

Football, Tennis to Open New Intramural Season

The kickoff of a new season of intramural activities will begin Monday, Oct. 4 when touch football and tennis singles, the first of 17 activities, make their debut.

Intramural director Clarence "Dutch" Sykes announced yesterday that entries for both of these events must be submitted at the IM office no later than Friday.

Touch football play will last for six weeks with champions to be determined in both the fraternity and independent brackets.

Last year Delta Sigma Phi won the fraternity title and Westmoreland won the independent crown.

New rules have added to this year's game with the hopes that it will make contests more interesting.

Probably the biggest and most important new rule is that a team is no longer required to have five men on the line of scrimmage at the start of a play.

Other new rules are: an offensive team can now attempt to run kick-offs, punts and pass interceptions out of the end zone without being penalized two points for a safety; a legal touch must now be made above the knees and fumbles can be recovered by the defensive team.

Tennis singles also begins Oct. 4. Last year's fraternity champion, Whitfield Gary of Beta Theta Pi will be back to defend his title.

The intramural program will again run the complete year with 17 events scheduled. One significant change, however, is that boxing has been dropped from the program and paddleball added.

Boxing, a sport that has been highly popular on campus for the past 20 years, is being dropped this season because of lack of time, brought about by the new term plan.

Sykes said that boxing probably will be brought back next year.

A close look at statistics published by the IM office shows that overall last season, the total participation in all 17 activities amounted to 30,325.

The statistics also showed that touch football was second in popularity, exceeding only by bowling.

Delta Upsilon again will be out to retain its 1961 All-Year point award trophy. Last year, DU's three-year reign as football champs came to an end but their fraternity's overall balance in every sport was more than enough to win the title.

A new face, but not an unknown one, will make its appearance in the intramural office this season. The new assistant to Sykes will be a former Penn State graduate, Ben Amato. Amato, holds the intramural high jump record at 6'13 1/2". He coached at Westmont High School near Johnstown last year.

9-Game Streak Gave Cincinnati Visions of Flag

CINCINNATI (AP)—Where did the pennant-hungry Cincinnati Reds begin to knit together as a team? That nine-game winning streak in April was an indicator, says Manager Fred Hutchinson.

The run of victories came right after a streak of eight losses. It also followed a controversial trade with San Francisco that brought in much-needed second basemen Don Blasingame.

"I think that really helped us," said Hutch, "but of course you can't really put your finger on any one time, any one thing, any one game. There were numerous times when we bounded back."

Hutchinson said, however, that he thought the run of nine games gave the Reds the lift they needed at the time.

He said, "You take a team that's been in the second division for several years and it's natural for them to wonder what it would be like to be with a pennant contender."

"Well, after the nine-game streak which moved us near the top they felt they belonged up there."

3 Non-Pennsylvanians In State's Starting Lineup

Three non-Pennsylvanians will be in Penn State's opening-game starting lineup — most out-of-staters to open for the Lions in many years. Dave Robinson, Moorestown, N.J., will be at left end, Harrison Rosdahl, Ridgefield Park, N.J., will be at left end, Park, N.J., at right guard, and Dave Hayes, Bellmore, N.Y., at fullback. There are a total of 11 non-Pennsylvanians on the Nittany Lion squad.

Today is the last day to register for the drawing for a free Collegian subscription.

Three lucky freshmen will be awarded a three term subscription to the Daily Collegian, which will be mailed to the person of their choosing.
