bischoff came back in the second match after being blanked in the opener, but Gross had too many shots in his repertoire.

"It's like anything else," Gross said when asked to account for his perfection in badminton. "It takes work along with a certain amount of skill."

Gross' reign as badminton champ dates back to 1959 when he defeated Sam Phaungphakdi of Pi Lambda Phi for his first title.

Gross beat fraternity brother Dave Burstin last year for his second championship.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

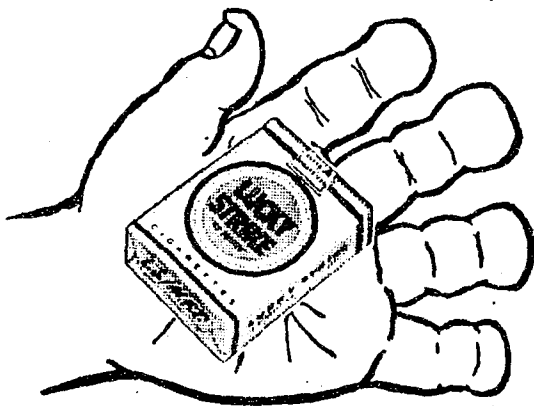

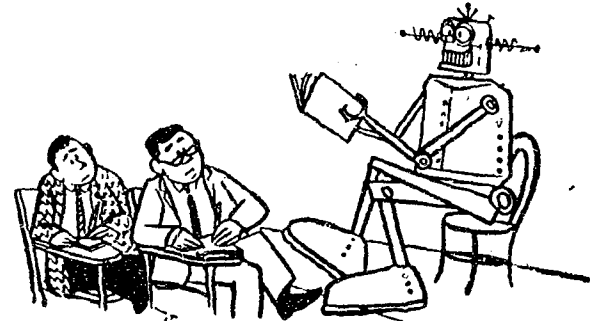

DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: BEWARE OF SUBLIMINAL ADVERTISING!
LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been reading a great deal about automated teaching devices. How long will it be before they come up with machines to replace professors?

Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: Just as soon as they get one that can rap the knuckles of a sleeping student, give humiliating answers to foolish questions and spring surprise tests whenever it happens to be in a bad mood.

Dear Dr. Frood: My problem is fat, stubby fingers. As a result, I am exceedingly awkward with my hands. My manual dexterity is so poor, in fact, that I can't even get a Lucky pack open. What can I do?

Fingers

DEAR FINGERS: Simply strap ordinary sewing needles along both of your index fingers. Now cup the Lucky pack in your hands, grasp the little red tab in your teeth, and yank. Next, place the pack on a flat surface and secure it between two unabridged dictionaries. Then, with the right-hand needle, carefully, carefully carve a one-inch-square opening at the top right-hand corner. Finally, place the points of the needles firmly against the sides of a Lucky and lift. That's all there is to it. A word of warning though: Try to be careful when shaking hands.

THE HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL, says Dr. Frood. Or, more exactly, on the blackboard. It's appearing on college blackboards everywhere: "College students smoke more Luckies than any other regular." Why is this statement showing up on college blackboards? Because I am paying agents to put it there. For you must remember that Luckies are the cigarette with taste—the emphatic toasted taste. Try a pack of Luckies today.

Dear Dr. Frood: In the four years I've been at this college I've done some pretty horrible things. I am guilty, for instance, of [redacted] into and around the home of Professor [redacted]. I'm also ashamed of [redacted] the Board of Regents, and completely [redacted] the campus policeman's [redacted]. But the worst thing I did was [redacted] after hiding all night in the [redacted]. Can't, in good conscience, even accept a diploma from dear old [redacted]?

DEAR [redacted]: You can if you send $500 in unmarked bills to Dr. Frood, Box 2990, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y. If you don't, I'll print your letter without the little black lines.

Dear Dr. Frood: Don't you think it's wrong for a boy and girl to marry while they're still in school?

Soc. Major

DEAR SOC.: Yes, they should at least wait until recess.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!
