

BEAVER STADIUM SEATING CHART: All freshmen and sophomores will sit in the horseshoe (north end) of Beaver Stadium at home football games. Seniors and grad students will occupy sections EF and EG from the 40 to the 25-yard lines in both decks of the east stands and juniors will sit in sections EH and EJ. The Blue Band will sit in the lower east stands between 10 and 20-yard line (crossed section on map) and the Block "S" Club flash-card section (dotted section) will be in the lower east stands from the 20 to 35-yard lines.

Officials Encourage Fans To Walk to Navy Game

All football fans who can possibly do so have been urged by University officials to walk to today's game between Penn State and Navy to avoid traffic congestion.

About 40,000 fans and 8,000 cars are expected at the game and a special traffic plan has been set up to handle the crowd.

By car, the main routes for local drivers are Park Avenue and University Road. Central campus roads will not be of any use since Curtin Road, the only artery to the stadium, will be open only for pedestrians.

Special traffic regulations, effective before and after the game, have been set up in the borough to speed traffic. South Pugh Street and East Foster Avenue will be one way in the direction of the stadium from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and in the reverse direction after the game until traffic becomes normal. Park Avenue will be one-way east from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and one-way west after the game until traffic is again normal.

Traffic from west of Atherton Street and north of Westerly Parkway, including all of the College Heights section, will approach the stadium from Park Avenue. Traffic from all other sections of the community will use University Drive.

Park Avenue will have two lanes going east before the game and west after the game.

The borough will install temporary "no Parking" signs on sections of Beaver, College and Foster Avenues, and on High, Holmes and South Pugh Streets effective from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

'Howdy Night' Set

The annual Agriculture Student Council "Howdy Night" for freshmen in agriculture will be held at 6:30 Monday night in Hort Woods, Eric Holm, co-chairman of the event said yesterday.

The party is held every year to acquaint freshmen with the faculty and upperclassmen of the agriculture college, Holm said. Free food, drink, and music are featured this year at the party, he said.
