

Stormer Standout For Lions Despite Disappointing Season

By CRAIG YERKES

In soccer, as in most team sports, the men who score usually end up in the limelight. The men who get little recognition are linemen in football, playmakers in basketball, glove-men in baseball, and halfbacks and fullbacks in soccer.

Jay Stormer is a halfback, but even in this capacity his play stands out above the scorers and the showboats.

The junior booter from Philadelphia was one of a few bright spots in an otherwise dismal 1960 soccer season.

As a sophomore last year Stormer didn't waste any time establishing himself as one of the top defensive players on the Lion squad.

Against Bucknell in the opener he took the ball at midfield, dribbled through half of the Bison team and set up a teammate for an easy 10-yard goal.

In last season's first victory Stormer was all over the field. His numerous interceptions of stray Syracuse passes sparked State to a 3-0 decision. The midfield defenses were so superb that day that Syracuse managed only five shots at the Lion nets.

When State upset previously undefeated Navy 1-0, again it was Stormer who provided the spark. The sophomore hustler came up from his left halfback spot to set up Howie Farrar for the game's only goal.

Coach Ken Hosterman attributes Stormer's success to hustle and an ability to sense where the ball should be played. "I'd call him a hustler," the Lion mentor said. "He's our 'Johnnie on the Spot' and has learned through many years of soccer experience to position himself to play the ball the quickest way possible."

Hosterman said that Stormer keeps himself in good physical condition and consequently has good durability in games.

Lion captain John Miller describes Stormer as serious, rough to get by, and calls him one of State's hardest competitors.

Stormer started playing soccer at age seven, playing in his first organized game as a member of fifth grade team.

In his senior year at Girard School in Philadelphia his team swept 13 straight games, beating such teams as Penn's JVs, Navy's Plebes and Swarthmore College.

Six members of that outstanding team were named to all-star teams, and at least seven are playing college soccer. One of these is Stormer's teammate, Tom Flanagan, sophomore center forward.

Cleveland Bonus Rookie

CLEVELAND (AP) — Southpaw Sam McDowell, 19, the Cleveland Indians' $70,000-bonus rookie has two broken ribs and won't pitch again this season, Dr. Don Kelley, club physician, said.

McDowell slipped on a loose piece of turf on the mound last Friday night and fell, damaging the muscle and ribs on his right side.

Basilio Pays Visit To State College

If anyone in the HUB Wednesday thought they saw a familiar face passing by, it was Basilio. Basilio is a native of Conondagua New York, a battle-scarred face passing by, they did.

The easily recognizable features were those of ex-welterweight champ Carmen Basilio.

Basilio was making a tour of the area as a public relations man for The Genessee Brewery and Gillette.

While on campus Carmen bought tickets for the Syracuse game. "I don't want to miss that leg in January."

Basilio has retired after two unsuccessful attempts at Gene Fullmer's middleweight crown. Basilio defeated Kid Gavilan for the welterweight title in 1955. He has no future boxing plans. "I'm through with boxing for good," he commented. Carmen will take over a teaching job in the Physical Education department of Lemoyne College in January.

Nittany Lions Picked To Scrap Navy, 19-13

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

"Have cleats—Will travel." That's the theme of the college football schedule this weekend when the emphasis is on inter-sectional games.

Trips or trip-ups—are these necessary?

Penn State 19, Navy 13: The Penn Staters could be the best in the East; Navy not the same without Bellino.

Army 22, Richmond 14: Dick Eckert and Al Rushatz send the Cadets off to a winning start.

Wisconsin 23, Utah 7: The Badgers are sophomore-loaded but they have speed and drive.

Missouri 14, Washington State 8: Old Missou can't repeat last year's 10-1 record but should take this one.

Virginia 8, William and Mary 0: The week's upset special — The Cavaliers to end football's longest losing streak at 28.

Mississippi 18, Arkansas 10: Ole Miss has a second team which could win some major conferences.

Maryland 18, Southern Methodist 8: Watch a sophomore quarterback named Dick Shiner.

Rice 7, Louisiana State 0: The Owls play their football close to the vest.

UCLA 14, Air Force 0: The Airmen not so potent without Richie Mayo.

Syracuse 22, Oregon State 10: Ernie Davis and Dave Saratte give the West Coast a show.

The others:

East—Cincinnati 13, Boston College 7; Boston U. 21, Buffalo 0; VMI 13, Villanova 8.

Midwest—Iowa State 12, Oklahoma State, 8; Indiana 18, Kansas State 7; Nebraska 24, North Dakota 6; Tulsa 14, Memphis State 7.

South—Alabama 20, Georgia 8; Florida 13, Clemson 12; Miami 7, Kentucky 0; Duke 19, South Carolina 7; Mississippi State 13, Texas Tech 8; The Citadel 6, George Washington 0; Furman 17, Davidson 14; Vanderbilt 13, West Virginia 7.

Southwest—Baylor 14, Wake Forest 8; Houston 13, Texas A&M 0; West Texas 13, Brigham Young 0; Kansas 20, Texas Christian 14; North Texas 18, Hardin-Simmons 7.
