

Soccermen's Critics Mum In 2nd Half

By CRAIG YERKES

The final score in the Penn State booters' 4-1 loss to powerful West Chester last Saturday tells only half the story of the game.

In the first half State managed only two shots at the West Chester goal, while the Rams were pounding 22 at the State nets. And the 3-0 lead the Rams held at halftime didn't begin to indicate how one-sided the contest really was.

The second half, however, was an entirely different story. A fired-up State team came out for the second half and proceeded to push last year's third ranked NCAA team all over the field.

The Lions scored only once, but had some near misses and outshot the Rams 14-4 to dominate the action.

"We found ourselves in that second half," State coach Ken Hosterman said yesterday as he watched his booters prepare for Saturday's game against Colgate.

"We used eight untried men against one of the nation's toughest teams, and they were virtually lost in the first half," the veteran coach said. "Our lettermen were no more sure of themselves than the others, and as a result we floundered around in a daze.

"The crowd deserved a lot of credit for sticking around after that poor exhibition in the first half," Hosterman added. "We gave the fans nothing worthy of support, but still I was angered by some of the gripes I heard behind our bench.

"The gripes were legitimate, but what really bothered me was the fact that I knew we had a much better team than we were showing."

Hosterman gave the Lions a solid balling out in the center of the field at halftime. "I rarely do this," he said. "but I figured it was needed at the time. I just told them to stop making West Chester look good and start making us look good."

That's exactly what the Lions did. They outthrustled the surprised Rams, outshot them, and even outtalked them.

In fact, it was a very quiet West Chester eleven that left the field when the game ended, very quiet and very glad that State had waited for the second half to discover that it could play soccer.

SOCCER SHOTS

State's 1961 opponents compiled a composite record of 63 wins, 15 losses, and 2 ties, for a .805 percentage. Few teams can boast of competition like that . . . Temple and Navy, two future opponents, both opened their season with 6-0 victories, over Bucknell and Haverford respectively . . . State came out of Saturday's battle with no major injuries . . .

Promotion Staff Meeting Tonight 6:30 At Collegian Office

ATTENDANCE COMPULSORY

State Over Army, 21-14

Oklahoma, W. Va. Picked As Saturday's Giant Killers

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This might well be labeled "snap back week" in college football. Teams which have been taking it on the chin are ready to settle old scores.

Last week we hit 40 of 51, including the L.S.U. and Princeton upsets, for a .784 average. Now for another fling:

Penn State 21 Army 14: The Cadets' thin grey line was left in tatters by Michigan.

Michigan 24 Michigan State 14: Both teams loaded with heft and power but revenge beats hard in the Wolverine breast.

Oklahoma 19 Texas 14: Coach Bud Wilkinson rouses the Sooners for one big effort to atone for past indignities.

West Virginia 13 Pittsburgh 7: The underdog Mountaineers outdo themselves on their trip to Pittsburgh.

Notre Dame 22 Southern California 20: The Irish settle another old score unless the Trojans still have the momentum of the Iowa game.

Georgia Tech 19 Duke 14: The Engineers still smart under last year's 6-0 setback.

Washington 17 California 14: The Golden Bears improving rapidly, but they're no match yet for the Huskies.

Baylor 20 Arkansas 17: The Bears' versatile, swift-hitting backfield given an edge in this probable title-decider.

Alabama 20 North Carolina State 6: The Crimson tide is Dixie's pride.

UCLA 25 Vanderbilt 7: The South may rise again, but not here.

The others:

FRIDAY

Miami Fla. 14 Colorado 7.

SATURDAY

Navy 28 Cornell 8; Iowa 33 Indiana 6; Ohio State 25 Illinois 7; Northwestern 10 Minnesota 0; Air Force 17 Cincinnati 6; Syracuse 19 Nebraska 14; Missouri 24 Oklahoma State 7; Purdue 33 Miami (Ohio) 10; Mississippi 38 Houston 7; Clemson 19 Wake Forest 6; Maryland 20 North Carolina 14; LSU 13 South Carolina 7; TCU 28 Texas Tech 6; Stanford 19 San Jose State 13.

Get His at Hur's

Cozy for Cold Football Weather Ahead.

CHIPPEWA STADIUM BLANKETS

QUALITY JACKETS

These large 100% wool blankets are just what you need to snuggle up in at the game. Easy to carry in leatherette case which has built-in foam pad for use as soft seat, these blankets are available in red scotch plaid and blue plaid. $12.98.

You'll enjoy the game more when you're comfortably fitted in a waist or finger length jacket from HUR'S. Available in corduroy with blanket linings, poplin with orlon linings, and wool melton with quilt linings, these smartly tailored jackets come in a variety of colors. Some with knit collars and cuffs. $9.95 up.

Hur's Mens Shop

114 E. College Ave. AD 7-4715

HAY RIDE

FRIDAY, OCT. 13 at 8:00

CAMPFIRE, REFRESHMENTS FUN!!

Meet at Chapel 7:00 for Transportation Reservations at 207 Chapel or Call UN 5-4281

FREE FOR NEWMAN CLUBMEMBERS 50c for Guests

Sponsored by NEWMAN CLUB

AP Names Scheffing AL Manager-of-Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Scheffing, who led the Detroit Tigers to a surprising second-place finish in his first season in the American League, was named the circuit's Manager-of-the-Year for 1961 yesterday in the annual Associated Press poll.

