

Lion Coaches Mold Top Distance Stars

By JIM KARL

One of the reasons Penn State's track team will be favored to beat Pitt Saturday is the Lions' depth in the distance events.

And that depth didn't come by chance this year—it's a perennial factor in State's success both indoors and outdoors.

"For some reason we always give our opponents fits in the distance events," Chick Werner said yesterday.

"I can't remember the last time we lost a mile in a dual meet. In fact, I can't remember the last time we failed to place in the mile in the IC4A's."

Ed Moran, one of the best distance runners ever to perform under Werner, thinks that the Lion mentor and his assistant, Norm Gordon, are two of the top distance coaches in the country.

"The coaches here don't overwork you," Moran said. "They know when to work you hard and when to let up."

Werner is internationally known as a distance coach, but he also has developed his share of champions in other events.

"Reputations are made by writers," he said yesterday. "When you have good distance runners you're a distance coach, when you have good broad jumpers you're a broad jump coach, when you have good high jumpers you're a high jump coach."

We've studied methods of outstanding distance coaches all over the world and swapped ideas with them, but we've done the same thing with the pole vault and other events.

Werner attributes sound coaching methods to the success he has enjoyed in developing distance runners.

"Our methods are sound and the boys have confidence in them," he said. "When our boys are told to go all out they go all out."

"Then again sometimes when they'd like to go all out we tell them not to. They've learned to respect and have confidence in our methods because they've proven successful."

Moran is a good example of a runner who wasn't outstanding in high school but developed under the coaching of Werner and Gordon.

Moran's best times in high school were 4:36 in the mile and 2:02 in the half mile. His 4:01.7 as a junior in 1958 still stands as the Penn State record for the

Loi Retains Welter Title By Decision

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Italy's Diulio Loi retained his world junior welterweight championship last night with a 15-round decision over ex-champion Carlos Ortiz, a Puerto Rican-born New Yorker. Loi, winning the rubber match of a three-fight series, weighed 138, Ortiz 136 3/4.

Both judges and the referee, Frank Carter of San Francisco, who officiated at Ortiz' request, voted for the stocky, 32-year-old Italian. The bout was watched by 40,000 fans, who braved a cold wind in the outdoor San Siro Soccer Stadium.

It was the first defense of the championship by Loi, who lifted the title from Ortiz by a split decision here last September.

Loi, who has been rumored ready to retire to concentrate on his restaurant business, won his 105th bout in a 113-fight career that began in 1948. He has lost two and fought six draws.

Ortiz, who won the title when the junior welter crown was reactivated in 1959 after a 13-year lapse, won their first fight on points in San Francisco last June 15. Loi rallied to win the rematch in September in a verdict loudly protested by Ortiz, who blamed Italian officiating and insisted he wanted an American referee if there was to be another bout.

ERNIE NOLL . . . gives Lions depth

Werner has taken high school athletes that other coaches wouldn't touch and made outstanding runners out of them.

The Ashenfelter brothers never ran track in high school but under Werner's tutelage Horace became an Olympic champ in the steeplechase, Bill made the Olympic team and Don developed into a respectable miler.

This year Werner has another strong distance corps. Steve Moorhead, Howie Deardorff and Gerry Norman have bettered 4:15 in the mile this year.

Hinojosa Stars in IM Soccer

By DENNY MOLLURA

Soccer is Argentina's national pastime so it probably was no accident that a native of that country was one of the top scorers last night in IM play.

Eduardo Hinojosa, who came to this country in 1957, booted a goal in each half to lead Delta Chi to a 2-0 win over Triangle.

In other action on Beaver Field, Phi Epsilon Pi bounced Alpha Sigma Phi, 2-0, Sigma Phi Epsilon rallied to defeat Beta Theta Pi, 2-1, Delta Tau Delta beat Phi Gamma Delta, 1-0, Alpha Chi Rho defeated Phi Mu Delta by the same score and Sigma Alpha Epsilon edged Phi Kappa Sigma on corner kicks after the regulation game ended 1-1.

Bill Berkowitz matched Hinojosa's feat with a marker at the beginning of the contest and one midway in the second half in Phi Epsilon Pi's victory over Alpha Sigma Phi.

In the tightest contest of the evening, Bill Robertson booted a long shot into the net in the opening moments of the second half to give SAE a 1-1 tie with Phi Kappa Sigma and the eventual victory. Bob Beattie had given the losers the lead with a goal in the final 30 seconds of the first half.
