

Class Talent Highlights Dink Debut

By WINNIE BOYLE

The class of '65 met and mingled last night at the annual Dink Debut held at the Skating Pavilion.

The frosh have now donned their dinks, hung their name cards, and begun to uphold the tradition of Penn State freshman classes.

A campus combo, the Ivy Rocks, provided the music for the blue-heads, who just may teach their upperclassmen a thing or two about twisting.

The dancing lasted from 8:30 until 10 with Paul Krow, junior in Business Administration, acting as senior emcee and keeping things moving.

The Class Night Talent Show began after a few words of welcome from Dennis Foianini, SGA president.

The talent included: vocalists Mayo Shuck, Pam Jackson and the Sisters Three (Susan Scheid, Louise Jenkins and Normandie Herritt).

Other groups included the Harvesters, Peter Kessler, Peter Miller and Lois Becker; Tom Irish and his group. (Dave Grumpet, Dave Humphreys, Joe McMahon and John Buck).

A monologue was done by Leslie Granat, and an interpretive dance was done by Kathy Jackson.

The program was rounded out with a Dedication to the Frosh done by seniors Sondra Schrenker and Mike Goff. All other performers were freshmen. Ken Harshberger emceed the talent show.

THE BLUE-HEADED CLASS of '65 showed last night that they may be confused about some things at Penn State but not about dancing. These two frosh (Bonnie Benka from Easton and Bob Hamilton from Rochester, N.Y.) are demonstrating their talent at the Dink Debut held last night in the skating rink.

Dance Will Welcome Navy

Midshipmen attending the Navy - Penn State football game today will be honored at a "Welcome Navy" at 8 tonight in the Hetzel Union ballroom.

Features of the evening will be music by The Ivy Rocks. Performers in last night's Freshman Class Night will also entertain. To date, approximately 600 midshipmen have accepted the invitation from the Men's Residence Council, sponsors of the affair, to attend the dance, Bruce de Wolfson, president of the council, said last night. "No special social functions were planned for the Middies, so we decided to sponsor one," de Wolfson said. "We hope all the students will provide them with a good welcome." The Men's Residence Council is a group formed from representatives of the men's residence halls on campus. The dance is open to all students, midshipmen and their guests. Coats and ties will be required for the men and appropriate attire for the women. No admission will be charged.

UBA to Buy and Sell Used Books This Week

The ground floor of the Hetzel Union building has its own version of the depression bread lines; however what students find at the end of the lines isn't food for the stomach but food for thought—books.

The Used Book Agency, as it has done every year for the past several years, is making it possible for students to buy and sell their used textbooks.

This year the UBA has expanded its facilities to include all of the game room as well as the card room.

In addition to the familiar tables in the card room, where books are purchased, shelves have been added along the walls to make more space available.

Mel Schulman, UBA chairman, estimated that the UBA will handle over 20,000 books by Sept. 30, when the selling ends.

The UBA will be accepting books until Tuesday, Sept. 26th, and will refund money for incorrect purchases on Sept. 29th and 30th.

Books which are not sold will be returned to students during the week of Oct. 9th to 14th.

SGA Housing List

Those wishing to list rooms or apartments for rent with the non-discriminatory SGA Housing Committee may call the SGA office between 7 and 9 p.m. any week day night.

Those wishing to rent through the committee may do so at the same time.

CASH
For YOUR BOOKS

TODAY IS THE LAST DAY

to receive

Highest Prices Paid
for Current Editions
now being used on Campus.

KEELER'S THE UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE

206 E. College Ave.

AD 7-2112

Opposite E. Campus Gate

Attention Freshmen!

PENN STATE'S 54 FRATERNITIES INVITE

YOU TO VISIT THEM

SUNDAY AFTERNOON
SEPTEMBER 24
2-5 P.M.