

Members Installed At AWS Workshop

Newly elected members of the Association of Women Students community councils were installed at the AWS workshops held Saturday in Simmons.

Skeleton plans for the Inter-Collegiate Association of Women Students convention to be held at the University in the spring were also formulated at the workshops.

Patricia Dyer, AWS Judicial chairman, installed the new council members immediately following the AWS luncheon. Later that afternoon, the councils met to organize for the coming year.

An all-day meeting was held for the steering committee for the convention. Ruth Rilling, AWS president, said. Students from schools in 15 different states will meet at the University for the semi-annual Region 4 convention.

The steering committee is composed of Dorothy J. Lipp, IAWS regional advisor and Dean of Women; Barbara Mann, IAWS region 4 co-ordinator; Susan Waite, regional vice-president; Catherine Hersey, convention chairman, and Miss Rilling.

"This is a particularly significant year for the regional convention because it is Region 4's turn to elect the national president of IAWS," Dean Lipp said.

Rev. Barrett Rudd, assistant director of the University Christian Association, spoke at the workshop. Speaking on "The Art of Leadership," Rudd told the new council members that leaders are made not born.

After the speech, the assembly broke up into five groups and discussed the qualities and responsibilities of a good leader.

The councils then met and discussed topics including the general purpose of community councils, the relationship of the councils to the other branches of AWS government and the responsibility of the councils to each woman student.

Does Your Memory Fail You?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training methods in a new book, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply send your request to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Dept. 3757, Chicago 14, Ill. A postcard will do.
