

Netters Win Third Against Orange, 7-2

By JIM WELSH

Penn State's tennis team kept its hopes for a .500 season alive Saturday by trouncing Syracuse, 7-2, on the Jordan Courts.

The Lion netters, now 3-6 on the year, need victories in their remaining matches against West Virginia, Army and Cornell to finish with an even slate.

The Lions dropped only one matches in both the singles and doubles competition en route to their triumph.

Jim Baker, John Blanck, and Whit Gray had little trouble in downing their Orange opponents.

Baker, playing number one, whipped stocky Syracuse sophomore Ross Kaplan, 6-2, 6-3.

The Lion junior made excellent use of his crowd-pleasing power game in overwhelming his opponent.

State Captain Blanck kept his seasonal mark above .500 by defeating Syracuse Captain Jack Treier, 6-0, 6-2. Blanck now has a 5-4 record.

Gray, who owns the best personal mark on the squad (5-3-1), also won in two sets, beating another Syracuse sophomore, Bruce Gordon, 7-5, 6-2.

Don Benner and Don McCartney took 3 sets to defeat their opponents and complete State's scoring in the singles competition.

Benner played erratic tennis in the first two sets, winning the first, 6-1, and dropping the second, 6-0. But he settled down to take the decisive third set, 6-2.

The victory gave the improving Lion netter his first victory against four losses.

McCartney found himself in a real battle after grabbing the first set, 6-0, from Jeff Leedy.

McCartney lost the second set to the cagy Leedy and was forced to a peak effort to win the match in the third set, 7-5.

Vance Rea was the only Lion singles victim. He dropped a 9-7, 6-1 decision to Bob Raphaelson to lower his record to 2-7.

The Lion netters travel to Morgantown, W.Va., today for a match with the Mountaineers.

Lion Golfers Finish Ninth In Easterns

Coach Joe Boyle attributed bad putting to Penn State's ninth place finish in the eastern golf tournament Saturday at New Haven, Conn.

"Bad putting hurt us a lot," Boyle said. "The greens were very large and our boys couldn't get used to them with only one day of practice."

"It rained during Friday's practice round and the greens were slow, but Saturday they were just the opposite and we were all over the place," Boyle said.

Lion Captain John Morton paced the linksmen to an 826 total with a 161 for 36 holes.

This was far off Princeton's winning score of 769. Harvard finished second, 8 strokes in back of the Tigers.

Navy, Syracuse, Yale, Penn, Army, and Dartmouth trailed in that order.

Morton three-putted four of the last five greens as it was getting dark Saturday to miss qualifying for the individual championship matches Sunday and yesterday.

Tom Balling with a 164 followed Morton in the team scoring. Bob Rutherford (166), Rich Gilson (167) and Bob Swahn (168) rounded out the Lion scorers.

The Lion linksmen have three matches this week before they hang up their clubs for the season. They face Bucknell at home tomorrow, Lehigh away Friday, and Cornell at home Saturday.

DuMars Will Forego Litman's Cage Offer

By SANDY PADWE

Mark DuMars, the little court magician who fooled Penn State foes for three years, pulled another surprise yesterday when he decided to pass up pro basketball for a business career.

DuMars, the second highest scorer in Penn State basketball history, was drafted by the Pittsburgh Rens of the new American Basketball League.

"I'd like to play ball but I want to be realistic about the future," DuMars said as he discussed his surprising decision.

The Sharon, Pa., star said he wrote a letter to Lenny Litman, the Ren's president, informing him that he will take a job with a Pittsburgh accounting firm.

The Rens will hold a tryout camp at Waynesburg College for ten days beginning June 12, but DuMars said he will forego the session.

"I might reconsider if they could make it worth my while," DuMars said, "but I have a much better opportunity with the accounting people."

Earlier this month, Litman sent DuMars a letter telling him that he could make a minimum of $2,400 and a maximum of $6,000.

"I told Litman that after careful consideration it would be to my financial advantage to go right into accounting," DuMars said.

During his Penn State career, the 5-10 DuMars scored 1139 points and received honorable mention All-American honors.

SET SHOTS—Lion coach John Egli feels DuMars has the ability to make it in pro ball . . . In fact he wrote a letter to Warrior Owner Eddie Gottlieb last week recommending DuMars . . . The Warriors have lost some key personnel with Paul Arizin retiring and Andy Johnson going to Chicago in the draft . . . Those losses might force Gottlieb to move Tom Gola to a permanent forward position, leaving a gaping hole at guard . . . "I really think they could use a playmaker like Mark," Egli said.
