

Walker to Hear Report Concerning Peace Corps

A report will be submitted to President Eric A. Walker May 15 by the University Senate Peace Corps Committee, according to Robert K. Murray, chairman.

Murray said the report will list recommendations on the areas in which the University will be able to train Peace Corps personnel and suggestions on a possible University training program in public service.

Jr's, 'Leaders' Meet to Discuss Orientation Plans

The role of the orientation leaders and junior residents next fall was the topic of discussion at a workshop held Sunday for next year's orientation counselors.

Opening the discussion, Ruth Rilling, president-elect of the Association of Women Students, explained the orientation program in terms of AWS structure.

Miss Rilling said that the junior resident is the primary link between the coed and AWS. One of the main goals of AWS next year, she said, will be to provide a favorable environment for creative pursuits.

Addressing the group, Dean of Women Dorothy J. Lipp said the purposes of orientation are threefold. They are to establish a "climate of existence" for new students, to provide "growth experience" for the leader, and to help women to understand why they are in college and what they should be doing here.

The main job of the junior resident in next year's program will be to orient freshmen to residence hall living, she said. On the other hand, the orientation leader's function will be to inform the freshmen about academics, activities and general campus life, she said.

Patricia Dyer, chairman of AWS Judicial, also spoke at the workshop. She discussed the structure of the Judicial Board, and said that its goal is to allow coeds to have as much freedom as possible without disturbing others.

The University now has no special requirements for a Peace Corps program and has made no contracts with the Peace Corps to train personnel for projects already in existence, Murray said.

After the report has been submitted, he said, it will be "up to President Walker to release the contents and take further action on implementing a Peace Corps training program or a public service curriculum. Further decisions will not be made until that time," he said.

Murray explained that there is no one procedure being used to train Peace Corps personnel. He listed the following ways that are presently being employed by the Corps in preparing volunteers:

● Qualified personnel may be sent to a country which has asked for aid in a specific field.

● Volunteers may be trained by having them live in a country in which conditions exist similar to the ones they will eventually encounter.

● Institutions in a foreign country may adopt an exchange program with an American university similar to the student exchange program.

● A University may submit to the Peace Corps a list of areas in which it feels qualified to train personnel.

The last alternative is probably the action that will be taken by the University after Walker receives the report, Murray said.

Citing examples of these methods which already have been employed, Murray said that trained surveyors have been sent to Tanganyika and Peace Corps personnel are living in Puerto Rico in preparation for future assignments.

Parties Plan To Adjust To 4 Terms

All three political parties have announced plans for the coming year's adjustment to the 4 term system and proposed SGA reorganization.

University party's position will be one of "loyal opposition" to the SGA executive since Campus party has won control of this branch, Michael Dzvovnik, party chairman, said yesterday. He added that next fall they will try to elect the three remaining class presidents and whatever Assembly representatives provided for through reorganization.

A general meeting for all University party members will be held within the next two weeks to elect a new chairman. Dzvovnik said. He said his term as chairman was planned to expire after spring elections.

Liberal party also plans to hold an open party meeting, scheduled for May 21, Dale Harris, party chairman, said. Ward officers from living areas will be selected at this meeting, she said, since SGA reorganization plans provide for election of Assembly representatives from living areas.

Liberal party also plans to give increased publicity to the "Back the Budget" campaign during Mother's Day Weekend to bring it to the attention of the visiting parents, Miss Harris said.

She added that the party will place a suggestion box in the Hetzel Union Building so that students may work through Liberal party in taking action on problems which arise.

Campus party, which swept the Spring elections, plans to expand its operations to function on a year-round basis, according to Chairman Dennis Eisman.

No definite plans have been made for operation this summer, but the party will have definite plans for future summer terms, he said.

Committees will be set up to investigate student problems so that Campus party Assembly members can introduce legislation, Eisman said.

In addition, a party newspaper will be published to express party views, he said. The paper will probably appear every two weeks, he said.

Bernreuter Pleased With Voting Turnout

Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, special assistant to the president for student affairs, said yesterday that he was gratified by the increase in voting in last week's student government elections.

"I hope it means a continued revival of interest on the part of the students in government," he said.

"I am looking forward to the time when student government will serve a dual purpose of providing for the common needs of the student body and helping to control their behavior," Bernreuter said.

"The recent episodes of very serious thefts, burglaries and marked sexual immoralities indicate to me that the students themselves must accept more responsibility for their own behavior and the behavior of their fellow students," he said.

