

Responsive Audience Hears Claude Frank

By DOTI DRASHER

A near capacity audience in Schwab last night heard Claude Frank, internationally known pianist, play classical compositions by Schuman, Mozart, Beethoven, Debussy, and Liszt.

After the concert Frank commented on the audience as giving "extraordinary attention and a fine response."

He said that "sometimes the audience will give its attention and not respond or not give its attention but respond very well." But "your audience gave both good attention and a noisy response," he said.

Frank said he has toured the United States during the past year giving many concerts at universities and plans now to go to Vermont to perform and teach chamber music at the Serkin Marlboro Festival there.

His first public performance was at the age of 11 in his home town of Nuremberg, Germany but it was "just one piece" in the concert, he said. His first major concert was given at the age of 12.

After a recent performance of Frank's a New York Times Reviewer, John Briggs, commented that "his fine musicality is always uppermost. His playing evoked the spirit of the music with rare charm and spontaneity."

Frank has been closely associated with Serkin's Marlboro Festival and school since 1953 and was one of the last pupils of Artur Schnabel. In concerts throughout Europe and North America Frank has appeared with orchestras and chamber ensembles.

Frank was born in Germany but has made his home in the United States since 1941.

'Doll' Review--

Gerald Richards who portrays Barney Ibbot, a casanova who is past his prime and afraid to admit it, is a convincing actor on the stage who could stand some "homework" learning his lines. Mark Rhudy, as Roo Webber, Barney's best pal and occasional father image, maintains full control of his part until the last act where, through no great fault of his own, he becomes involved in the undisciplined emotional antics of his fellow actors.

WHAT WONDERFUL THINGS ARE WITHIN HIS REACH!

Ever see a child's face when he reaches a light switch for the first time?

He makes the lights go on, go off, with the flick of a questing finger. What an adventure—what an accomplishment—what power!

He doesn't realize it fully, but that light switch is symbolic of much of his future. In his lifetime, electricity is likely to operate electric helpers we can't even imagine now—just as today's electric living is beyond the dreams of just a generation ago.

And the wonder of it is that while the price of almost everything else has gone up, the average price per kilowatt-hour of electricity has come down. In fact, electric service is about the biggest value in your budget.