Scheffing received 105 votes in the balloting by 174 members of the Baseball Writer's Association of America.

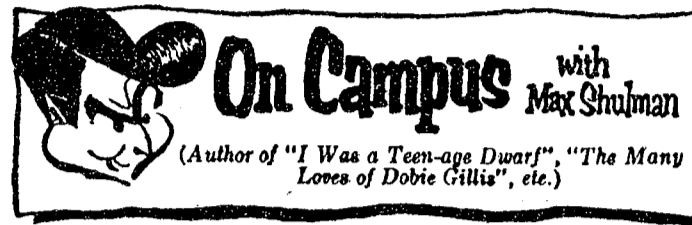

Sylvester Bozinski, coach of the 1961 PIAA Class A champion Nanticoke basketball team, is a Penn State graduate and a former Nittany Lion cager.

Orange Blanked '44-'47

Today's Penn State football followers will be surprised to learn that in the years 1944-47, the Lions defeated Syracuse four straight times without allowing the Orange a single point. The scores were 41-0, 26-0, 9-0, and 40-0.

BEAT ARMY

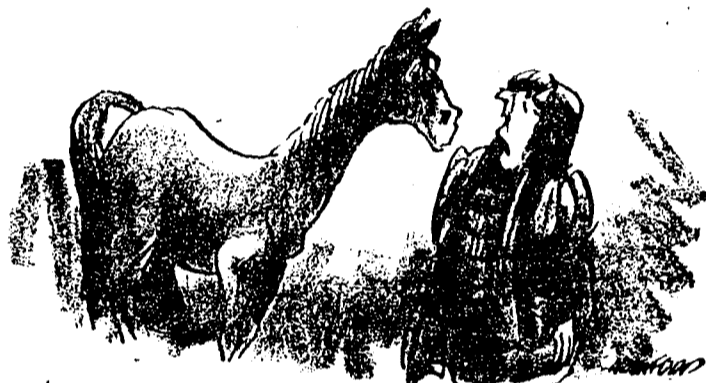

SAVE UP TO 50% DANCE PROGRAMS
Personalized matches, napkins
Commercial Printing
352 E. College Ave. AD 8-6794

SAIL ON, SAIL ON!

I suppose October 12 is just another day to you. You get up in the ordinary way and do all the ordinary things you ordinarily do. You have your breakfast, you walk your ocelot, you go to classes, you write home for money, you burn the dean in effigy, you watch Howdy-Doody, and you go to bed. And do you give one little thought to the fact that October 12 is Columbus Day? No, you do not.

Nobody thinks about Columbus these days. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment and retell his ever-glorious, endlessly stirring saga.

Columbus never wanted to clap eyes on a horse again.

Christopher Columbus was born in Genoa on August 25, 1451. His father, Ralph T. Columbus, was in the three-minute auto wash game. His mother, Eleanor (Swiftly) Columbus, was a sprinter. Christopher was an only child, except for his four brothers and eight sisters. With his father busy all day at the auto wash and his mother constantly away at track meets, young Columbus was left pretty much to his own devices. However, the lad did not sulk or brood. He was an avid reader and spent all his waking hours immersed in a book. Unfortunately, there was only one book in Genoa at the time—Care of the Horse by Aristotle—and after several years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus grew restless. So when rumor reached him that there was another book in Barcelona, off he ran as fast as his fat little legs would carry him.

The rumor, alas, proved false. The only book in Barcelona was Cuidar un Caballo by Aristotle, which proved to be nothing more than a Spanish translation of Care of the Horse.

Bitterly disappointed, Columbus began to dream of going to India where, according to legend, there were thousands of books. But the only way to go to India was on horseback, and after so many years of reading Care of the Horse, Columbus never wanted to clap eyes on a horse again. Then a new thought struck him: perhaps it was possible to get to India by sea!

Fired with his revolutionary new idea, Columbus raced to the court of Ferdinand and Isabella on his little fat legs (Columbus, though six feet tall, was plagued with little fat legs all his life) and pleaded his case with such fervor that the rulers were persuaded.

On October 12, 1492, Columbus set foot on the New World. The following year he returned to Spain with a cargo of wonders never before seen in Europe—spices and metals and plants and flowers and—most wondrous of all—tobacco! Oh, what a sensation tobacco caused in Europe! The filter had long since been invented (by Aristotle, curiously enough) but nobody knew what to do with it. Now Columbus, the Great Discoverer, made still another great discovery: he took a filter, put tobacco in front of it, and invented the world's first filter cigarette!

Through the centuries filters have been steadily improved and so has tobacco, until today we have achieved the ultimate in the filter cigarette—Marlboro, of course! Oh, what a piece of work is Marlboro! Great tobacco, great filter, great smoke! And so, good friends, when next you enjoy a fine Marlboro Cigarette, give a thought to the plucky Genoese, Christopher Columbus, whose vision and perseverance made the whole lovely thing possible.

© 1961 Max Shulman

And thank Columbus too for the king-size Philip Morris Commander. If unfiltered cigarettes are your choice, you'll find Commander the choice of the unfiltered. Welcome aboard.