He said that a degree from the University will not mean as much in the outside world if the reputation of the student body of that institution suffers.

Bernreuter said that there were 12 or more cases of serious student misconduct brought to light last week.

He mentioned the case of two students who were suspended for excessive drinking and the case of Thomas Maxwell, a senior in pre-med, who was arrested Sunday on charges of aggravated assault and battery, as evidence of this trend.

"A few years ago a group of girls proposed an honor program to regulate student behavior and they were laughed at," he said. "It is clear to me that they were on the right track," he added.

Bernreuter said that a cooperative effort must be made on the part of students and faculty to emphasize honesty and honorable behavior.

Spring Week, Fines, Provide Scholarship

A "Penn State Student Scholarship" has been established by SGA, according to Richard Haber, student government president.

Funds to cover the cost of the new $150 scholarship will come from parking fines and spring week profits, he said.

To be eligible for this scholarship, Haber said, a student must be enrolled in a regular four-year course of study; must be on campus for at least one academic semester; must have an All-University average of at least 2.5, and have made a contribution to student activities.

The applicant must be able to indicate a need for this aid, Haber said.

An indication of need, Haber said, would be the fact that the student would have to work part-time to continue his education.

Applications for this scholarship are available now in the Student Aid Office, 218 Willard. These applications must be returned by May 15, Haber said.

CLASSIFIEDS—RESULTS
50c BUYS 17 WORDS

Atherton Fashion Show Opens AWS Women's Week Sunday

Women's Week, sponsored by the Association of Women Students, got under way Sunday with a fashion show in Atherton Hall.

The show featured spring and summer clothes from several State College shops modeled by 10 Atherton coeds, according to Sarabeth Marcovitch, Atherton Community Council president.

Today's Women's Week events include a dress-up dinner in the dining areas and "telephone bridge" in the Pollock dorms. The bridge parties will be held from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. in the recreation rooms of the Pollock dorms.

At 4 p.m. the hostesses in each of the dorms will phone in the three highest scores to a central telephone chairman and prizes will be awarded to the winners, according to Marcia Michalski, Pollock Community Council president.

Today through Thursday the community councils will sponsor talks in their respective residence areas. All interested students may attend.

One of the speakers, Lurene Jochem, senior in home economics from Pompton Lakes, N.J., will speak on "Crossroads Africa" at 6:30 tonight in Atherton lounge.

Dorothy J. Lipp, dean of women, will hold a discussion beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the main lounge of the Hetzel Union Building. "Women Students at Penn State" will be her topic.

Lillian Raycroft, lawyer from Bellefonte, will speak on "Women in Professions" at 8 p.m. Thursday in Pollock 1 lounge.

PLAYERS PRESENT
PAINT YOUR WAGON
Starring
Mr. Judson Sanderson, Jr.
May 11, 12, 13 Schwab

STATE NOW
Feat: 1:30, 3:32, 5:27, 7:29, 9:31
THE TRAPP FAMILY
COLOR BY DE LUXE
Wed. - Thurs.
"Inherit The Wind"

Last Day: "Absent Minded Professor"
CATHAUM
● TOMORROW ●
Another REAL GREAT FREE-SWINGING Movie!
ALEC GUINNESS
JOHN MILLS
TUNES OF GLORY
From "What Price Glory" to "Tunes of Glory" . . . the screen has never told this kind of soldier story

Tanitel "Desire Under The Elms"
NITTANY
● Begins TOMORROW ●
Searing from the pages of the Nobel Prize winners!
The Story of Temple Drake . . . and her Creole Lover Candy!
SANCTUARY
Starring Lee REMICK
Yves Montand • Bradford Dillman
In CinemaScope
Definitely NOT For Children

CREDIT STAFF

Short Meeting
WEDNESDAY 7 p.m.
9 Carnegie

If MAY Comes Can June Be Far Behind?
June means graduation to Seniors . . .
June means the home stretch to Juniors . . .
May Is The Time to arrange for ordering your
Official Penn State CLASS RING
for June, for a gay summer, for a happy lifetime.
For Your Official Ring Tailored for the University It's L. G.
Balfour Co.
In The "A" Store
$5.00 Deposit Only

STARLITE DRIVE-IN THEATRE
Show Time 8:30 DST
ELVIS PRESLEY
HAL WALLIS
G.I. BLUES
"WALK LIKE A DRAGON"
Mel Torme & Nobu McCarthy
"Meet the Stars under the Stars at Starlite"